Oxal: Greetings in the Light, my friends, I am Oxal. I have a feeling you are all eager to hear what is going to happen this year. Frankly we are not too fond of making predictions because predictions are made to be changed. It is very difficult to pin point accurate times and dates for events. There are too many variables, too many things that can change a situation. Earth people are not always easy to anticipate.

A year ago we had great hopes for your Middle East situation but at this time it looks very doubtful that there will be an agreement reached by these people or at least one that is of much value. Each one is looking for their own advantage. Each one would like to have a little better deal, as you would call it. So they continue to barter, to argue and to play one against another. Each has desires to gain more power and advantage over the other. Selfish interest makes agreements very difficult to accomplish. So we shall have to see what will develop, but we have our doubts at this time that anything of great value will come out of these negotiations.

Worldwide you are going to see much more violence, revolutions and rebellions will continue to thrive, and grow.

Worldwide your fault lines will be very active and increase in activity as time goes on. In the next three to four years you are going to see some very great activity take place in many of the fault lines. There will be more earthquakes occurring in populated areas where loss of lives will be greater. The San Andreas fault line will be active this year but its greater activity will come a little later, as it appears at this time. The tension is building more and more and this will be partially relieved through minor quakes but the tension is increasing quite rapidly and the greater activity will come when the tension has increased a great deal more.

Economically the world situation will continue to worsen. Inflation will continue in all the countries and in your country although great efforts will be made to slow this inflation, it shall continue. It will be slowed somewhat for a short time but then will surge ahead again and then will weaken your dollar more and more. Your dollar shall continue to shrink in the foreign markets which of course is going to continually increase your cost of imported goods and will make it more and more difficult for you to export and to bring about any kind of a balance of trades. Those who are in power are well aware of the fact that a complete collapse of the world economy is bound to come. To them it is only a matter of how long they can retard this action by using temporary methods. I know that this is not cheerful news but as Earth people would say, "You asked for it!"

I will not dwell upon these things for I think greater things portend. These times will come and they will pass and planet Earth will be all the better for it, for it will be cleansed. It will go through a great healing process and it will shake from itself those parasites so they can no longer sap her life energies. She again will come into her own with a population that will love her and respect her and will give to her that which she deserves. She in turn will give back to them beauty, life sustaining substance and energy, and the balance will be there between Mother Earth and mankind. She does not like being cruel to mankind and she is not being cruel to mankind, she is only doing that which she must do to save herself from mankind and to again be able to give forth the service that she was intended to give.

Oh, that Earth Man could come into the realization of the importance of cooperation, of harmony with all things, whether it be this planet, animal kingdom, the insect kingdom or whatever it might be. When harmony exists between any two kingdoms or whatever it might be, there are no problems; one works for the other.

The elementals were created to serve mankind in harmony but they cannot serve if they don't receive the cooperation and harmony of mankind. So you see, these are things that must be learned in the times ahead.

Man must learn his kinship to all things; all is one. There is that fine etheric thread that connects and joins all things and when that thread is broken there occurs inharmony. The harpsichord is not in tune when one string is broken and Creation is not in tune when one cord is broken.

Think upon these things, O People of Earth, think well upon them. May you come to the realization of how important harmony is to your well being; harmony in groups, harmony in cities, harmony in nations, harmony between nations. If this were to occur, would you not have a different world?

I leave you my friends, with these things to think upon and I leave you by extending to you the Love, the Light and the Understanding of my people.

I am Oxal.

Yaum: Good evening to you my friends. Since we did not have an opportunity to extend our greetings to you at this time of your year. I wish to at this time, extend to all of you, from all of us, a most sincere greeting of love, joy and peace at this season of your year. As Oxal has mentioned about harmony, we wish to extend to you our gratitude for the harmony you have had with us and may you find great harmony developing in your life as you start the new year.

(Thanks and gratitude are extended from the group to Yaum.)

Yaum: Since this is the time of year that you celebrate the Great Master. I would hope that all of you would remember the background symbology of his birth and ponder it well. We see very little of this being done by the general public, those who call themselves Christians.

They should reflect upon the meaning of the Christ Child being born and the symbology of this, which is the Christ Child's love being born in your heart. Christ is Love and when this true love is born in your heart then you begin to really live. This love has to be born in your heart. It has to be nourished and tended as a child does and brought to maturity so you truly understand the meaning of love.

There are not many people upon planet Earth who really know the true meaning of love. Love is too often thought of as an emotion towards someone or group. True love encompasses everything. You have a feeling of oneness with all things. This harmony of which Oxal spoke is a part of that love. You so love the world that you would give your life for your fellow man if need be. Your thoughts are always on what is best for all, not what is best for me.

True love can have no self. In true love you are selfless. Much is said about selflessness but little is understood. Selflessness is also a part of love. True love encompasses many things and it is not a state of mind that is attained rapidly. It must be born in us as a child and then nourished and brought to maturity.

Now, my friends, I wish to extend my gratitude for being accepted into your household and my gratitude for all of you accepting me here tonight. When I bring forth our greetings and blessings to you it is from all of the Brothers who have been working in your behalf and all of those who are working with planet Earth.

May the blessings, peace and joy of the Great Ones be invoked upon each of you here tonight. May each of you as you go forth and as you start your new year, find new horizons, new challenges and new mountains to climb. When you fall or come up against obstacles, may you have the courage and power to pick yourself up and go on. May you find the strength to meet all challenges that may come to you.

Go in Peace, beloved one. Go in Peace, Peace, Peace, Peace. ☸
