(A talk at the Michigan Metaphysical Society.)

B.: Good evening.

A number of years ago, my wife and I attended a lecture on Flying Saucers at the Detroit Institute of Arts. Bud Guest had mentioned this coming event on his program, and when we arrived at the Detroit Institute of Arts, we found the auditorium rapidly being filled with an eagerly expectant audience. By the time the lecture was to start, the hall was filled to overflowing, and some 1600 people were inside, but many people had to be turned away.

The lecture itself was supremely interesting, and it brought me in contact with a number of other persons in the Detroit area who shared my interest in the UFO phenomenon. We began to meet in our homes as a study group, discussing and sharing information we had come across in our reading and studies.

We were people of diverse background, and our only common ground was our interest in this subject, plus a sincere approach to life and an earnest desire for a deeper understanding. Occasionally we took time at these meetings to pray for people we knew who were ill, but in general we functioned mainly as a study group. We were not pursuing psychic phenomena or trying to establish communication with other beings or intelligences, nor were we working with meditation.

However, after about thirteen or fourteen months of such meetings together, one of the members of our group, Clyde, began to have strange experiences in his sleep. His wife, H., was quite concerned about this. She'll tell you more about it herself. The rest of us were first acquainted with this new development when H. called us about 1:30 A.M. one night and asked us to come over as quickly as possible to see and hear for ourselves Clyde's strange behavior. We dressed quickly, I hurriedly took along my tape recorder, and shortly thereafter some of us stood in Clyde's bedroom and watched him lie there asleep on the bed while an outside intelligence spoke through his vocal cords.

But in addition to the speech that was coming through Clyde, there was a very strange sensation in the room. The room was fairly well lit with table lamps, neither too dim nor excessively bright. But there was a feel of high voltage electricity in the room. I am an electrical engineer by profession, and I have often been around high voltage equipment. Well, that room had the same charged feeling of being near high voltage equipment. We all felt a sensation of heat being present over the bed. It felt as if there was an open fire there. The parts of our skin exposed in that direction felt warm, while the surface exposed to the back wall had no unusual sensation.

The verbal communication coming through was labored. The communicator indicated that a beam of energy was being directed from a spaceship overhead into Clyde's motor centers, causing him to speak the information that was put into the equipment on the ship. In effect, he was being used as a loudspeaker. This mode of communication was used only a few times.

Then, as we sat in a circle during our meetings, we felt this energy come in again, but not nearly as strong as that first time. After thus sitting quietly for a short time, Clyde would begin to speak, or "channel," as we called it. We were privileged to be a part of this group meeting in the Detroit area for over a year before these communications began, and for a number of years after Clyde began channeling. It has been a very moving experience and has had a powerful, constructive impact on our lives. The group has also met off and on since Clyde and H. left this area to live in California and now in the Seattle area.

In conclusion, I want to say emphatically that the things Clyde will talk about should be of the greatest interest to you.

Thank you.

S.: We are playing this very low key, and as things progress, you will have a greater understanding.

This next chap was a very serious student, trying to find out "What in the world is going on," and "Who am I," etc. His dedication motivated him to be a prime mover in bringing to the United States the S.U.N. (Spiritual Unity of Nations) Conference. Through D.'s efforts, this event was held at the Fort Shelby Hotel in Detroit. I'll never forget it! It was an absolutely breathtaking experience. Speakers and representatives from practically every great nation on the planet were there. It was through D.'s efforts that so many people of a spiritual consciousness were thus able to participate in this beautiful weekend experience. But now, I would like D. to tell you what happened with him, Clyde and H..

Ladies and gentlemen, D..

D.: Thank you, S.. Well, I guess I was kind of trapped, and I think that is just about the truth. It started in the summer of 1956. I had played hooky from work one day, taken a soil sample over to the County Agent's office. On the way back, I got trapped, literally, in a thunderstorm, where I could not go very far because of the danger from trees and branches which were coming down. It was a terrific storm.

I sat still in my car and listened to the radio, amidst the crackling of all the lightning and everything. There was a disc jockey on at that time for whom I had a great respect. He was interviewing a man who said that he had been to the moon and to Venus, and his name was Buck Nelson. I listened to him, and I said to myself "Golly, how can a guy that is so respectable put on a cluck like this one! This doesn't make sense!" So I ha-ha'd the whole thing, didn't take any stock in it, and went to work the next day.

