

Caveat: These communications are informative teaching instructions for those who seek to increase their understanding of themselves and the magnitude of the future lying before us all. These lectures are not of a religious nature but rather deal with the science of human potential and evolution. This document is a direct transcription from the original recording. Although it has been checked for obvious errors, it has not been finally edited.

Mong Ling: Greetings to you, my friends. I am not going to tell you just yet who I am.

It has been quite some time since I have spoken to you, perhaps two or three years past. At that time I told you that I would soon be coming to your planet. Well, I have arrived. In fact I have been here for some eighteen months. I will not tell you how I got here or my exact location but I will say that I am in your nation.

I have come, as have many others, and more are still coming in an attempt to help Earth people avoid some of the events which they are bringing upon themselves. We are attempting to do this in many ways. We are attempting, for one thing, to raise the consciousness of the people, to make them more aware of what is happening and how they can oppose some of the things that they are being led into.

These are not easy tasks. We cannot solve these problems for your people, we can only attempt to bring them into the realization that they themselves can solve these problems. Only through their own awakening, their coming into the realization that they have the power to avoid certain situations. The power does lie within the people, if the people will use that power, if they will become the masters of their destiny rather than allow themselves to be led as sheep.

Many methods are being used to attempt to bring about these realizations. All people cannot be reached upon the same level, therefore we must work from many levels. For instance, we cannot speak to the masses in the same terms that we could speak to you here, for you have some realization of what you are and who you are. You have the knowledge of being a divine being. You are aware of your divinity, at least to a certain degree, and you are aware at least to a certain degree, of what man really consists of.

You know that man consists of the objective and the subjective mind, or perhaps you might use the terminology of the higher and the lower self. There are many terminologies used for these parts of man yet they all mean the same. But we cannot talk in these terms to the masses. We must use other terminologies that will fit their understanding.

But man, by and large, must learn if he is to avoid these things. He must turn away from the sensuous things. His pursuit must be a spiritual one, one that will be acceptable to all mankind. He must think in different terms that he is accustomed to using. He must think in terms of what is good for all and not what is good for me or my tribe. Things must be viewed from all angles. Man must realize that he cannot force his way of life or his philosophy or whatever it might be on others, and this must include nations as well.

Much of the turmoil that has taken place upon planet Earth has been brought about by one group of people trying to carry their way of life to another group of people who do not want their way of life. No man has the right to inflict his desires upon another. Each must have the opportunity to choose as he would, for only in making his own choices will he grow in truth and in understanding.

These are the things that we are trying to bring to the surface in your people, and all of you who are searching in the deeper truths, can also do your part in raising their consciousness. You can do this by alerting people to the fact that they do not have to fight wars, that they can oppose wars. They can avoid them if enough people refuse to participate.

As you move along in your search for truth you will learn more and more of yourself and this is one of your greatest obligations: to come into a self-realization. For the greater the understanding you have of yourself, the closer you come to the realization of your true divinity, the more service you can give to mankind. One cannot give more than one has, nor is one required to give more than he has. One is only required to use what he has to the very best of his ability, to grow as rapidly as possible for the greater your mind becomes, the greater service you will be able to give.

So become master of yourself, become master of that lower self. Make sure that it knows that you are the master. Command this part of you as though you were the captain commanding his crew. You will find it will respond but you must be firm. Too long has man been ruled by his animal nature. Now it is time that he becomes the ruler of this nature and his aonement will then be quite complete.

Now I think I have taken enough of your time.

Questioner: We want to thank you for all of the enlightenment and information that you have given us in the past, when you were a guest upon the Otavana. And we are glad that you have contacted us again, now that you are on our planet, in the physical. We thank you and we look forward to your next visit with us, with joy.

Mong Ling: If I have been of any service or help to you, I am pleased. I can only share my understanding and this that I share is only my understanding. I make no claims to having the answers to everything, to knowing all truth, for I have learned long ago that the spiral of knowledge is a never-ending one. Tomorrow may bring a new horizon to anyone. So let us never develop spiritual vanity and perhaps that will be one of the most difficult things that we will have to overcome. We can speak of this at another time as it is a subject in itself.

Bless you, my friends, bless you. May the peace of all the Great Ones go with you all the way. I leave you in peace and understanding. Walk in peace. ☸
