Teacher: Beloved ones, peace be with you. There is about to take place upon your planet, a great celebration. Much emphasis will be given to peace on earth and good will toward men. This has gone on for many hundreds of years. Much talk, much singing, much preaching, but when we look close at planet Earth, we find so little of this.

Instead, we see much hatred, much selfishness. How can people talk such a story and live it so little? But, the harvest is being reaped and soon this shall end. The coronation, beloved ones, is at hand. The change to real peace on earth has begun. The cleansing, the washing away of all this is at hand. There are many events to take place before the return, but, the return is not far hence, when again in your skies will be seen that great light that shall usher in the new age, where peace on earth and good will to man shall flourish in its fullness and all men shall know love and have peace in their hearts.

Yes, the coronation is at hand, and you shall be there, shall witness these great events. Give yourself to his service and really live this peace and good will. Take it into your heart that your light might shine for all to see.

Come unto me as you are and I will give you Peace.

Peace, Beloved Ones. ♀
