

Caveat: These communications are informative teaching instructions for those who seek to increase their understanding of themselves and the magnitude of the future lying before us all. These lectures are not of a religious nature but rather deal with the science of human potential and evolution. This document is a direct transcription from the original recording. Although it has been checked for obvious errors, it has not been finally edited.

Copyright © 2012 Clyde Trepanier

April 29, 1972

Zalhem: Greetings to thee, my beloved children. I am Zalhem.

I would speak to you for a few moments about a sense that you have and use. This is known as a sixth sense or the sense of intuitiveness. This sense has not been cultivated by Earth people, yet, it is one of your most important senses. It is important to your well-being, it is important in every step of your life. If this sense is cultivated to a point where you can use it and depend upon it, you will find your life much happier, much richer and much easier. For it is through this sense that you are guided by the Infinite One, it is through this sense that your Higher Self speaks to you. It is through this sense that you can be guided and directed on your path.

But what happens? Your ego gets in the way, your logic gets in the way. There are many things that retards the use and the development of this sense. So, I say to people of Earth, become aware of this sense, cultivate it, but cultivate carefully, training yourself to be selfless and not allowing your lower self to overrule the intuitive guidance.

Many are bring called to the Father's service in these times, many are being asked to do His work and His work is widely diversified. The Father works in many ways to help and care for His children. Too often we would like to choose our own way to serve, we would like to serve in a way that would bring us recognition, that would cause people to look up to us. And we proclaim our work or our service as being a service when in truth it is not. The Father knows in what way you can serve best and He will direct and guide you in that direction. It may be a lowly task but it is a task that is necessary to be performed, it may be a task that you do not feel that you are qualified to perform, But again the Father knows best what you are qualified to do. If you will but follow these directions, you will be given the enthusiasm, the strength and the Holy Breath will give you the wisdom and the words.

You may not receive glory or recognition in the eyes of man, you may even receive ridicule and condemnation from your fellow man, but heed not these things. Do not let them disturb you but rather pray for those who condemn you, pray for those who would treat you ill. The Father will guide and direct those whom He calls to His service, through this intuitive sense. Whatever your task may be, whatever you may be called to do, be sure that it is a call to service, then you can depend on His guidance. But always remember there are many, many ways to serve.

There are many who think that because they go to church on Sunday, or perhaps teach a class in some philosophy, that this is the only way that they can serve the Father. But I say this is perhaps one of the lesser ways of service. There are many things that need to be done besides these services. It is difficult to bring spiritual fire into the heart of a man who is starving. First he must be fed to satisfy the physical for it is nearly impossible for him to digest spiritual food when his stomach is crying for food. So, you see, O people of Earth, there are many, many ways that you might be called to His service.

But the object is, to recognize the call and respond when it comes. And as I have said, many are being called and many will be called, for the time is now, the greatest need for service among mankind is now. Those who are willing to serve, who have dedicated themselves to His service are being called daily.

Are you ready for His call. Are you ready to respond? Are you ready to lay down self and to step out on faith? The Father will not ask you to do His service without compensation. His compensation is much greater than any other employer that you could imagine. He not only compensates man on a spiritual level, but He also compensates him abundantly for his physical needs. These are His laws. As you serve and give, so shall you receive, filled, shaken down arid over-flowing. Yet, few believe this and few are willing to give their service, but prefer rather to use their talents and their strength to serve self. If Man of Earth could only awaken to some of these truths, how much different his civilization would be, how much greater it would be, how much faster would be its progress. Think upon these things, O people Of Earth, ponder them well and make your choice.

To each of you here tonight I extend my blessings and my Peace and I ask all of the Great Ones to invoke their peace and blessings upon each of you.

You have had here tonight during your silent time a great outpouring of love. I trust that this has reached the hearts and souls of each of you and that you will go forth with a greater feeling and understanding of His love and His joy.

Go in Peace, my friends, Go in Peace.

April 29, 1972

Yaum: Greetings to you my friends.

It has been sometime since I have had the pleasure of being with you, so I thought I would step by tonight for a little chat with you. Since I have nothing special in mind to say, shall we just have friendly chat? Do you have any questions?

Questioner: Could you explain about the Law of Grace?

Yaum: Grace is something that one must earn. Of course, we all know about the law of cause and effect, known as the law of karma. Karma will and must be fulfilled. As a man does so shall it be done unto him. Now, when one realizes his karma, realizes that he has karmic debts to pay, and attempts to meet these karmic situations in love and in understanding, trying to pay these debts willingly and freely, then he is granted what your churches call, or some of your teachers call, grace. Through this realization his karma is not removed, but it is made much easier for him and he can pay this much easier and much more quickly.

This grace is not, as it is implied by many of your religions, that through acceptance of Jesus Christ as their Savior they are freed from all sin, as they say. Sin is, of course, nothing more than negative karmic debts that one has accumulated through violation of the law. Grace does not remove the debts, but they are lessened. Many people have had great revelations who have been called great sinners, but we have all been great sinners at one time or another. Some people through revelation, or insight, have received an opening, or an insight into the greater things. Often these revelations do not make one a great deal wiser in the understanding of truth, but more, I would say that it changes their life to where they begin to pursue the better things of life or search for a greater understanding.

Now, one is judged by his efforts, or his inward desire more than he is by what he actually believes. I am sure that you can see in some of your great religious leaders today a great lack of understanding, as far as metaphysical understanding is concerned. They are very orthodox, as you call it, in their beliefs. They have little understanding of deeper things, yet they are sincere and firm in what they believe in and they live to the best of their ability, according to their beliefs.

