Yaum: Good evening to you, my friends.

Questioner: Good evening, Yaum. Welcome, you found us in Detroit again.

Yaum: Well, I had to search a little, but I found you.

Questioner: Thank you.

Yaum: You have difficulty running away from me, don't you!

Questioner: Oh, I would not have come had I not known you would be with us. Welcome and thank you.

Yaum: It is my pleasure. I see several of my old friends here tonight. I wish to extend my greetings to all of you, and my love, and to those who do not think they know me, I send my special greetings. It is a very great pleasure and opportunity to have this chance to come among you. I wish to extend my gratitude to this household for accepting me into your household.

Questioner: We are honored to have you here. It is a pleasure and privilege.

Yaum: Thank you. Now I should like to talk about the things that you are interested in, the things that you would like to know about. We try to keep our sessions rather impersonal, but if you have some subjects you would like to talk about, I will gladly share my understanding with you.

This does not mean that you have to agree with me, or you have to accept my understanding. You must make your own choice about this and I will not be offended if you do not agree with me. Does anyone have a suggestion or a question?

Questioner: Well, Yaum, you know it is our usual custom to become overwhelmed at first, and then we get so talkative by the time you have to leave, we think of so many things. But we would like to have our guests have an opportunity, and I don't know whether they feel free or not, Val, would you like to ask any questions?

Questioner: Yes, I wonder if you would explain whether I am right in thinking that the great souls who work for the betterment of mankind can carry on their work in shall we say a multiform. We ourselves can be conscious of only one thing at a time, but it is my impression that the great souls who are here to help us can at one and the same time be active in a number of different places.

Yaum: In other words, you are talking about what is often referred to as a division of consciousness.

Questioner: Yes.

Yaum: This is done by those in higher realms. There is a limit as to how many divisions they can make. There is also a difference depending on where you are on the ladder of evolution, as to whether you are able to do this, or how many divisions you can make. Am I making myself clear?

Questioner: Yes.

Yaum: But it is done and it is possible.

Questioner: It is not a permanent thing, though, right? It is a temporary thing?

Yaum: Yes. It can be for some extended time, but it is not a permanent thing.

Questioner: Is it possible to ask what is the length of the extended time?

Yaum: This will vary, depending on the evolution—on the evolution of the individual personality. In other words, it would be easier for someone, for an individual who is way up in the Brotherhood, dealing with the higher energies, such as those Lords of Galaxies and Logos of Galaxies. They have, of course, greater abilities than those farther down the line. Does that answer your question?

Questioner: Yes.

Questioner: (Name), do you have a question?

Questioner: Thank you. Are there additional ways in which I can, or we can facilitate those that we serve?

Questioner: That we came to serve, did you say? You mean to help their spiritual growth? Speed their spiritual growth?

Yaum: You cannot speed it for them. You can only show them the way, and if they are not willing to do anything upon their own, it is quite difficult for anyone else to do anything for them, except to awaken them. But the real effort has to come from the individuals themselves. If they do not want to grow, you cannot force them to grow. If I understand your question—am I understanding it? It is not our privilege to force someone else to accept anything. They must do it willingly.

It is like trying to force a child to do something that he does not want to do. For instance, if he is not musically inclined, and we try to force him into it, we will only retard his advancement, because it will build in him a resentment, you see. He has been made to do something that he does not want to do, and we will do him more harm than good. If he wants to do something, something that is for him, that would be a part of his path, then we must encourage him and help him all that we can.

But we see this happening upon your planet today among your religions, where they go out and try to force it onto other people. And this is wrong, because it only antagonizes them and causes them to resist even more. This is one of the weaknesses of your civilization. Even your nations do this. They try to force their way of life, their political beliefs and so forth onto other countries. And this is not as it should be.

Questioner: Does someone else have a question? (Name)?

Questioner: No, not right off the top of my head.

Questioner: Just put up your hand if you think of something later, and if they can, because you had an opportunity the last time, and if they come back a third time. (Name)?

Questioner: Particularly, I have wondered about our movement into the New Age and how long our present system is going to last?

Yaum: It is difficult to put a dateline on these things. But in reference to your system ?

Questioner: Our economic system?

Yaum: I don't believe that there is any doubt in any of your minds when you look around and see what is happening day-by-day that it is crumbling quite rapidly. I do not mean by this that it is going to crumble completely tomorrow or next week, or something of that kind, but it is coming about very rapidly, and these things have a way of creeping upon you. And suddenly, there it is. It has collapsed. But all of the signs that have been given are there. You can see them taking place day-by-day. Your dollar keeps declining, has steadily declined over several years now. In reality it has very little value left.

And there will be other systems developed and tried, but eventually they will all fail. And of course there will be the conflicts between man which will—perhaps I should say the conflicts that are at the present taking place between people of your Earth will develop into greater conflicts, and all of this will contribute to the crumbling and the downfall of your monetary system. But you have known all of this and read about it, heard about it. You pretty well know what is coming, and it is better to know and be prepared. And this is the only reason that we have ever talked about these things, so that you might be prepared.

Questioner: We appreciate that.

