Mr. R.: Greetings to you my friends, greetings in the light of love and understanding.

There has been a great activity upon your planet by those who have volunteered to come from other planets, and a great attempt has been made to bring about a widening of consciousness by your people, to bring their consciousness to include more than this little planet upon which they live.

This is now beginning to show effect among your people. There is much more readiness now among your people to accept the fact that perhaps beyond this little world in which you live, there may be other things of which they are not aware.

This is dawning in the minds of your people quite rapidly, and this is as it should be, for within a very few years, your people shall reach into space and discover things that they have been told are true. That there are many other beings sharing with them this great universe, this solar system. And that space is not the great empty void which they had known it to be, but rather it is full of life. That life is everywhere about them, and that they are only a minute part of this great vast sea, as it were, of life.

They shall begin to appreciate the works of their creator, and once they begin to get a glimpse of what really lies beyond, a great reverence shall overtake them, because man cannot conceive of this great work of beauty without feeling a great reverence for the creator of all this. We, who have traveled space, who have seen its wonders, who have enjoyed its beauty, we raise our eyes and gaze into this great mass of beauty and give thanks and praise to its creator. For one who has the power to create all of this, including man himself, must be one of great love, of great beauty, of great understanding, and we seek to learn more of his wisdom.

Earth man, why dost thou not enjoy these things? Why dost thou exclude thyself. Why dost thou keep thyself in ignorance and in darkness? Come out into the light that you might see the beauty and feel the reverence. Open thy eyes and thy ears, and let his beauty flow to you—his understanding, his wisdom. It is all free. The only thing that is required is the effort to seek it out and apply it to your life. It is yours to have and to hold. Why would you wait? Speaking for myself, dear friends, I shall seek ever more of this great truth and knowledge, that I might enjoy life more abundant, as I move ever onward upon the path of truth, of light and of understanding.

We have come, dear friends, to extend a hand of friendship. We are attempting to serve people of Earth, to bring them into a higher consciousness that they might join with us and enjoy the things that we enjoy, and that we might move on together, your planet, our planets, our system, into ever higher and more beautiful understanding and truth. We would like you of Earth to be our brothers in understanding, to work with us and for us, as we will do with you, so that we might, as a solar system, build a greater understanding, a greater love for each other.

So come, my friends of Earth, join with us by creating upon your planet, a Brotherhood of Man an atmosphere of peace, of love and understanding. Eliminate hate, greed, and all of these things, and come, let us join together in praise and reverence for the great Intelligence that is responsible for us all.

And now, beloved friends, I must leave. I extend to each of you, my blessings, my love, my understanding. May the peace of the great spirit of creation rest in the hearts and minds of each of you. I shall return at another time when I find the time is right, and speak with you again. It has been my pleasure and my joy to again be in your midst.

Goodnight, beloved friends. ✿
