Oxal: Greetings in the Light, my friends, I am Oxal.

We, aboard the Otavana, have been watching your progress, as we watch and record the happenings and progress of many of the happenings upon your planet. In the next five years upon your planet, great changes shall come about, changes of many descriptions, but the greatest change shall be the change that will take place in the hearts of many of your Earth people.

We are putting forth great efforts to impress upon the minds of Earth people the importance of understanding among mankind. This is a word you hear much used today among your leaders of world affairs. This word you have heard repeated more and more. There is reason for this, my friends, for there is power in words. There is more power than you realize. If you are aware you will notice, as time passes, this word being used more and more by Earth people, and thus it shall take root in the minds of man and shall grow.

Groups such as you have here, have a responsibility in promoting the growth of these seeds, and each of you, if you will but be aware, can fertilize "these seeds" as you move about your daily living. Be continually aware of opportunities to promote understanding with those with whom you come in contact. Use every opportunity to perform a deed, or to speak a word that will increase the feeling of understanding in the hearts of men. This, my friends, like everything else, becomes a state of consciousness. But man will never have complete understanding, unless he begins in a small way, for as he performs acts and deeds that promotes a feeling of Brotherhood, his consciousness gradually reaches out and encompasses more and more understanding of every nature.

You see, my friends, this is a broad term word, and encompasses a great deal,

Spiritual understanding is growing upon planet Earth, although it does not seem to be too apparent yet it is being channeled to Earth man through many sources, through many channels. There are many paths in spiritual growth, and each must choose his path, the path that is right for him, and will bring him the experiences that are necessary for his or her growth. Therefore, we must allow each individual to follow the path that seems right and good for them, and understand that this is necessary for them to reach their goal. But all paths eventually come to the same place, and each will reach his goal when it is right for him.

But this need not prevent us from having an understanding between individuals, for in true understanding we respect the rights of each to move according to his will, and rejoice with him.

May each of you, beloved ones, as you go forth, go with a new determination to promote an era of understanding wherever you are. May each of you be continually conscious of every opportunity to carry out your mission in bringing about the Brotherhood of Man, that must come soon to planet Earth.

I leave you by extending to you the love, and the understanding, of my people.

I am Oxal, of Arcturus. ✨
