Teacher: Peace be with you, my friends.

Today, my friends, people of planet Earth are facing a situation that is quite appalling. We find the lives of millions and millions of your people hanging in the balance, so to speak, due to the fact certain great powers, certain minds that hold in the palm of their hand the destiny for these people. Two great powers are struggling for supremacy, two powers or ways of life or perhaps we could say ideals of ways of life of a few individuals. Neither, in their search for power are considering the millions of lives that are being jeopardized. It is about time that these small people or perhaps a better terminology would be, the masses of people begin to realize that the powers they possess by joining together in common bond.

The decisions that are being made today are being made by a very, very small minority. They have gained power either through the control of money, wealth, resources or through military might which they can hold over their people. If the situation that exists today is to be solved for Earth man, it must start with the common man. Little effort has been spent in this direction.

Great efforts could be spent to reach an understanding between the various races of people and realizing that when they have joined together in common bond, made known their desires, that sooner or later these powers or few who have been in control must yield.

There is great strength in numbers and this need not be done by force, for enough of your people shall bond themselves together in this manner. Even the thought power created, the desire in itself would bring things into being that are desired. For when man desires within himself, the desire will be met, for this is a law of nature and will always respond. And so, by multiplying these things you strengthen the law; the law acts and reacts much faster. But these things must be done in sincerity and in love, the desire to bring about that which is good for all man. The desires that have emanated from man in the past have been to a great degree selfish desires, each with his own desire to bring about something that he only desires for himself. But, you see, if man begins to join together in common desire, how much greater will be the reaction of the law.

It is quite amazing as we observe the actions of Earth people the things that are going on in your civilization. It is amazing that so few have been able to hold the power over so many. Freedom is something that has been spoken of a great deal among your people, but as yet, Earth man has not experienced freedom. He yet does not know freedom. He only knows a degree and only a very small degree of it.

Today communication facilities upon your planet have improved greatly. There is no reason why if the effort were put forth that the people of Earth could join together, to bring about the crumbling and falling of these powers. A greater freedom could be experienced as well as a great hazard lifted, for it is not only in your nation that people are seeking to know. The people are desiring for peace, are desiring freedom. The masses in their minds are not supporting these powers but are only following through fear and these fears must be overcome for man must declare his right, his right to live, his right to be free without gaining it through chaos, through force and violence. It would be well for your people to think upon these things. To think what they might do to bring about the conditions that they desire.

For children of Earth, if these things are to be brought about it must be done primarily by Earth man himself, for he is responsible for his civilization and no other civilization can take that responsibility or do these things for him. They can only aid him as he desires to receive aid.

It has been my most sincere pleasure to spend this time with you.

Questioner: May I have one question please?

Teacher: You may state your question.

Questioner: Are there any groups already established. Could Understanding (This group is named Understanding.) be used in that manner, are there any suggestions you have?

Teacher: Anyone can be used in this manner, any group, any individual. Any individual can contribute and correspond, can contact those of other nations. There are many methods that can be devised to bring these people closer together in understanding. There can be group projects, it can be any number of things, even individual correspondence with those of other nations. It is up to man, if he does not desire these things enough to act, then he shall not receive, for man must act upon his own for unless he is willing to help himself, how can anyone do it for him?

Questioner: Thank you.

Teacher: I extend to you, my friends, my peace and my blessings.

Go in Peace. ☸
