Teacher: Be at peace, my friends.

It is my pleasure to meet you new friends tonight, although I have been among you a number of times, you have not been aware of my presence.

I am a member of a group that is working within your city, and I have been in your city for ten years. My home base is Venus.

I and my colleagues are very much interested in the movement of understanding in your city, and I should like to tell you how we feel about this sort of thing and what we feel the purpose of such an organization should be. The name in itself implies what it should do.

Upon your planet today and in the past generations there has been very little understanding among its peoples, therefore, if your peoples are to reach a state of peace, of higher evolvement, a state of understanding, then understanding must begin with its peoples. A great amount of blame of the troubles in your world is placed upon its governments, but this my friends, is only partially true. The understanding is also lacking among your peoples.

If your organization is to succeed, as we should like to see it, then it will be necessary for you to promote understanding through the efforts of each of you as individuals in your everyday movement through life. For unless you demonstrate understanding, few people are going to recognize your organization as being what it implies itself to be.

In your city there are many small groups of people, groups that most of you here are not aware of, attempting to grow spiritually, to have a higher understanding of spiritual things, but so often these people are not allowing themselves to express as man was intended to express. Man cannot receive understanding unless he experiences, he needs to experience it. Unless he associates with his fellow man and uses the truths, the understanding that he receives in meditation and in studies of spiritual understanding, he will not really know, spiritually. He will not really come into an understanding of himself and his fellow man. For it is necessary to be in contact with your fellow man if you are to understand him, and through this contact demonstrate what you have learned in your search for higher understanding.

Man can receive only so much, then he must give, for throughout the universe there is the law, and if man is to grow, he must cooperate with the law and the law says that man, to receive, must give, and to give he must be in balance. Everything in creation in order to function properly, must be in balance and man is no exception. It is necessary that man maintain balance in all things. You cannot give what you do not have, but give freely that which you have in order that the law might return to you that which is yours.

It is well for people to meet together in small groups to meditate, to search, to receive, but also to realize they have a responsibility to all the people of your planet. Realize your responsibility and attempt to the best of your ability to fulfill it. Attempt to see the needs and do your small part to fulfill them. Realize that you are only one and that you have in this great sea of life, only a minute part to fulfill, but that minute part must be fulfilled well by each and every one of you if you are to realize the goals that are set before you.

I know that all of you are sincerely interested in doing your part in raising your own consciousness to a higher level, to be continually climbing into the higher consciousness, and this is as it should be. But the time has come when it is going to be necessary for strength to be increased in certain areas and this, my friends, is when the calling together shall come and the time is here when those who have sought the Light, who are willing to drop ego, personalities, differences of all kinds and come together attempting to be of one mind, bringing together their powers, their energies, and in some way—determined by yourselves—to bring about a better understanding among your peoples and to promote an understanding that will reach out beyond your present circle.

There are many projects that could be performed by groups of this type that could be very effective in bringing about better understanding among Earth people, these things can be far reaching. And if planet Earth is to realize its salvation, its people must be able to come together on common ground.

There are many groups of people across the face of your planet today who are doing many things in their attempt to bring about a deeper understanding of its people. Understand. I am not saying that this is the ultimate for Earth people, for this is only a starting point, but until there are grounds for common understanding of Earth people in their present consciousness, there can be no peace. An atmosphere of love can only be built from understanding.

We have watched many of your peoples in their attempt to search for higher spiritual understanding. They come together, form a group or an organization, and through personalities, misunderstanding, they fall by the wayside. This is partially due to a race consciousness that has been built by Earth people. A consciousness of self. Now is the time to lay aside the self, to forget it completely, for there are greater things portending.

Your planet is rapidly approaching a crises. The consciousness of the masses does not change rapidly. When I say the time is short, I mean just that. Now you may think in terms of months, but realizing how slowly, how very, very slowly the consciousness of the masses of Earth man has changed and when you consider the change that must occur in less than forty years of your time well, my friends, does it look possible?

But this is what must happen and each of you sitting here tonight can help it happen by going out and attempting in every way you can to do everything you can in your daily life as you meet and contact your fellow man to promote an atmosphere of understanding. Man, regardless of who he is, only does the things that he does because of his understanding, and we, as individuals can do very little to help other individuals unless we have some understanding of both he and ourselves.

There is power in numbers. While spiritual understanding and self-development is an individual matter, each must grow and develop according to his pattern, to his efforts. But in attempting to do something for the masses, there is power in numbers and any project that you undertake to promote understanding upon your planet, its effects will be definitely relative to the number of individuals who are working in and backing this project.

I hope, my friends, that I have brought to you the realization of what our feeling is on projects such as you have been working with. From our vantage point we perhaps see the need and the lack of understanding among your people much more than it is realized by those who are a part of it. We are doing everything that we can to help to bring about as rapidly as possible, in order that the latter days of your transition may be shortened. But we alone cannot accomplish this, there must be a great deal of cooperation of Earth people and therein lies the solution to Earth's problem.

Questioner: Would it be possible for you to work with us more closely. Give us more definite instruction, a blueprint?

Teacher: A blueprint would, perhaps from your viewpoint, simplify matters greatly, but were we to do such a thing, we would be violating Universal Law and in the second place you would not follow such a blueprint. When the time comes that there are groups that have developed to the consciousness of love and understanding, of oneness, of solid unity, there will be individuals—not of your people—who will work with you and help you in developing yourselves and certain systems of various kinds in your civilization, such as educational methods, scientific development, etc. The time for this is not yet. We have made such attempts in the past. We have found that Earth people have not been ready for this sort of thing. There has always been personalities who could not control themselves. We are not gods, we do not like people to worship us, and Earth people have not yet outgrown these things.

We have found in every case, once we have become known our work has been hampered. We have tried this within your city, but we found it necessary to withdraw some of our people, because their work had become hampered, retarded, because Earth people could not contain themselves. It is true, there are a very few we have found that we have been able to reveal ourselves to for certain necessary reasons, who have been able to work with us in small degrees and still maintain the secrecy that was necessary. However, as time passes and some of your people become more understanding of our position, we will be able to do more for you in personal ways.

And now, I feel that I must vacate this instrument. It has been my pleasure to be with you and perhaps I shall see you around.

Go in Peace, my friends, Peace. ☸