And this, in the sight of their Creator, is all that is required, for as they move on in their evolution with the same attitude, greater things will come to them and perhaps not all in this sojourn. In the next sojourn they may make greater strides. Grace has to do with all of these things. Their past karmic debts can be relieved, but not entirely, for a debt once created, must be righted. I am sure that you will find, if you study closely your great master's teachings, the Lord Jesus, you will find this given quite plainly.

Questioner: What impact is the late Edger Cayce's work and the study groups having on the spirituality of man?

Yaum: This work, in its field, is doing a great work. It is a work that is meeting the need of a certain segment of your population and it is a very good and worthy work. To those that it helps, those who fall in that category, it is a great work, but there are many others, too. There are many levels of understanding so there must be many levels of teaching to meet the needs of all segments of your peoples. So, this in its own field is good, Edgar Cayce came primarily to do this work, this was his mission in this lifetime. He was one of the great prophets of this age. Does that answer your question.

Yaum: Yes, thank you.

Questioner: How can we know for sure that we are serving to our fullest capacity within the Father's will for our life?

Yaum: Sometimes one is required to serve in more than one capacity. In our service we must be careful in discerning. One should scan one's own consciousness very carefully to be sure that one is not doing something that they would particularly like to do because it puts them in a position to be looked up to as a teacher. A true teacher is also a pupil, they learn from their pupils, they are one of them, they are the least among their students. Your great Master demonstrated this among his disciples when he washed their feet. This had a symbolic meaning, that he himself was not the greatest among them, that He was willing to be the least. To be the greatest, one must be the least. Those who would be the greatest in the sight of the Creator, are the least. Those who dress themselves up in fancy robes and pray long and loud before the people their prayers do not go very high. They drop to the floor quite quickly, but he who prays humbly, earnestly and prays not for himself or not to be heard, is the one whose prayers will truly reach the Throne of God.

One can judge their service too, by the fruits of their service. This is the greatest way to judge your service, not by how much people look up to you or crowd around you and say how wonderful you are but what do you see happening out there in the lives of the ones you are serving.

Are their lives being improved, are they being raised up? These are the things you must judge by.

Questioner: Must one be responsible first to their children and their families?

Yaum: They must be, one must face their responsibilities to their family, to their children. You have accepted these responsibilities, therefore you must be responsible for them, but this does not limit one from serving the Father in some way, Even this is service to the Father if it is done in the proper way, There are many, many ways to serve.

Questioner: Shouldn't we feel an affinity, a rapport for the service we give?

Yaum: You will have this if you are doing the Father's will, if you are serving in the capacity that He has chosen for you, and doing it willingly and freely, you will have rapport. You will be happier than you ever believed you could be. Your rewards will be greater than you have ever dreamed.

You must become aware of the intuitive sense that you have, cultivate it by using it, Everyone has some awareness of it, even those who have no understanding of metaphysical things, or even interested in religion, will say that they have a hunch or a feeling to do certain things. They realize that there is something there that is working for them, but that is as far as it goes. They do not attempt to develop this. Intuition is one of the senses of man, the same as the sense of hearing, smelling, feeling, seeing. It is just as much a part of you as any of these of the senses. It just has not been developed. When you have developed this thoroughly you will find that this sense will work continually for you and you will be amazed at how you will respond to it and how it will lead you on the right path. This is your Higher Self working through you and you must become aware of this. You are coming into a time when this is going to be more and more prevalent in people, I am sure that all of you here have noticed this difference in your intuitiveness.

Questioner: Do we not also have to be careful of other forces guiding us.

Yaum: That is right. But one who is sincere, one who will have the right motives, this in itself will protect you. There is a difference between being gullible, in looking to outside guidance all of the time. One who does this is more apt to become influenced by outside influences than one who is looking within to his own inner guidance. You do not really need the guidance of others and the only reason that your teachers have to work with you through others, in this way, is because you are not using this sense to its fullest capacity. This is something that you must learn to do because this is as much a part of you as any other sense that you have and you can cultivate it.

Questioner: Can you tell us how things are between the Eagle, Bear and the Dragon?

Yaum: Things are moving on. It will be sometime before things begin to happen there. You see these are gradual developments; it takes time. But sooner or later the Bear and the Dragon will have their conflict and it will be very likely that the Eagle will be drawn into it. It looks, at the present time, that this will not occur for some time yet. Those who are working in behalf of your people are attempting to bring some sort of agreement between them, but to be frank, it looks quite hopeless. Man has not yet reached the state where he can work for the good of all men. There still is that great power among your people, that is working for self and for power and this is what is causing the turmoil among your people. If everyone would work for the good of all there would be no need for conflict but this consciousness has not yet developed among enough of your peoples.

Questioner: Are there many other groups, like yours, helping Earth people?

Yaum: Yes, there are many Orders of beings who are working in various fields. There are many phases, many levels, especially at this time, of those who are working in the astral, those who are working in the physical here and there are those who are working in other realms.

Questioner: Could you tell us if you are working in any way with Mantu?

Yaum: No, I am not. This is not my work. His work or interest with the Council is in the whole Galaxy. Earth is only a part of it, a small part of their overall plans and workings. I know of Mantu. I do not work with any new groups. I have been very busy in my own field and I do not work with very many groups as I have with you. Being busy is one of the reasons that I have come very seldom to you lately, but I have worked with you for a long time and occasionally I will drop by and see you when I can. It is always a pleasure to spend a few moments with you.

Now I must depart. I would like to extend my very deepest love and blessings to each of you and may each of you be able to follow closely in His footsteps, that you might reach great heights in your search.

May the love and Peace of all the Great Ones rest in the hearts of each of you.

Peace, my friends, Peace, Peace. ✨