Maybe a couple of weeks later, I mentioned it to an engineer that I worked with at the office. He said, "Oh yea, I heard him speak at the Masonic Auditorium." From that time on, he started passing books to me. It wasn't too long before I was hooked.

It took from that time until about 1959 before I met with Clyde and H. regularly. I am very indebted to H. for being the one who very sensitively extended the courtesy for me to visit their group. Once I went, I realized I had found something that was very different from anything I had read.

We know that the truth of who and what we are lies within us to be experienced. That there are those words of truth, those concepts, that are formed in print on paper or by the spoken word, that have to be conveyed in a very precise manner. Then it becomes so clear, the concept is conveyed to you in such clarity, in such simplicity that it becomes the hallmark of a very fine spiritual truth. We know this by the way Jesus taught us. His truths were very simple, very pointed, yet they were very complete. This is in essence what I felt through the communications that were coming through Clyde.

I am very pleased to say that I think I cut my eye teeth of spiritual information through those communications which these extraterrestrials, other beings, communicated through Clyde to the group. So, over the years, which now amounts to some 20 years for me, it has been a very great pleasure to be very closely associated with Clyde and H., not just for the communications, but for the greatness of their way of life. They are very, very close friends, and I appreciate them very much.

I think that the hallmark of any great teacher is how he lives. I think Clyde has demonstrated that very much over the years. And we wouldn't even be here if it weren't for H..

Thank you very much, S..

S.: Does this sound like a loving roast? We are just preliminarily, if there is such a word, orienting you in how this thing started from various walks of life. We became a unit in the group. There are quite a number of other people sitting in the audience that also could be up here, but we are limited as to space.

In summary, this is the situation. Out of this phenomenon of supposedly being visited by other intelligences, a group of like-minded persons started to get together, dedicated to trying to find out the reality of this experience. We were presented with an opportunity to hear a voice channel.

I am going to give H. the microphone and ask her to sort of bring us up to date, more or less. Tell us how you got into this work, H.. What was your spiritual background? Where do you think that you are today, both of you, with all of the work that you have done and what has transpired.

H.: We started out in Unity, many years ago. That was really our beginning of a serious search for truth. There were many questions in my mind as I grew up, which my Methodist and Baptist churches, and all the ministers to whom I put all these questions could not answer. So, when I was exposed, as it were, to Unity, I found this really did have many answers for me. And thus we became active in Unity for a number of years. However, gradually it became apparent to us that there must be still more. I had studied everything in our culture, but somehow that wasn't enough. I became very restless.

Although Unity had answered many questions for us for many years, the time did come when we both felt the need for a change. We therefore resigned from our activity in the Detroit Unity Temple, and I asked myself, "What shall we do now?" After praying about it for guidance one day, I had an experience similar to D.'s. I heard about a lecture downtown by an engineer from Chicago, Dr. J. U., who is now in California, by the way. I mentioned it to Clyde, expecting that he would ridicule the whole thing because the lecture was going to be about U.F.O.'s and I assumed that anyone with any intelligence would never even bother to look into that subject.

Much to my amazement, his reaction was quite different from what I expected. He took the matter quite seriously and said that he'd always believed there was life on other planets. Though I've known him since I was sixteen, he still doesn't tell me everything he knows! I was quite shocked when he said "Why don't we go down and see what this is all about," and so we went.

Surprisingly, there were many intelligent looking people there. Numerous books had been published on the subject. We enjoyed the speaker, and it seemed worthwhile to research the subject further. So I was off and running, because I thought that if it is true that there are people on other planets who live in peace and in health, then I want to know more about it. I felt that such people must understand the teachings of Jesus much more deeply than we do. This gave me a new research project, one I could get into in depth—which indeed I did!

After this, I attended UFO. group meetings and there often urged people to pray for answers to some of the puzzling questions that arose for which no one seemed to find an answer. But nobody was willing to pray with me about these things until at one of these meetings I met M. and B.. These two were willing to pray with us, and as a result the four of us began to study on a more serious basis. We were sincere in our hearts in searching for the truth. We were not particularly interested in the U.F.O. craft as such. We felt that these were only a vehicle to bring the truth to planet Earth.

