Special: My beloved children of the light, seekers of truth.

You spend much time and effort in thy search of truth, yet seemingly in your mind, you have great difficulty in accomplishing the goals that you seek. But, I say to thee, beloved ones, thy efforts are not wasted. Yet, I would recommend to thee, that thy search for truth, for understanding, be widened. Seek and look everywhere for truth, for all things reveal unto thee the truths that are held in creation. I say to thee that every segment of creation contains truth.

Man of Earth has been taught that he must seek spiritual truths and understanding only in the Temples and the books, but I say to thee, my friends, truth must be sought everywhere. And many times you will find great pearls of truth where you least expect to find them. Ofttimes great truths are found in the hearts of the very lowly. So, beloved ones, be ever mindful of these things, for truth is everywhere.

Man has made a great effort to separate, to divide into segments, truth science, metaphysics, religions. In creation, nothing is separated, for all is one, and one is all. Not one of your great religions contains all truth, yet each has its segment. A great blending together must take place if we are to truly grow in understanding—a gathering together, a sorting, a fitting together of the many, many segments. That man might have life and have it abundantly through his understanding.

Your creator has not separated any of his gifts for you. Only man has separated these things, great abundance ye all may have if you will but attempt to reach an understanding of universal law. But attempt to come into the realization of your relationship to creation and all things therein.

I must say to thee again, and many times it has been said to you before: “love thee one another.” And this I do not mean in the respect that Earth man regards love, but by coming to a realization of thyself and thy relation to all mankind, to all creation, will thou understand universal love, where man thinks not in terms of self, but in terms of mankind. For what is good for mankind, is good for me.

You have been told many times, beloved ones, that the time of fulfillment of the prophecies is at hand, that your great planet is about to pass through the period of great changes as they were spoken of by some of your ancient prophets.

Yet, sometimes we recognize in the hearts of many truth seekers, a doubt that these events will take place, will really occur. I wonder today, how many, if they were put to the final test, were asked to make the last great step, to go all the way, to cast aside all of the false gods, we wonder how many could truly do this and would. There are many who still worship the false god of materialism yet they would not admit even to themselves, that this condition existed within their consciousness. It is well to occasionally, very honestly, take stock of ourselves. To put ourselves to the acid test and to see just where we stand. If this were done honestly and fairly, many might find that within their consciousness there are more false gods than they realize.

My dear friends, it shall behoove all of us to build our foundation for truth upon a foundation of solid rock, so that when the time arrives that we are given the final test, we can stand firm and move on from there to new and greater heights on the never-ending spiral of truth and understanding.

I am told that a beloved friend of yours is standing by to spend a few moments with you by use of this instrument. Therefore, I shall draw to a close my humble dissertation and allow him to converse with you.

May the love and the understanding of all the great Masters fill the hearts of each of you and may each of you reach your goal as rapidly as you desire.

Peace be with you, my friends, Peace, peace, peace. ✿
