

Caveat: These communications are informative teaching instructions for those who seek to increase their understanding of themselves and the magnitude of the future lying before us all. These lectures are not of a religious nature but rather deal with the science of human potential and evolution. This document is a direct transcription from the original recording. Although it has been checked for obvious errors, it has not been finally edited.

Oxal: Greetings in the light, My friends, I am Oxal.

As we observe Earth people preparing for the great celebration which is about to take place among your people, it never ceases to amaze us that this type of preparation and celebration should be given for such a great being, and then go promptly forgetting all that he stood for, the moment the celebration is over. This being came to your planet with great sacrifice to himself, to bring to Earth man some truths that could free him from the bondage that he found himself in. Yet were his truths so lightly taken and so often deliberately misinterpreted. Many times they were deliberately distorted by those who would hold control over their people. Yet, a few did benefit, and still do. Those who have been willing to sacrifice enough of their time and energy to dig out the true meanings of the words that he spoke.

The story of his birth, as it is told in your religious histories, is not altogether accurate, but as it was told try those who saw and understood not, it was told in expressions that were familiar to them. And yet, it would seem that people of today, who have advanced in science, who have greater knowledge of the universe, would attempt to find the truth in these stories, but they do not. They go on, being told in the same words, in the same way.

I am sure that any of you here on this night would agree with me, when I say that planets and stars do not move from their orbits and float gently along leading people to their destinations. As it is known today by your astronomers, the solar systems move in great accuracy, these things are not possible. The creator of these universes, these galaxies, created them to operate by law and even they do not and cannot change these laws.

Would I dare say to you, beloved friends, that the base from which this star came, was a much greater star and is today orbiting your planet far out in space, and the same great being is aboard it? It is not a star as you think of it, but a huge craft capable of traveling space wherever and whenever it is directed. The lights, or light that did the directing upon this night was a small craft remotely controlled, that was being directed from the larger craft.

Once again, in the not too far future, this being shall emerge again from his craft and walk among your people. But, then your Earth shall have been cleansed, will have taken on a new look, yes even your system. Your solar system, will have taken on a new look. And even man, himself, will have undergone great changes. Beloved friends, as you celebrate the coming of this being to your planet, think of him as a great Master of truth and give thanks in your heart that you may have the opportunity again, someday, to welcome him again to your planet. I leave you, beloved ones, in the light, the love and the understanding of my people. I am Oxal. ☸
