Nathaniel: Greetings to you my children, I am Nathaniel. Now that Samuel and I have cleansed all of your auras and given you a little color treatment, would you like to have a little chat?

Questioner: Would you please talk about the disease Acquired Immune Deficiency (AIDS)?

Nathaniel: This is a disease that has developed in the past few years that is the result of man's overindulgence and his trying to fulfill his urges of the carnal self too freely. All of these things are brought about and created by man himself.

Questioner: Is it the Law of Cause and Effect?

Nathaniel: Right. In your prophecies, it was said that in your later days there would be new diseases and pestilence. All of this is a culmination of man's wrong thinking and wrong doing. Over-indulgence of the carnal senses and the animal senses has caused this and there will be more. Just as man's evil thoughts create evil insects, so does it create evil diseases. Mosquito and many of the lower insects are creations of man's evil thoughts.

What must be realized is that everyone, every man, woman and child are creators and they are creating their tomorrow today. This is a process of creating in the wrong direction. Disease could almost be eliminated if man would think properly and would align himself with the Universal Consciousness. He must learn to control this animal nature. The animal only uses sex for procreation and this is largely controlled, since the animal does not have the thinking capacity and the will that man has. It is somewhat controlled, however the urge is always there.

Man has made a sport out of sex, you might say, in many, many cases and in very ruthless ways. He has allowed it to control him entirely. Not only in sex, but in other desires of the carnal self. Whatever gives pleasure, they pursue.

This is why it is said that suffering is necessary. It is one of the things that brings man to his salvation, or his senses, when he realizes that all of this is for naught. It is not really bringing him pleasure but only bringing him imaginary pleasure. In reality, it is bringing him misery, so he wants to find a better way, something better.

Most of the pestilence on planet Earth is treated by man himself. Thoughts are things. They manifest. They manifest in this dimension. Most any of these destructive insects are creations of man's own thinking and doing. Of course not all insects are destructive. Some are very beneficial to mankind. For instance, the bee is very necessary. He has a very useful function in his service to man by spreading the pollen and making honey. He always produces more than he needs for himself, so there is some left over for man. There are many insects that are beneficial. Some are more beneficial for other species, such as the birds. Some birds live on insects. Some of the other animal species that live on insects, the real destructive ones, are man's creation.

The same holds true with diseases. There is really no need for man to be ill. If man were taught from a very young age to think in positive terms, to realize that his negative thinking creates negative things and to be responsible for himself and others and to function in a positive way, you would not have all the diseases and violence that you have.

Questioner: Can disease be caused by thoughts of guilt?

Nathaniel: Yes, and fear also. Fear is at the root of much of the diseases that you have. People fear disease. That is one of the reasons that cancer has increased so greatly in the past fifty to sixty years. You are continually told by the media, how dangerous cancer is, how destructive it is and how fatal it is. You are told that one out every so many people will have cancer. So almost everyone fears cancer and the thing that they fear, if they fear it enough, comes upon them. Children are told, do not do this or that, for it will cause cancer in you. These things should never be taught to children.

It started really back in the eighteenth century of your evolution, for these truths to begin to come forward. As you come closer and closer to the culmination of this age, these teachings will be coming in greater abundance from all directions. Man will begin to understand more about himself. Everyone will have the opportunity to know.

That was really what was meant when the Nazarene made the statement that 'in the later days the word would be spread throughout the world and everyone would have the opportunity to have their salvation', as some of your people call it. What is really meant, is that every man, woman and child will have the opportunity to learn the truth, if they want to learn it. It is going to be up to them. Nobody is going to, as you say, "cram it down their throats." But more and more are seeking truth and are looking for the better life and a way to bring about that better life. It is being taught in many ways and in many places, now that man is responsible for his own world. You create your own world about you, through your own thoughts and actions. It can be a beautiful world or it can be a terrible world. Each man has that choice. But I am not telling you anything that you do not already know, I'm sure. But it fits in with what we are talking about.

Questioner: If a person mistreats an animal, either knowingly or unknowingly, would that person be creating negative Karma due to his actions towards that animal?

Nathaniel: Oh yes, the Laws of Karma link man with both the animal and plant kingdom. Karmic law does not work the same on the animals as it does on man because they are not yet capable. They live by their senses. Often an animal will reincarnate back with the same master. Often a horse will kick his master. The horse has been very mean and has often destroyed that master because, it is instilled in this animal's mind, a hatred for this person for mistreating it. And in this case, karma has taken its toll.

Questioner: Would mistreatment of the plant kingdom bring about negative karma such as cutting down a forest, just for the money, with no plans of replanting or protecting the land?

Nathaniel: This would bring about negative karma.

Questioner: How would this type of karma be paid back?

Nathaniel: You see there is personal karma, group karma, city karma, national karma and it goes on in that way. If a man is ruthless with nature's products, sooner or later, he will pay for that in some way. That will be decided by the Lords of Karma. They will decide how he will have to repay that. They would not necessarily make him go out and plant a lot of trees, but he will run into some negative situation that will be very detrimental to him. This situation will perhaps bring about a realization of the importance of preserving nature.

Questioner: Is it possible that this individual would have to pay back his karma by having a child become sick due to improper chemical dumping?

