

Caveat: These communications are informative teaching instructions for those who seek to increase their understanding of themselves and the magnitude of the future lying before us all. These lectures are not of a religious nature but rather deal with the science of human potential and evolution. This document is a direct transcription from the original recording. Although it has been checked for obvious errors, it has not been finally edited.

Zalhem: Greetings to you my children. I am Zalhem. What would you like to talk about today?

Questioner: Many people feel that all of the coming changes will culminate in the year 2000. How much variance could there be in this figure?

Zalhem: It is not going to be a sudden change when all will end and all will begin. We have been in the process of change for quite a number of years and will continue to be. The year 2000 is the year given as the approximate time. Between now and then, there will be many great events that will take place that will usher in the next age. Of course you have the ending of one and the beginning of another and there is a great overlap of the two. Around the turn of the century will probably be the most notably eventful time in the changeover. Many of these changes have been taking place for some time and are happening right now.

The new is getting stronger and stronger and the old is getting weaker and weaker, although the battle between the two is still very strong. If you will look back even a few years, you will see a great difference in the consciousness of the people then and today. This is all a part of the changeover. The old is dying out and the new is taking over. As has been pointed out by many, we are at a time now where man must learn of his responsibilities. He must start to learn of these responsibilities and to realize that he has been misled for a long time into believing that someone else can solve all his problems for him or that he has no great responsibility himself or that he can always pass it on to someone else. This is very difficult for those of the old school to accept. Most of them perhaps will not accept it in this lifetime because the old train of thought has been too deeply embedded into their consciousness.

The establishment of the next age, or New Age, is really taking place right now. All of these things that are becoming so prominent now and so publicly debated and talked about were only whispered a few years ago. Those who are willing to step out and let their beliefs be known are becoming more and more plentiful. More are coming forward to tell of their experiences.

Of course you will always have some charlatans who will try to capitalize on the new. In time all of those will be exposed for what they are and the real truths will win out. Those who are sincere and faithful in their service, in their beliefs and in their efforts will dominate more visually as time goes on.

The New Age is not going to be suddenly here. It has to be established and this is going to take time. It may seem as a long time, as you view time, but in reality it is not very long. In cosmic time, it is happening very rapidly. So you cannot pinpoint these things to a certain time, a certain year or a certain date. The timing also depends somewhat upon the consciousness of the people and how rapidly it changes. I am sure you recognize that as time moves on, things are moving more rapidly too.

A lot of things could happen in the next few years that right now seem far off. Often certain events may seem to be taking a long time to develop and then all at once there they are.

There are many things happening today that indicate the things that are coming such as your economic situation. Many of you expected it to develop into a disastrous situation sooner than this. You can see it is gradually getting there and it is getting there more rapidly all the time. You can expect it to continue.

In your last great depression you saw conditions very similar to what you see today. Often people get lulled into relaxation in that they think that this cannot happen. Things are too good right now. They are getting better not worse. But instead they found all of a sudden, one day, things collapsed and they found themselves in very hard times, very quickly. This could and will happen again. The indications are all there.

There are always those who will tell you that this cannot happen now. That things are different now. That this could never happen again. But it can and it will. Experiences of the past show that you have had your ups and your downs, your valleys and your mountains. Usually the higher the mountain the lower the valley cycles.

Questioner: When an individual animal ego has reached the point in its evolution where it is to become ensouled, or to receive a higher self, is this new ego considered a new soul?

Zalhem: No. A new soul is when the higher self is originally created. Many speak of "new souls" but they do not know what they speak of. The souls that came here (Earth) were created long ago and it took a very long time to create them.

These souls went through various processes of evolution. They were on three other planets before the moon. It was not until the moon that they became individualized. Until that time they were just a group.

They did not have any individuality. So those souls are old souls as you view them. Many of those were souls from other cosmic days and had been reabsorbed into Universal Consciousness. When this reabsorption takes place, of course, they lose their individuality. Eventually they come back as a soul again or rather some of the same atoms come back that formed it in the first place. It is possible that this collection of atoms might bring with them some of the consciousness of the reabsorbed soul.

This is a very difficult subject to understand. It is really not 100% understood by anyone. That is why it is so hard to conceive. That is why you hear from very advanced Masters that to comprehend God entirely is impossible at our state of consciousness. It is probably only thoroughly understood by those Cosmic Spirits who do the creating. They are the ones who actually do the creating. They are the ones who create these souls that we have been speaking about by bringing these atoms together. All of this takes eons of time as you view time. The creation of your soul, your higher mind, was started billions and billions and billions of years ago in your time. It is incomprehensible to our minds. No one really knows the length of a cosmic day so how would we know the length of time that it takes for that. But this is not our worry.

So I will take my leave. As I go I leave my blessings with you. My joy and my understanding.

Walk in Peace, beloved ones. Be Peaceful. So be it. ✿
