Yaum: Good evening to you, my friends. It is my pleasure to once more come among you. I would like to extend my special greetings to your new friends here tonight in whose presence I have not been before. It is my pleasure to be in your presence.

Now is there something that you might especially like me to talk about?

Questioner: What would you like to talk about?

Yaum: It does not matter to me. I will try to speak on whatever subject you might choose, to the best of my ability. But I want to make it clear that whatever I say on any subject is only my understanding and if it does not fit with yours, you do not need to accept it. I shall not be offended.

Questioner: We always benefit by your understanding, would you like to make any comments about the war situation in Iran?

Yaum: No, it is just another one of the forerunners, one of those things that is part of the times. I do not think that this is going to escalate into a big war. That is not quite yet, I believe, but I do not claim to be a prophet. I do not particularly like to prophesy because there are too many variables.

Questioner: Yes, we understand that. Are you familiar with the book from Switzerland about the sightings that Col. Stevens has been involved in and the magnificent pictures that have been taken? We are not sure if these are authentic sightings or not.

Yaum: I have heard of it but have not investigated it so I cannot comment that extensively about it. My work has kept me too busy to investigate every book or new information of that type which comes forth.

Questioner: We understand that. Is there anything about your work that can be revealed to us?

Yaum: Not at the moment. Does anyone else have a question?

Questioner: Can you give us any information on color therapy? I have heard that they are using pink in prisons and that it is helping to calm people.

Yaum: This is true. Color has been used for a number of years by your people. Color is very important and you are learning new methods to use these colors. I would like to use kind terms about the following if possible, but if your closed minded medical profession would open up its mind and allow some of these things to be used more widely, much could be done with color. They use it to a certain extent but what little is used is kept in their hands and no one else is allowed to use it and if others outside of their profession uses color in healing they immediately are offended and they want to persecute them. These things must change if you are ever to advance in your use of scientific knowledge for healing. There are many other ways of healing.

Questioner: Perhaps you would like to speak about radionics?

Yaum: Radionics was brought out in your scientific field many years ago but your medical profession would not allow it to be used. Of course you are aware that it is trying to come to the front again today. They are still fighting it and will continue to do so as gradually the old guard lets go or passes on, and some of the newer, more liberal minded scientific people come forward, many of these things will be used. All of them will be used in the New Age.

It is very wrong to put poisons into a human system. The medical profession is going to have some great karma to pay for using some of the drugs. In fact, most of the drugs which they use are of a destructive nature. When you inject into your system things that are of a destructive nature, you are bringing about destruction of the body. Not only are they doing this but they are doing it knowingly, knowing what it will do, knowing that it is destructive. This, to use your terminology, is a great sin against mankind and they will have to pay this debt.

Questioner: Speaking of radionics, there is much information that is available now, and much information is given concerning the construction of radionics and orgone energy devices that can be used for harm as well as good. What is right, according to Universal Law, about dispensing this information to the general public so freely?

Yaum: You distribute information every day of your life that is destructive or constructive.

Questioner: Then it is alright to do this on a large scale?

Yaum: Almost anything you can name can be either constructive or destructive. You hardly have anything around you that does not have both sides. How would you have had any information if someone had not given it? You cannot be responsible for what someone else does with something. When something is discovered that is going to improve the life of mankind, give him better living conditions and allows him to be healed or whatever, it has these positive and negative aspects. If Tesla had not given to the world his alternating current, you would not have the great amount of electrical power across the nation that you have today. Yet, that same power is being used destructively.

Questioner: I think what we are referring to is something as simple as an orgone accumulator that is very easy to make, that a fourteen year old person could make. It requires material that is very easily found in a hardware store. It is something as simple as that but literally that box could destroy a city if it was in the wrong hands.

Yaum: This is true of many things that you have. So if you are going to withhold all knowledge on that basis, you would not evolve scientifically.

Questioner: I know that I would feel very bad if I had given this information to someone and they in turn hurt someone or themselves with it.

Yaum: But if the information is available from many sources and if you were to go to someone and say: "This is how you build this orgone accumulator and you can use it to heal yourself, you can do this and do that, but you must be careful." That is a little different because you are going directly to this person and giving them this information and knowledge when you know that they do not have the wisdom to use it.

There are certain energies and certain powers that man must have a great deal of wisdom to handle. I think your science has gone too far with atomic energy. They do not have the wisdom to use it and they are using it for too many purposes. It is not an energy that was intended to be used, for it is too dangerous and has too many waste products that are almost impossible to dispose of without doing harm to people.

Questioner: How do you feel about the use of nuclear power plants?

Yaum: It is very dangerous. For instance, if you were to have a war and you did not use atomic bombs and one of your atomic power plants was hit, the result would be that you would have huge areas that would be completely destroyed and these areas would equal the devastation of a nuclear bomb. An earthquake could also cause the same destruction if it happened near a nuclear power plant.

Questioner: Would you consider it to be a disservice if you withheld an invention or an idea that would benefit many, just because of the fear of hurting many because of the misuse of it?