Nathaniel: Yes, he might. It is hard to say how something like that would be worked out. The laws are just and they always find a way to bring about justice. One of the ways that the general population will suffer from this type of carelessness and selfishness, is that the natural resources will run out and then they will come to the realization that they made a big error. Your entire planet and your nation are facing these problems today. You have wasted your resources for years because people did not seem to think that there was any end to it or they did not care, as long as those people, at the time, got their wealth out of it. The big money interests that usually control these things have done the same thing with a lot of your undeveloped countries. They have gone into these countries and taken all of their resources and given them nothing. Those men will pay the price. You cannot escape the law. Sooner or later they will have to learn.

Your people, as a whole, have taken this attitude. You have stripped your planet of everything that you could and everything that would be beneficial to you at the time. All of this was done to give these people (big money interests) more wealth and more power. So the people of your planet are suffering now because you do not have the resources that you once had. The resources are dwindling very rapidly.

There are many ways of avoiding this type of thing and still have plenty, if they want to do it but they are too selfish and too greedy to even think of these ways. They take the easy way and say, "Let's grab all we can." There are many substitutes that could be used to conserve.

Take your oil resources, for instance, there are many ways that you could conserve energy but they have not done it. The only way that they (the big money powers) will conserve, is to cause a false shortage for a while in order to get more money. As long as this type of action goes on, the people of the planet will suffer from it.

Questioner: Are the people who get injured and killed from terrorist actions, involved because of karma or is it an accident?

Nathaniel: It is difficult to say without going into the past of each one and without knowing their past actions and so forth. It is altogether possible that some of them, at least, had been terrorists themselves and had done the same things at sometime. Some of these people would be there for a different reason, an accident for instance. Some of these people might have created their involvement in a terrorist action by their own fear. It is possible to draw to you the very situation that you fear.

You would have to investigate every case, the soul development of that individual, their past lives and so forth. These terrorists are being trained to do this and are being taught from a young age, that it is a great honor to give your life for your beliefs. So they do not hesitate, so far as they are concerned. They are not concerned about their own life because they think that this is going to get them into heaven, by making that sacrifice. The ones who will pay the highest price will be the leaders who encouraged and promoted this type of thing and those who trained these people to do this.

It is the same way in many of your assassinations. The ones behind the assassinations are never touched because there is no way, with your ways of investigating, to prove anything. They can take a weak minded person like Oswald or Sirhan Sirhan and through hypnosis, take complete control of him. They program him to do something like this. With methods such as these, how can you prove anything? The poor little guy who has been programmed is the one who suffers, but the real culprits go free.

Questioner: Was that the case in those two instances?

Nathaniel: It certainly was and in other cases also. Any hypnotist, if he has a good subject that goes into the hypnotic state very easily or even not so easily, will eventually be able to gain control over the subject. Each time they get the subject under, they get more control over that mind, especially if it is not a very strong mind to begin with. After a certain number of times, that person is under complete control of the hypnotist. This subject will do anything that the hypnotist programs him to do. He becomes sort of a robot for that hypnotist. He is completely controlling the mind of that individual. When he brings him out of that hypnotic state, he has programmed him not to remember that he has been told all this. All these will be his own thoughts.

Questioner: Is it true that under hypnosis, you would not do anything that you would not want to do, do something that might be against your morals?

Nathaniel: That is a very false concept. Once you are completely under the control of the hypnotist, the hypnotist has complete control of your mind. At the snap of a finger, he could cause you to go under. At certain signals, he can have you do, and you will do, anything that you have been programmed to do at that signal.

It does not matter whether you are walking down the street or what you are doing, once you are under his control. He does not have to hypnotize you first because you are already under his control.

Questioner: How close does the hypnotist have to be to control his subject?

Nathaniel: It depends upon the situation, but when signals are being given, they would be closer together. These assassinations are thought out very methodically and these people are programmed to do their deed and be at the right place at the right time. The controlling people were probably near him at this time, at least some of them were.

It is like the person who shot President Reagan. He was put in the crowd and he was told what to do and he did it. Nothing could have stopped him. This person was not under a hypnotic spell at the time, as you might think of it. He was programmed, through hypnosis, to do this act. He was told where to be at a certain time and to have his gun so that he could be right where he would have the opportunity to do what he did. The group that controls this type of actions is an international assortment of individuals. They are a ruthless bunch.

Questioner: What did President Reagan do that this group did not like?

Nathaniel: He was pushing things that they did not like, but he got straightened out.

Questioner: So they will not try again to get rid of him?

Nathaniel: I think that a second attempt would be rather obvious. I do not think that they will make a second attempt. I would not say that they would not, but it is rather improbable. They would use some other method if it was necessary. Much more is known about some of these practices of hypnosis by certain elements of the population, than the general public knows. Now they have some sophisticated ways that are almost impossible to detect. Radionics would be an example. Almost anything can be used for good or evil. So once you learn to use something, you use it according to your discretion. There is nothing to stop you. Remember that you are that child of God and you have all of the attributes that he gave you, but you must use them.

Now beloved ones as I leave, I extend to each of you my love, my blessings and my joy. May each one of you soon find that inner peace that transcends all else.

Peace, beloved ones, Peace, Peace, Peace. ☸