While thinking along these lines, we heard of a meditation group meeting within a mile or two of us. Actually, I had always regarded a prayer group meditation as a little odd. This was many years ago—22 or something like that—so we did not have orbiting in space then, or men on the moon, and any talk about extraterrestrial people was a very new subject. Well, we were finally invited to this meditation group, who had been meditating together for about a year, and we had understood that they had contact with space people. They sponsored lectures.

Dr. George Hunt Williamson was one of their speakers. At that time, he was the youngest man in "Who's Who." He is an Anthropologist and archaeologist and on the occasion of our first attendance at these meetings, he was a guest in the home where the meditation meeting was held. He had many interesting tales to tell—tales is what I thought they were, at that time! When it came time to meditate, the lights were turned off. This also was a new experience, since at Unity the lights were on when we meditated. But we stayed and we listened to their stories and to the tapes they played. Tape recorders were not then the sophisticated machines that we have now.

I was startled when they said this was a communication from someone who was from another planet, but we tried to keep an open mind, and they did seem to have very convincing experiences. One person in the group was an advertising man. He had been told telepathically that there would be a spacecraft over the City of Detroit at a given time on a certain day. He had published this information and had contacted the Air Force base, the news media, TV and radio stations and said this was going to happen on that specific day. And it did happen! It was very convincing to have these stories confirmed, to have proof that these things had actually occurred.

Nevertheless, my doubts about it all returned. It seemed to me that this must be spiritualism, and as such we could not accept it, because that was not what we were looking for. So we decided just to drop all that. And then we had second thoughts. We had been reading various books, but without finding anything that seemed to be just right for us. So we had reached a dead end. There was no place else to go. The members of that group were loving people. They believed in praying. So I thought I would go back and try to teach them, convince them that really there were no space people, etc. And with that intention, we did go back.

Meanwhile, we were told how these contacts were made: that it was through a beam sent to various channels. They used that word, and other words that seemed to me to be strangely used. But, as I said, we did go back to meditate with them.

A short time after that, we had been out for the day and evening, and Clyde retired before I did. I heard strange music, Oriental music, coming from his room. I thought he must be having a very bad dream, because we had, had oriental food, and I decided to awaken him so that he could then get a good night's sleep. But he said "I am not dreaming anything, why don't you go back to bed." So I shrugged it off, but afterwards I laughingly told the group about what a strange dream Clyde had. They were aghast and dismayed that I had not realized that this was a contact from a spacecraft. Well, I listened politely to everything, but I really didn't accept it. Then they assured me that this would happen again, and they instructed me just to be polite to whoever was trying to communicate. To ask them where they were from, and to do all the ordinary things for them.

To myself I said, "Well, that'll be the day!" Clyde and I decided that we had read too many books or something, and we should not pursue this any further. And we resolutely put it down as being a bad dream. Nevertheless, a few nights later, this happened again. I had promised the group that if it did happen again, I would not awaken Clyde but would let them know so they could come and make a recording of whatever was said. B. had said that he would bring over his equipment, a tape recorder, next time and would be glad to come immediately at any hour of the day or night.

So this time, I did call a few people, B. and M., and we sat down by the bed to hear this first communication. My son-in-law was there also, because I had called him first of all because I was really frightened. I still felt that if this was spiritualism, I certainly did not want any part of it, but of course I have learned better since then, because there are very good aspects to spiritualism also, as I have learned from my own experience. All in all, I was trying to be brave, but it was a most unsettling experience.

At first, the communication consisted of sounds, tones like chanting. I was totally unfamiliar with that also. Then as my son-in-law and I sat down by the bed, the tones changed to a speaking voice. All this time, Clyde was asleep although the sounds came from him. Clyde is normally a light sleeper, but even when I was telephoning, and although the light was on, none of these things disturbed him. As we settled ourselves, Clyde's voice said "Come in, KRO, come in, KRO," and then another contact was established, saying, "We are only testing." I remembered that the group had said that I should be polite, and asked them where they were from. They replied "Neptune." Well, all I could think of then was the Sea God, with sea weed all over him, and I said to myself, "this is not for me!!" and I went back to the telephone.

