Oxal: Greetings in the Light, my friends. I am Oxal.

I greet you as brothers and sisters, for we are your brothers and sisters. All mankind, regardless of location or density, in reality are brothers. I know it is difficult for many Earth people to think that someone or some group or civilization of people who are not exactly like them could be brothers, but we have a great love for all of you.

Our love for you is as great as it is for our own people. This, too, is difficult for many Earth people to accept or understand, but this love must exist throughout Creation if man is to function as he was intended, which is in harmony with all things. Without this love and this feeling of brotherhood, harmony cannot exist. It is the lack of this upon planet Earth and some other planets throughout the Universe, that causes the great turmoil that you see.

This love must be the foundation for any civilization if it is to grow and develop in the Light. One of our missions has been to impress this idea upon those of planet Earth, who are attempting to walk in the Light, and are attempting to grow and to reach a greater level of understanding. We understand the problems of Earth people. We know of the influences that have been prevalent upon planet Earth, and these influences have not been easy to combat.

Materialism has ruled planet Earth for many, many thousands of years. Man has allowed himself to sink deeper and deeper into this pit, and the deeper that one sinks into the pit of materialistic things, the more difficult he finds it to feel this love, this desire to understand his fellow man. To understand is to love. Love and understanding go hand in hand and are the foundation of a good civilization. So, we are attempting to plant this desire in the minds of Earth men and women, hoping that it will take root and grow into a blossoming flower and will spread rapidly among your people.

It has not been easy to make these influences felt on planet Earth, and in the majority of cases, we have not been effective, but we have been with many and we feel that it is growing within those. Those whom we have reached and will reach, will know that they will reap benefits, and we are grateful to have reached as many as we have. Though the percentage may not be high, it will be enough to change the course of planet Earth when the time is right, and out of these will grow a new civilization, one of justice, of love and understanding for all. The greed that has produced your great wars will be eliminated and Earth man will learn to war no more. When these efforts are turned to doing good for mankind, to raising the consciousness of the whole, a whole new world will emerge.

Have you ever stopped to think what could have been done in your civilization in the past two thousand years if man had applied these principles? If the efforts and resources that were wasted upon the useless wars had been used for the good of mankind, or even if only half as much had been used, what a great civilization you would have today! The Utopia that your people talk about would be here now.

But this did not happen, so it will be necessary to go from where you are and to try to develop the civilization as it should be.

We feel that this will be done under the direction and guidance of a few who have the wisdom and the knowledge to lead as it is necessary to lead. Our efforts shall continue throughout this change, for we have come to do all we can to insure that planet Earth will move successfully into an Age of love, of understanding, of justice and of brotherly love.

I leave by extending to you the love, the light, and the understanding of my people.

I am Oxal. ✿
