Teacher: Peace be with thee, my friends.

As you travel the corridors of time, you encounter experience upon experience. Each of these, if you are at least somewhat aware, adds to your truth, your knowledge and your wisdom. Man, in this level of consciousness that exists upon planet Earth, has drawn upon himself a veil that places in the background most of his knowledge and truth. Soon, Earth man is to have this veil lifted, and he shall find himself emerging into a new state of consciousness. He shall behold many things that now do not exist in his consciousness. Some of you have awareness of these things, but you do not have full consciousness of them.

As this veil is lifted, you shall find great truths being revealed to you, and you will understand many things which now are but a mystery to you. Many Earth people will experience these things and shall not understand. It will only confuse their minds, for these people are not ready yet to know the higher truths. They will not be able to accept the truth they behold, and therefore, of their own volition, they will return to an environment suitable to their consciousness.

Beloved friends, spend every effort that you can in these days to prepare yourselves for what is to come, so that you will be ready to move with your planet into the new Age where man shall live his truth, where man shall not talk of his love for his fellow man, but he shall express it. These times are much nearer than you think or realize. The days of retribution have been shortened, not because Earth man has repented, but because your creator is just and merciful.

If Earth man could see and know, he would be greatly humbled, I believe, but those who are responsible for this do not require gratitude.

These things they do out of the graciousness of their hearts, out of their love for mankind.

Let thine eyes be opened, that you might see, and let your ears be opened that you might hear. The day of justice is at hand, beloved friends. Know this. Therefore, let your hearts be opened that you might receive the great light that is being poured out to you in these times. Receive it, and rejoice in it and be grateful.

I know that in your minds you are wondering who I might be, so I will say this. I am very close to one of you here; my love for all of you is great. I am quite sure that my son here is recognizing my vibrations. I will say this to him. Many times I have been at your side in the hour of need. I have helped you over many rough paths, and more than once you thought your work was finished here, but you found it was not so, for, as yet you have not fulfilled your mission, and you will not leave this plane of existence until this is accomplished, I assure you.

Great energies have been concentrated here tonight by some of the great Masters. These energies should be of great benefit to you, both morally and spiritually. Take them into your being and reap their benefits.

May the love, peace and understanding of the great ones rest in the hearts of each of thee this night. Bless you, dear friends. Peace be with you.

I go. ☸