Then the other members of the group reminded me that my son-in-law was there, and it would be discourteous to ignore him, and that there was no need for me to be alarmed. Furthermore, that Clyde would want to know about this afterwards. So I went back down to his room and as I entered the room, the voice said, "Do not be alarmed, we are only testing." Then they signed off, and Clyde immediately awakened and blurted out, "What the hell is going on?" This was around one o'clock in the morning.

My son-in-law and I were busily comparing notes. We wrote down all we had heard and showed it to him. He realized then that this was no nightmare, but that same thing very strange was going on. A couple of nights after that, when we again met with the group, they were very pleased and proud of me. I had done the right thing in returning to the room. For myself, when the voice said "Do not be alarmed, we are only testing," I thought, "well, they are smart enough to know that I was frightened." But although the group was pleased with our performance, Clyde and I were not pleased at all. We thought that this was not what we were praying for. We were praying for insight, knowledge and inspiration and this certainly was not at all what we expected. So we concluded that this would never happen again, that all this was coming from the subconscious and was the result of having read too much, and although we were involved in this, it would not happen again because we would simply not pursue it further.

But it happened again nevertheless, and in the daytime, which made me more brave. I entered the room with pencil and paper when these tones began. We learned later that this was a matter of conditioning, of clearing the vibrations of the room, setting the stage, as it were.

When I entered the room, the tones and chanting stopped, and the voice said, Mrs. T.." Well that impressed me. I thought, "they're smart enough to know my name!" Suddenly I was engulfed by such a feeling of great love and beauty as I had never experienced before, as this Being spoke with me. He said: "We have been trying to contact your husband for some time, and now we need your help." Then, as I said, this wonderful feeling of love and light began. I am not clairvoyant, but I could feel this light, this all-encompassing Love. It was a most beautiful experience. I was aware that we were having a telepathic rapport and communication, but I wrote down these thoughts, because I knew the group would want to hear all about it. The message was long and beautiful. I asked why they contacted Clyde when he was asleep, because to me this seemed like a violation of Universal Law of free will, and in that case, I was not about to let it go on if that was how it was going to be. But he replied, "You have all volunteered for this work, but you have the right to change your mind. The Father does not force anyone to do His will." This satisfied me, and I could accept that.

The group asked, "When will we be contacted," and this Being replied:

"When you have learned to love one another." Then he added that he would be contacting Clyde telepathically at a later date and would speak to him about becoming an "instrument," which is what they call him. Then he signed off. It was a truly transcendental experience for me.

As Clyde awakened, he immediately felt the great love that as still in the room. He realized that something extraordinary had happened to me, and he was very understanding. We went to our daughter's and told them of the experience, and for two or three days afterwards, I practically floated on air from the lingering effects of that wonderfully spiritually uplifting experience.

As B. said, we could now accept this phenomenon and our role in it, and so Clyde was willing to go along. A few days later he was again contacted telepathically. We realized later that if this preliminary approach had been made in any other manner, neither of us would have accepted it. We would have dropped the whole thing completely, thinking again that it was merely a matter of our own subconscious taking over. And that would have been the end of the entire research project as far as we were concerned. Now I will let Clyde himself give you a brief summary of what followed.

Clyde: Well, I think it was about a week and a half later that I was contacted telepathically. It was a Sunday morning, and I had not gotten up yet. Thoughts were going through my head that I knew weren't my own thoughts, because they were telling me something! So I listened. They began by saying that they were the ones who had been responsible for these other goings on.

They did not use that exact terminology, but went on to say that they would like to use me as an instrument of communication, but that would require considerable conditioning.

They said they would use a beam of energy that would be focused upon the portion of the brain that controls the vocal system. It would work much the same as your own thoughts when they are translated from thought to sound. In other words, it's a different process taking place in the brain when you speak than when you just think. It is a certain portion of the brain that handles this transaction, and this beam would be tuned to that part of the brain. However, it would require perhaps two or three months of conditioning. If I would be willing to give over the necessary time for this purpose, when I was free to do so, they would proceed with this conditioning.

They also said that they would like me to form a group that would meet in our home. Prior to that, we had been going to someone else's home. They wanted our group to meet once a week and indicated they wanted certain ones to be included in this group whom we did not even know as yet, but that they would see to it that these persons would be there. This turned out to be the case. Through some very unusual circumstances, various others were brought into the group.

