Zalhem: Greetings to thee, my beloved, I am Zalhem.

I come among you again to speak to you of the importance of developing the Christ Light around you. As you become more and more surrounded by the crisis period in which you find yourself, you are going to find more and more need of this protection. And this, my beloved brethren, can be your greatest protection.

As you develop this light around you, you will find that you will become peaceful. You will find peace of mind and you will be able to maintain it in the midst of turmoil. This is not something that you can just create on a moment's notice, it is something that you must build. You must build this light around you and you do this by your everyday living. By developing love for your fellow man and your Creator, by serving your fellow man, by living the life of love and of service, by eliminating all hate and fear from your consciousness.

Fear is your greatest enemy. Fear and love cannot live side by side. One must and will destroy the other and which way the pendulum swings will depend upon you, on which element you allow to become the predominant factor in your life. The two cannot coexist. But love, if allowed to grow in your consciousness, if you cultivate it and let it become a prominent factor in your life, will overcome all things.

The forces of darkness are putting forth great efforts to instill fear in the hearts of men. Likewise the forces of Light are attempting to instill love in the hearts of men. So, as you allow this Christ Light, this love to develop and grow in your life, you are building this Light about you and the circle becomes ever more dense as you grow in the Christ love, making it more and more difficult for the forces of darkness to penetrate, to get through to you. And as this becomes a strong force around you, you shall walk through the valley and shadow of death but you shall fear no evil, for you will know that He is with you, that He is comforting you.

So I say to you, my friends, cast all fear from your hearts, all anger and resentment for they are only another form of fear. Fear is manifested in hate and anger and none of these things must be a part of your consciousness if you are to walk in His Light and His protection.

"Love ye one another" was not spoken lightly by your beloved Master. These words have much deeper meaning than Earth people have been able to grasp. It is the key to the Kingdom. Ponder these things well in your hearts, my beloved brethren, and act upon them.

May the peace, the love and the understanding of all the Great Masters and of the Great Spirit of Creation, that Great White Spirit, be invoked upon each of you here this night. And may you develop a love and an understanding that will build about each of you a wall of Light that will carry you ever onward and upward to his Kingdom and may you dwell therein in peace.

Go in peace, Peace. ☸
