Teacher: Greetings to you my friends, I come with your permission for a few moments tonight. The great mass of people upon this planet, who call themselves Christians, are about to indulge in a great celebration and according to my understanding the theme of this celebration is Peace upon Earth, goodwill toward mankind. Is this not so, my friends? A great deal will be said in regard to this in the next few days of your time, but I wonder just how much real thought and consideration will be given to this? As we view from our vantage point, it seems to us that the theme has been almost completely lost in the fanfare that takes place.

Down through the generations that have passed since the birth of your Master, the story has been told, year after year. The story as told, is only partly accurate, due to errors in your religious recordings, but his is not of too great an importance. Your people have accepted the story as told with very little effort having been put forth, even by your scientific men, to explain many of the happenings in a scientific way. Yet, if your scientists were to see a star floating in the sky, as is told in your story, your scientists of today would not accept this without scientific explanation. But in order to understand this they would have to become more spiritual, and as they become more spiritual, they will accept and understand many of the things that are spoken of in your religious recordings.

But to return to the point of our discussions, Man of Earth is gradually realizing the importance of Peace, partially through the fear that he feels for the future, and partially because he is becoming, shall we say, filled with fear because of what he sees taking place, that he knows does not go with a Brotherhood of Man. But, in order to bring Peace on Earth, he is beginning to realize the change must begin with himself, he alone can bring this change about. It will not be done until man realizes within himself that he must do it.

So, as we approach the season of festivity, let each of us make a great effort to establish within ourselves, within our own being, a consciousness of Peace, love and of understanding. And in so doing, each of us will be doing our part in establishing a true oneness, a true brotherhood, that will bring about upon planet

Earth an era of love, Peace and understanding among all mankind.

It has been my pleasure to speak with you. This is the first opportunity that I have had to speak through this instrument. It has been my pleasure.

I extend to you my Peace and my blessings.

So be it. ✨