This was to be a meditation group. They indicated it was to be a closed group once it had been fully set up, because they did not want anyone in the group to set up negative vibrations in opposition to what was being transmitted, because this would dilute the powerful effect of the sendings and slow things down. Therefore, we agreed that once the group was formed, it would be a closed group.

I said I would agree to these conditions, and they began the process of preparation. This consisted of certain exercises. I could feel that beam of energy coming on, and it would be all around me. My mouth would open and close, and when I thought it was open as far as it could go, they would open it a little farther. There were many different movements of the tongue. One particular exercise that they did at that time consisted of letting my tongue out as it would go, and then they would bring it out a bit farther, clear down so that it would touch the chin, then they would turn it up and the end would go down the throat, not enough to gag me, but it would go down my throat. If you think that is easy, try to do it sometime! I learned later that this is a yoga exercise that is supposed to be a great accomplishment by a yogi, but I never quite mastered it by myself. However, this went on for several months. Gradually, words began to form. At first it was just words, then they began to form sentences. They would come very slowly. Now I would be conscious all the time. Never was I in any trance or anything of that type, but fully conscious.

As the words came, they would be very slow, and that could be a little annoying sometimes. I would sort of unconsciously try to anticipate the next word, hurry it up a little bit. As soon as I did anything like that, they would cut it right off and begin again—reconstruct the whole sentence—so it was a matter of learning to still my own mind and keep it out of the thing altogether, and just let it flow. This took quite a bit of doing on my part, but gradually I managed it and then it began to flow more easily. But it never is a rapid thing, because in the first place, they are not speaking into this instrument. They are thinking into it. It picks up the thoughts. The thought is transferred and comes out as sound in our own language, or whatever language the individual happens to speak.

H.: I would like to say that M., B. and some others who are present here were very effective in this conditioning, because, as the Space Brothers explained to us, without their love, their light and their support, this could not have happened. So we are very grateful to these people and those in the audience that we all worked together, and when those first words came, "Greetings, children in the Light," we felt that we had really accomplished something.

Clyde: Incidentally, I can describe this to you because about three years ago they opened up the visual for me. This had never happened to me before, but I know of someone else who has the same type of communication, and to whom this happened many years ago. Now, when they come through and everything is tuned, I am able to see over the beam, back into the control room where this takes place. When they first tune in, I have to go through an adjustment period. In other words, the beam has to be centered and adjusted. It can be too hot or too cold, depending on the adjustment, and they have in the control room there someone—as you would have in a radio or TV station; I call him the engineer—and his name is Athens. He regulates all of the dials, adjustments, etc. I work back and forth with him telepathically until we get this adjusted.

For many years, I kept this strictly telepathic, but someone suggested one day "Well, why don't you give us your side at least verbally, so that we know what's going on." So I started to do that, and that is merely the adjustment period. Then, when everything is set, the speaker will come up to this device. It looks a great deal like a square, perpendicular box which has a sort of flare on the front side of it, sort of like a horn flares out, only it isn't round. He stands before this thing, and it picks up his thoughts. They are transferred into that, but I can see what is going on in the control room. There are a lot of lights and dials, etc. They tell me that on the board they are able to read my blood pressure, pulse beat, respiration—everything is registered right there on the board, and they know exactly what is going on. If anything should vary, they would know it immediately. Sometimes people sitting close, if they are a little bit sensitive anyway, would feel the vibration. B. here has felt it several times, and I think S. too, haven't you, S., when you have been close?

S.: You know, you think that all the ideas that come into your mind are your own, and that you set in motion all the things that happen in your world. But strangely enough, two or three times a week we would manage to get to Clyde Trepanier's home in a very unusual way. Being from different walks of life, having different jobs to do, we would nevertheless meet in the afternoon in Clyde's home, without anyone having called us. We would drive over, and there would be another car or two in the driveway. And sure enough, soon there would be three or four or five of us sitting for a session. This was true even at the very beginning. Then it would be B. K., who has since made a transition, B. and myself, and on occasion D., and then we would work with energies, and we had no idea what was going on, except that we had a feeling nature.