Yaum: And your preparation for these times cannot be done in materialistic ways. Anything of a materialistic nature can crumble and fall away. Just as your Master said: "Lay not up treasures for yourself upon earth," for they will rust away and crumble away, be taken by thieves. But your spiritual treasure can never be taken from you, and will be of more service and more value to you than any materialistic treasure could ever be.

Questioner: But you have said, I mean it has been suggested, that we do the logical commonsense thing to prepare. If a person owns land, that would be a more logical way to go and to do a certain amount of preparation.

Yaum: Oh, sure, you always prepare for—but this is not the primary thrust of your life. The primary thrust should be knowledge, wisdom, the development of the mind of the individual, to become strong. When you are strong in these things, you can always meet the situations.

Questioner: Then you will have the right guidance?

Yaum: You will have the wisdom to do the right things at the right times. And you will place your values where they are the most valuable.

Questioner: Oh, thank you. (Name), would you like to say something to Yaum?

Questioner: If anyone would like to comment or ask a question.

Questioner: I can't think of anything right now.

Questioner: I would like to say that I am extremely overjoyed and honored to meet Yaum. I have never been in his presence before, and it is a great joy to me to finally meet him and I feel that we are old friends.

Yaum: Thank you.

Questioner: I felt that after only a few minutes. And I thank you so much for being here tonight.

Yaum: We feel the same towards you, all of our group.

Questioner: Oh, you mean our teachers?

Yaum: Yes.

Questioner: Oh, that's fine. I am surprised at (name). I always appreciate his attitude, and I thought he might want to express his love to Yaum.

Questioner: Yaum, you have always been very dear to my heart. I have treasured your messages whenever I have received them, and you have always been a source of blessing and inspiration to me. Thank you so very much.

Yaum: Thank you for your compliment. But let's ... we must be careful here, or my—what you call aura? No, my halo—will get too large here.

Questioner: So you won't be able to leave the body? That's all right, I'll trade for a while.

Yaum: I'm not sure I would want to ... get too carried away. No, I appreciate your remarks. But we are only trying to serve. Our purpose is to serve and to share, and when we can do this, we are most happy, for it is only through service that we can grow and become that which we desire. The whole purpose of the Brotherhood is to serve mankind. The emphasis is and will be upon service. You can have all of the wisdom and the knowledge and the love, but if you keep it all to yourself for selfish purposes, it will render you naught. So let us dedicate our lives to the service of mankind. Yes?

Questioner: Yes, Yaum. Years ago, I cannot remember who made the remark that—I will be honest with you—that in the future it was promised that when the time came, within the flicker of an eye our consciousness or, I believe it was consciousness, would be awakened and full remembrance of our knowledge and wisdom would be brought forth. And then with the lessons last night and over the years, and we have all been taking lessons, I believe, I am pretty sure, and I think one of the remarks made by one of the teachers not too long ago, that we are learning to use the mind to control or to manipulate or to handle energy and matter. Would this be a part of that awakening, and will this take place in our physical bodies in the near future for the New Age?

Yaum: This will happen with different individuals at different times, depending upon when it is needed. Each individual is trained along a slightly different line. There are no two individuals that are alike. This is why when a Master takes on a pupil, he teaches this pupil individually, and perhaps in an entirely different way than he would another, because each individual is different. Each individual absorbs at his own rate. Each individual has certain talents and needs to be trained along certain lines that enhance his own talents. And this is much the same as is happening in these cases. Much of the training that goes on in these classes is reviews. Many of you have lived through other civilizations where much of this knowledge was known to you, and you worked with some of this scientific knowledge.

But through the many centuries of time and the evolutionary period Man has lost a lot of this. But it is still there buried deep in what you call the subconscious, but it needs to be stirred up, you see. And so it is being stirred so that it can be more easily brought to the surface when the time is right. Many of these things, if they were known to you now, brought to the surface, would not be of any benefit to you. Perhaps it would be more of a hindrance than of value, because the time is not right for it. But in the New Age, these things will come into use, into being, and very quickly many can be brought to a point where they can work with these.

Now, this does not mean that you are going to be able to manipulate great energies like the Logos of the planet and the galaxy do. You are just going to have a little greater knowledge of some of these things that can be developed and used to give you a better way of life. You see, we do not jump from one stage to many stages. We have to earn our way. Nothing comes for free. We have to prove ourselves every step of the way, but the things that are being taught and reviewed in these classes will be of great benefit to you when the time comes, and perhaps some of you are wondering, I sense that, how about those who are going to make a transition into the other life before this happens, or during that time? That does not matter, because they will come back with another body, the same mind, and it can still be triggered, you see, or loosed in this individual or this special personality.

Questioner: You mean in the astral plane, or here when they come back in the physical?

Yaum: When they come back in the physical. If it is needed in the astral plane, it can be released there. If it is needed, and it can be used there. It will be released at the right time, and the great Masters have ways of doing these things.

Questioner: Oh, we know! Well, thank you, Yaum. (Name), do you have something?

Questioner: Yes, I do. Yaum, if ... talking about these energies, I have been very conscious of late ... there is the greater ability, without, with hardly any effort, of being able to release through the heart chakra of light, rather than through the agni chakra in the forehead, and I am wondering if you can give me some direction on, you know, what I can do, where can I go, for its use?

