Teacher: Peace be with thee, my friends.

It is my privilege to come among you tonight and to have the opportunity to speak with you for a short period. Never has your civilization stood at such a point of crisis as today it does stand. Never has your civilization received more help, more guidance, more concern from those from outside your planet. In every crisis of your civilization, beings of great light have manifested among your people and pointed the way and many times Earth people have listened and heeded this help. During the period of the forming of your great nation, such a being appeared among its leaders, and each time these leaders became dead locked in their attempt to reach an understanding, the way was pointed by the being, and so was your great Constitution written and signed. But the meaning of these words have been lost. Again, a few years past, another being of light appeared in a meeting of your great world leaders in your United Nations and again attempted to point the way, but this time very little heed was given to his words. Again, a short time ago, this also occurred in your United Nations, and again his words went unheeded.

As you were told, or some of you were told a short time back, an attempt again was made to bring a realization to your leaders, or to some of your leaders, of the results of nuclear warfare upon your planet. This was brought to certain individuals in a vivid dream of the results of such actions. This has made an impression but so great is the pressure upon these individuals from the great powers that lie behind them, that even for them it is difficult to attempt to convince these powers.

It is difficult to understand how people could follow a path that would have the slightest possibility of leading to these results, when other paths are so much more obvious. It is hard to realize how man can become lost so deeply in his desires and search for power, yet these things exist and are prevalent among your peoples. We sincerely hope that the realization shall dawn in the hearts of these people in time to avoid such occurrence. We are doing all in our power that can be done without violating universal law and shall continue to do so.

But the great need lies among Earth people themselves. The real answer to these problems, my beloved friends, is up to Earth people. Earth man himself has the real solution in the palm of his own hand and what he does with this will determine the result. We can only help to lighten your burden.

The wise man prepares for the obvious. We hope that Earth man shall show wisdom. The transition depends upon you of Earth. We can only aid to the degree that Earth man is willing to allow us to help. It is his choice, not ours. We hope he shall choose wisely, for great help awaits when he is ready to receive it. We know that many of you stand ready to receive this help, but this is only a small minority. But to that minority I say you shall receive, you shall receive according to your willingness to receive and to your willingness to cooperate.

Earth man, in the times that are approaching, shall face situations beyond his capabilities to cope with. But to those who are willing to receive help, they shall receive it. For many stand ready to extend this hand of help, of friendship, of love. So, beloved friends, when this hand is extended to you, grasp it, grasp it in love, in gratitude and in reverence, and know that this help is coming to you, because you have earned it. Do not hesitate to accept. Let no fear nor doubt enter your mind, but accept it when it is presented.

Peace be with you, my friends, Peace, Peace. ☸