As reported earlier, there was something like an electrical force field. We would tape record everything. If you remember, some twenty years ago the recorders were really huge. They had a green electric eye, and as you talked, or as a sound was made, the electric eye would pulsate.

One particular evening, the Communicator indicated that they were going to give us all energy. The purpose was to raise our frequency so we could use more of our consciousness. This was an experiment on their part, and they said they were going to tell us something that was not to be repeated. We all looked down at our recorders. They said, "We will erase that which we do not want to record." I said to myself, "Aha, now this is a physical phenomenon. They are going to perform something other than just voice transmission. They are going to control the tape recorders." I figured that now we've got them, for as the information came through that was supposedly not to be given out, the electric eye continued to pulsate to the voice, and consequently the actual recording was still going on. Obviously, if that portion of the message afterwards did not show up on the tape, this was really a very impressive phenomenon. This was followed by questions and answers.

I was very heavy into research into hypnosis and the psychic field at the time, and I was constantly asking questions about what was going on, why a man like Clyde was chosen instead of anyone else, etc. To this question of mine they replied that he had the chemical and electrical conditions within his body to produce this kind of phenomenon, and that if they threw this Iconiscan—that was the word they used—on anyone else, it would have a very severe effect. As it is, because of his chemistry they have to adjust things and condition him to create the proper situation.

They said, "You know, we are 73 miles above your atmosphere now, above your home." That boggles your mind! You can say someone is 75 miles away in Flint or in Saginaw, but 75 miles up in the air above the house, that is something else. With my sense of humor, I couldn't help asking, "Why are you delaying this, why don't you just let us come up to you?" The reply was, "This is why we are working on your energy fields. You could not take the frequency that we are manifesting here. But that is not our purpose. Our purpose is not to have that sort of communion. Our purpose is to teach you and make you aware of your true identity. Your planet is in a very precarious situation."

When this whole evening was over, we all rewound our tapes, and then we played them again. The voice got to the point where it said they would take care of our recorders for us, and sure enough, the tape was blank, absolute silence. So they had actual control of the electrical force field, and we realized how small we ourselves really are, and how great are the abilities of our Space Brothers.

A most important lesson which they have repeatedly tried to impress on us is that when we of earth create an unfortunate situation, we ourselves have to undo it. That is the Law.

Now I am going to ask B. for some further comments.

B.: Talking about the nature of the beam of energy. On one occasion, we were having a meeting on the second floor of our house, a few miles away from the Trepanier's home. I went downstairs for something while a communication was taking place. As I walked down the hall downstairs, one side of my body, the left arm, felt very strange, a sensation as though I felt a cooling and stilling energy there. It was just as if I was in it, and then I was out of it! I reconstructed the scene later, and realized that I was directly under Clyde at the moment that happened to me, indicating there was something very tangible to my nervous system in the process that was taking place upstairs. The beam was obviously projecting on down to the first floor, and I was able to feel it very distinctly.

H.: Once or twice we have had a clairvoyant visit us, and they said that as they approached our home, they had seen a great beam of light coming from way up, so far up they could not see the end of it, centering on the house. Then they were able to feel this as they entered the house, and they could see it surrounding Clyde.

We would like to say that while we were in the City of Detroit with these good people for many years, we also had contact with the Space Brothers and Sisters who were working at that time in the city and in the area.

After we were accustomed to this type of communication, Clyde became clairvoyant, which he had never been, and in this way he was able to see that each one of us in meditation always had a Being of Light standing by us. But he called them teachers or wisdoms. His own teacher then was able to communicate with him telepathically, and he taught him to leave his body, which was a unique experience. I had never studied the Eastern teachings. I thought I wanted to stay with our culture, Christianity, so this was a new idea to us, but it was a gradual process.

One time, some of you were with me. Clyde and I had grown accustomed to the fact that he could leave his body, and he said that he could then either stand in the room and know what was going on, hear us speak and touch us, but we were not aware of it. Or sometimes he would go with his teacher to another realm. So that night, there was one of those occasions that S. was speaking of, when someone dropped by, and Clyde left his body and a Teacher—they are adept on other planets and in other realms at doing this; this is a very natural thing for them to do—a Teacher had spoken to us and Clyde had left his body. Usually, when Clyde does this, he comes back within a few seconds after the other Being leaves, but this time he did not come back as soon as he should have. S. was there, and I was thinking: “What’s happening here, what’s going on?” So I said to S., “Let’s pray, let’s put the light around him. What will we do with his body? You have to account for these bodies if we are left with them.” I really very much wanted him back!