Yaum: You are talking about, now, the healing energies?

Questioner: Yes, I guess so.

Yaum: You feel that they—you release them better through the heart chakra?

Questioner: There seems to be an ease of doing it. This is what I am wondering.

Yaum: There is no set way or spot that you have to release these. Release them in whatever way works best for you. If it comes, if you visualize them as coming from the heart center, and this is easier for you, then do it then. Others might find it easier to realize it coming from the head. Others do better by the touch.

Questioner: Through the center in the forehead, there it seems that there is a real force at times when I can get tuned, you know, it seems to be when it is really going right, it seems like it is going like sweet nectar. I don't really know what that is.

Yaum: Yes, it can flow either way, but many find it easier to project it from the head. Others—some even seem to be able to project it from the solar plexus. But that is why the laying on of hands has been used so much, because to some it seems to flow better through the hands. And you may be impressed at different times to do it differently, because the recipient can sometimes receive better one way or another. And you may find yourself—any of you who are doing healing may find yourselves—impelled to go and lay hands upon them, or to do something else. This is following your inner guidance. You have to develop this, this inner feeling, this inner guidance, wherein you tune yourself with this.

Questioner: There was a question of, one would like to know if possible, some more meaning—I am wording it poorly—about what was it, the Illuminati? Yes, the Order of the Illuminati. Do you have any information about that?

Yaum: Yes, the Order of the Illuminati. This is a branch of the Brotherhood. It is not too well known or publicized, but it is a branch of the Brotherhood and they have their special work, and they, their work is primarily concerned with earth Man, and they mostly work upon the Earth.

Questioner: In the physical?

Yaum: Yes, although they do have connection with some of the Masters in other planes.

Questioner: Well, thank you.

Yaum: But it is a branch, of which there are many. Now, friends ...

Questioner: First let us express our gratitude. I am sure each and every one of you. Thank you, Yaum, thank you. We extend our love to you and to B. and to any of the other teachers who are here, and we are deeply grateful.

Yaum: It has been my pleasure and my opportunity to spend this time with you. If I have been of any assistance, I am happy. Our love for all of you is great; greater than you can know or realize. Our love is not a personal love. It is a love that goes far deeper.

It is difficult at times to withhold the help that we would like to extend to our brothers, but you must understand that we cannot do that for you which would cause you to falter or fall as you go farther on the path. So oftentimes we must stand by and watch you suffer, perhaps even be in agony or despair, feeling that you have been deserted by all of us. But we have not deserted you. We want you to be strong, we want you to move rapidly upon the Path, and unless you are strong, you will not do this. So you must overcome as you go and learn to deal with those parts of yourself which hold you back.

The Dweller on the Threshold must be faced, and he can only be faced by you. He can only be crucified by you, and you are the one that must do it. We would love to do it for you if we could but we must stand by and watch you. But there is a great rejoicing in the Brotherhood every time one of you have reached another rung on the ladder.

I leave you now, friends, by extending to each of you my most sincere love, our blessings, and my understanding. I ask all of the Great Ones to pour forth their blessings and their love upon you, and may this love that they pour forth upon you, sink deep into your hearts.

Go in peace, beloved ones, go in peace, peace, peace, peace.

(Excerpt)

Yaum: Before we start the questions or suggestions, I have something I would like to say to you, and especially to this one here. I brought a friend of mine with me tonight who is also very close to you, and I bet you do not have to guess, do you?

Questioner: I guess not!

Yaum: He wishes me to convey to you his love, and to his boys, and he is very happy with the way you have carried on since his leaving this dimension. He has been very pleased with the way you have accepted this situation and how you have busied yourself in trying to help others, and he wishes me to convey these things to you. And also that he is very happy in his work and is growing; is learning new things every day, and he is hoping to be of a great assistance in the development of the New Age that is coming, which will be on you before you know it.

Questioner: Thank you. Thank you. I am really happy to hear this.

Yaum: It is my privilege to have the opportunity to bring this to you.

Questioner: Thank you. I am so happy.

Questioner: Now, Yaum, didn't (name) also say hello to us?

Yaum: He also ...

Questioner: After (name), of course.

Yaum: This is the anxious one, here. He wishes me to extend his love and blessing to all of you and he still has a great interest in all of you and in the work you are doing, and still feels one with all of you.

Questioner: Greetings to you, (name). Please convey our greetings and our love to (name).

Yaum: He already has received those.

Questioner: Oh, is he here?

Yaum: Yes.

Questioner: Oh, Hi, (name)! Thank You.

Yaum: This pleases him very much. He is, what you say, grinning from ear to ear, and he is very happy that you all have this attitude and feeling for him. And he also is very happy that you have an understanding of what this is all about, and that you do not spend time in mourning the departure of the dear one, because this does not assist the departed one, but only holds them back. He has not departed from you. He has only gone to another dimension. He has gone to a different area of space. With you and your understanding you all know that there is no such thing as death. It is merely a transition from one form of life to another. Yes ... enough. Now we can get back to our subject.

Questioner: Thank you very much for conveying this message to us. ☸
