Samuel: Greetings to you, my brothers and sisters, I am Samuel.

Many times in the past the hierarchy of your solar system, by the authority of those whom they serve, (we) have attempted to bring to planet Earth and its civilization new scientific knowledge that would be of great benefit to all mankind. In every case—with the exception of a few things that they were able to use for profit and gain—our people were rejected, persecuted and their work destroyed.

Now you approach a time when great changes are to come about in your solar system and with your planet. By and large your civilization is not prepared for this and mostly this is due to greed, self-interest and disregard for man as a whole.

Those of you upon planet Earth who are sincere in their search for Truth and who are attempting to walk in the Light, to serve their fellow man, who have concern, compassion and love in their hearts, these are being prepared to do their part in the building of a new civilization upon planet Earth.

As most of you are aware, you have lived through many, many lifetimes and civilizations upon this planet, who have risen to great heights in knowledge, have known many secrets of the universe and have used them. But these times are in the far, dim past and are buried deep, very deep in your memory banks.

So what is being done for these? They are being taken during their sleep periods into the inner sanctums where the Masters, those of great wisdom and knowledge, dwell. There these things are being taught and being brought up nearer the surface of the inner mind where, when the time is right, they can be quickly recalled. The Masters have ways of opening up this memory bank when needed.

You are learning many things, spiritual and scientific: you are doing things in these classes that would not seem possible to you here and now. These things are being brought very close to the surface and in due time you will have the opportunity to use them for the good of mankind and for the good of all men. Nothing must be done for the benefit of the few, it must be done for the benefit of all. All for one and one for all, which is something that is not very popular now and in the past upon your planet in this civilization.

Some of you who have attended these classes may have faint recollections at times, not quite realizing what has happened, yet you are vaguely aware of something having happened, which means that your awareness is becoming more keen.

You will find as a result of these classes, that you will be brought to certain information, certain books, certain writings that will be beneficial to your understanding. And as you read and hear these things, some of what you have learned at these times may be triggered. You may not realize where it came from, but it will be there.

Man is a very complex being. The mind of man has much greater implication than is realized by most of your greater minds. But I wanted to bring this to your attention. I know that some of you are aware of this and all of you perhaps, are aware in different degrees. So it is something to keep in mind in your striving for the higher Truths, but realize too, that great wisdom and knowledge, is not gained without great effort, sacrifices. All things come through sacrifice.

I ask all of the Great Ones to pour forth their blessing, their love to each of you. Peace, my friends, peace. Go in peace. ☸