S.: I started putting the light around him, and pretty soon—I mean in a few seconds—he did come back into his body. I asked “Where were you? You can’t do that to us! You can’t leave me with this body without any explanation.” He began to smile and said, “Well, I was speaking with my teacher and telling him I really like it over here. Why don’t you stay there and let me have this body?” Then Clyde’s teacher said, “Oh no, you can’t do that. You have work here to do.” So that is the last time that he stayed out that long.

H.: But he did become, as I say, clairvoyant. At that time we were introduced to someone we later described as Mr. R. who was working within the city in the area, in the physical. Some of us have had contact with him. Some of the other workers here, among them a woman with whom we had contact in the physical, and you know this by their vibrations. You know this by the feeling that you have of their spiritual nature. These were very wonderful times for us, because they would attend our public meetings—incognito, of course because they were not able to reveal their identity because we Earth people just can’t handle that. We either want to crucify them or cleave to them so they cannot fulfill their earth mission, and then they are taken to another place of service.

Since we have been in the Seattle area, we have sponsored Dan Fry, and Clyde has made contact with a Being, Philip, and we have transcribed two communications that we have had with him in the Seattle area. They are in the booklet which we brought along. He explains what he is doing in that particular city. We had two physicists working in the group at that time and he really let them have it, answering all their questions. We felt this should be included in the booklet.

I thought that you would be interested to know that these Beings are among us. Many of us can attest to that. They are trying to help us by integrating into our society; giving us new ideas, sharing their light and love with us.

So, this is the type of communications we have had. And, as stated before, since the actual communications began, Clyde has never been asleep during the process, he has always been conscious of everything that occurred. Even when he is out at his body, if he stays in the room, he is aware of everything that is said.

The first contact we had was with the Otavana—a craft like a small planet—one of a hundred and 20 miles in length, and 36 miles or so wide. It is self-sustaining and they can alter the size of it. One of our first contacts with this craft was with Oxal, with whom we still continue to have communication.

S.: OK, I really feel that all the necessary preliminaries have now been done for you. You understand what has been taking place over the past twenty years or so, and how this contact has developed into making Clyde act as a sort of telephone connection between two worlds. Through him, much new and helpful information is filtering through to us.

There have been thousands of communications that have been diligently recorded by this lady here—H.. They have been typed off the recorder and synthesized for you in the first booklet, “Teachings Received by Light Center R.” That is the designation of their Center. Now there are many more Centers on the planet in different parts of the world, and they are also designated by a letter.

If you listened intently and are aware of what was said, you will recall that Clyde spoke to his Teacher. How many are familiar with the fact that all have their own Teacher? Those who are not, are in for a surprise, for there is someone assigned to you also as a teacher. They are in a higher frequency than what we have in this time and space, but they do exist.

Now, we would like to arrange a situation, as we have done many, many times in various groups where we could provide a suitable frequency to the Brothers, so that if it is their desire to contact us, they can come through Clyde. Would you like to have this happen? OK.

Telepathically, Clyde has just been informed that one of the Brothers will speak to us. As a matter of fact, one of the first Beings to contact us through Clyde, by the name of Oxal. So now, after the necessary communication has been technically established from their spacecraft, the Otavana, Oxal will speak to us.

(Public Meeting.)

Clyde: Greetings, Athens.

Athens: Greetings.

Clyde: Yes, that's right, we have.

H.: Athens is the engineer on the control board who will introduce the things that are being prepared for Oxal to speak to us.

Clyde: He just said we have a nice-looking group here tonight. He said they had their Iconscan tuned to us. That's nice. And they are well aware of everything that is happening.

(This was followed by instructions from Clyde to Athens in readying everything for transmission.)

Oxal: I reach you there on Solan Shan. I am Oxal.

Questioner: Greetings. Welcome.

