Zalhem: Greetings to you, my friends. I am Zalhem.

Does it ever awe you as you observe creation about you, as you look at nature and her perfection in all the things from the smallest creeping thing to the heavens about you? Does this not cause you to wonder how this could be brought about in such perfection?

Observe, if you will, the animal kingdom and the kingdom of man. Where could you find a more perfect vehicle? These perhaps, could be called chemical plants. Given the proper nutrients they produce thousands of chemicals necessary for the function and the well-being of these physical structures. They produce chemicals that man of Earth has not yet discovered. Observe your Earth and all of its chemicals and minerals. It has produced everything necessary for the life that is upon it.

Observe, if you will, the heavens about you. Was this not a great feat of creation? Each body throughout the heavens, when it is completed, contains all the necessary elements for its proper function, whether it be to maintain life or to supply energy to help in the functioning of the solar system or the galaxy of which it is a part. All things function in harmony, for without this harmony catastrophe would rapidly befall.

Now then, all of this was brought about by Mind. The original creations were brought about by the functioning and the power of mind. Whatever mind creates it is a part of, so if the Creator created you by Mind, you are a part of that great creative mind. You are as a single cell in this great Universal Mind that has created all things, and this is the one common denominator that binds all things together. Each, no matter what the station might be, is a part of this mind, and being a part of this mind it has all of the powers of Universal Mind.

Mind is ever-creating. New stars, new planets, new galaxies, are constantly being created by the greater part of this Mind, and as man, you are also a creator. Your mind is continually creating. Man of Earth is just beginning to discover what mind can really do. He is beginning to get a slight understanding of mind and its potential, but he has only scratched the surface so to speak. There is much more to be learned. Your civilization as it stands today, could not handle the vast knowledge of mind. Your peoples would not be able to comprehend much of this, and the true knowledge of the real power of mind could be misused and bring about more damage than good.

This knowledge reached a height in the civilization of Atlantis, where man began to understand and was able to use the mind to quite a great extent. This was the primary cause of the downfall of Atlantis. You began to use it selfishly to gain power and to gain control over those who were less knowledgeable. You see, when nature's forces are used in the wrong way nature will react. This is the law. It is not the wrath of God as some would have you believe. For if this Creative Spirit is one of love and compassion, how could he be wrathful or angry? In the creation certain laws were created and put into motion, and these laws never change. The law of cause and effect is a just law that will never change.

Man creates that which he receives. Soon your planet, due to the action of universal laws, will go through its cleansing. Man, through his creation has polluted and contaminated the air, the waters, and stripped Earth of her minerals, of her trees, and all that is good. So she must replenish herself, and she will react to do this, according to the law created in the beginning.

So, people of Earth, realize your potential. Know that Mind is your greatest asset and use it wisely. Create that which is good, for by so doing your life will be much sweeter, and your growth will be much faster. If you continue this lifetime after lifetime, you will reach the summit much quicker and with less pain and sorrow.

May each of you create always that which will bring you peace, joy, love and understanding. Go In peace. ☸