Yaum: If this device or idea could be of a great service to mankind and could be helpful in forwarding his evolution, then you would be doing wrong to withhold it. You must remember all things can be used either way and this is true with any science; you would have to weigh the dangers. In the occult science there is knowledge that is withheld until the individual reaches a state where the hierarchy of the Brotherhood feels that they have the wisdom to handle this. If you released this information to your scientific community, it would be used for more destructive than constructive purposes and it could be used to destroy the whole race.

You have something almost that dangerous in the hands of your science today but there are other forces even more dangerous than the atomic forces. Yet, these same forces could be used to benefit mankind but your civilization at its present state of evolution wants to turn everything into a weapon of war. This is one of the reasons that your science has not discovered the secrets that those of other civilizations have which enables them to travel in space. Such as the power source to overcome gravity and so forth. Your science has spent a great deal of time and money working on this but they have not yet mastered it to any degree. So you have to weigh the severity of it, how destructive it can be and how beneficial it can be. Does that answer your question?

Questioner: Yes, it does. Is there any safe way to introduce something that would be beneficial to mankind and keep it away from people who would misuse it?

Yaum: In order to reveal something, you have to reveal the whole thing and how to use it. It really is a matter then of directing it one way or the other. So I do not see how you could do this because if you only reveal part of it, it would not be beneficial and it would not work.

Questioner: What I mean is, to keep the misuse by the government from taking it and using it detrimentally. Is there a better and safer way then what we are doing right now?

Yaum: I don't know how you could keep them from it. Once it was released publicly, it is an open book and the government of course, if they feel it is useful to them, can confiscate it as they have the power to do so. There is no way you could stop them.

Questioner: All the UFOs that have crashed are generally of the same physical structure and I wondered if they all came from the same place?

Yaum: Generally, those came from at least the same dimension and they are more of a lower physical nature. They have advanced scientifically. They operate entirely different from your civilization and many others. They do not have the same use for a mouth or ears or nostrils and do not need to be constructed the same as you. They would look very strange to you, their blood would not be like yours. They live in an environment of entirely different gases and their needs are entirely different. They have advanced scientifically, however, not socially. They have a great curiosity about planet Earth but they are not particularly interested in your welfare nor are they interested in bringing you harm. They are of a different specie than you are familiar with.

Questioner: In reference to gardening and growing food, vegetables and fruit, would visualizing and sending energy to the plants be a beneficial way to spend a certain period of time each day?

Yaum: It would help yes, it would help. You know people that are referred to as having a green thumb. If you would investigate, you would find that these people pour out a great deal of love to their plants. They care for them very well and even talk to them. They love their plants, so the plants respond.

Questioner: Could one ask for the help of the nature spirits?

Yaum: Yes, if you are in an area where they are in abundance.

Questioner: Suppose that we have a great desire to help someone with a problem that is very obvious, for instance fighting a violent temper. Do we have a right to use any means, and if so, could you suggest some way?

Yaum: The only way you could help the person would be to concentrate your thoughts to them of overcoming and realizing their problem. As you say, if you try to point out their problem openly, they would not admit it and perhaps get very angry. This is usually the problem; people do not, as a rule, want to know their faults. They do not want to recognize them, they do not want to admit to themselves that they have this fault, although down deep they know they have it and they use some sort of an excuse to justify their actions. So the only thing that I could suggest is to work with them on the mental plane in trying to bring them to the realization of the importance of recognizing and overcoming their problem. Because until you face yourself and admit that you have a problem and need to do something about it, it will never dwindle, it will continually get worse.

Questioner: Would you qualify what you mean by working on the mental plane?

Yaum: On the thought plane, by sending them thoughts.

Questioner: Like, "You are in control of your emotions or your anger"?

Yaum: You have to be very careful in doing this as it is a very delicate situation. You could do this and concentrate very strongly upon this person and cause him to overcome it, but if they are doing it against their will, or their own choice, some other problem will pop up just as bad, if you do it by controlling them. You have to work very gently and not force but through very subtle suggestions, you try to bring them into the realizations of what they need to do, what they need to face. So it really comes down to the fact that we are responsible for ourselves and it is difficult to try to help someone unless they want to be helped.

Questioner: After you face it and realize you have it, then you have to find the techniques to help you overcome it, for instance, the will to do it.

Yaum: The will is the great Master and most important in overcoming almost anything that you want to accomplish. You have to have the will to do it and if you have that desire and the will, you can do it. The way will open for you as you are demanding this from Universal Consciousness and Universal Consciousness must return to you the things that you demand from it.

Questioner: Do you think that acupuncture will be an effective method of health care in the coming times?

Yaum: Yes, it will be. It is going to be recognized more and more as will many other things. It is going to be a gradual thing. Your new scientific people must come forth with open minds and be willing to explore these things and give recognition where recognition belongs instead of trying to suppress everything so that they are not interfered with and can go on with their money grasping ideas regardless of what they are doing to people.

Questioner: Thank you very much.

Yaum: It has been my pleasure to spend this time with you. If I have been of any help to any of you, I am happy. I always enjoy my time here with you and I shall return again. As I leave you, I extend to each of you my most sincere love and my blessings.

I ask the Great Ones to pour forth their blessings on you.

May you be able to absorb more and more of the energies which they are pouring forth upon you at this time.

Go in peace, my friends, go in peace. Go in peace.

Peace, peace, peace. ☸