Oxal: It is my pleasure and my privilege to have this opportunity to address you here. We have been in your skies now for many years. We have come here to serve and to observe. We are aware of the activities of many of you. Anyone who is attempting to serve in that everlasting light, we are aware of their activities and we aid them wherever possible.

As we stated many years ago, one of our missions here was to attempt to bring about a realization in the consciousness of earth man that he must make a choice. That there are two ways to go, and he must make a choice. Many have made this choice. Many have not. Many more have not made the choice than have made it. Many have chosen the path of service, the path of dedication, attempting to grow into an expanded state of consciousness where you become aware of what life is about, of what evolution is about.

I will not go into this any deeper except to say that many have made this choice, and others have made the opposite choice, to continue to serve the materialistic, the carnal. And this, of course, is everyone's privilege, for you were given free will when you were created, and man must be allowed to take the path that he chooses. Eventually, he will tire of the carnal path. He will come into a realization that upon that path he will never find peace and happiness. He will never grow beyond it, and he will change. But this may require time.

And here I would like to change the subject and say that everything, every individual, every planet, every nation, every race of people are continually in a state of change. Without change you would become stagnant.

Your civilization has perhaps in the last century, or less than a century, had more change, has experienced more change than it has experienced in many centuries prior to this. But as time moves on with a civilization, the change becomes more rapid, and the change in this century has been accelerated greatly. And it is accelerating day-by-day. In the next decade, you will see changes upon planet Earth greater than you have known in many centuries—in many, many centuries. This is because you are entering a cycle change, not only a cycle change, but a combination of cycle changes, for there are cycles within cycles.

A two thousand year cycle is coming to an end. The cycle that began at the time, approximately the time, of the birth of your Master Jesus. That cycle is now coming to a close. Also, there is a 25,000 year cycle that is coming to a close, a cycle through which the planet will go through a great cleansing process. The movement of your solar system through space brings about these cycle changes. The changes occur as you enter, leave, and enter certain areas of space where the vibrations are of a different nature.

You have been in the cusp of this change for quite a number of years, and one of the reasons that you see so much violence upon your planet today is because of these changes of vibration. You stand today, and have been for some time, under the influence of both the new and old vibrations. Most are not aware of this. Yet they have a great effect upon people of Shan. It has a tendency to bring out that which is most predominant in individuals. If an individual is violent by nature, he is apt to become more violent. If he is loving in nature, is kind and considerate, he will become more that way. So you see this is one of the reasons why you are experiencing much of the violence you find yourself surrounded by at this time. But this period is now on the decline, because the old vibrations are becoming weaker. And in a few years the subsiding will be greatly noticeable.

It also is affecting your planet. To some of you, this might be new, to others it will not. But your planet is in itself an entity, a consciousness. It has been, through the years, very mistreated. Man has not considered his Mother Earth in his exploits. He has only taken from her; he has not given back. He has polluted her streams, he has wasted her resources, he has been ruthless in his treatment of his Mother Earth. And she has become a very ailing entity.

Now, Nature has a way of taking care of these things, and your earth is now beginning to go through a process of cleansing, of rejuvenation, and many of her parasites will be removed through her convulsions. This has been on the increase for many years, as you are well aware of. But the increase will be greater as each day passes, and eventually she will be completely cleansed.

We are not willing to stand by and see this beautiful planet completely destroyed as was one other planet in your system at one time, many, many years ago. There are references to this in your religious histories, or what you call your Holy Books, but they must be sought out in order to be understood. But we will not allow this to happen again, for when this did happen, much chaos was caused in our solar system. Much distress and havoc was brought about upon other planets because, you see, your system, your solar system, is a very finely balanced system, and when one of its organs is destroyed, it brings about an imbalance in the whole solar system, and it is not an easy matter to bring a solar system back into balance once it has been disrupted. So you can rest assured that planet Earth is not going to be destroyed.

You have been allowed to have your wars, to kill each other, to bring about all kinds of chaos. We cannot prevent this, because it is against universal law for us to interfere in the evolution of another planet. But we can interfere when it comes to destroying the entity in its completeness. You say how could we do this? Very simply. We have enough craft surrounding your planet at all times that we could upon a moment's notice, stop every electrical impulse upon planet Earth. If we did this, how would you ignite your bombs? It would be a little difficult, would it not? We have demonstrated this many times in small ways upon your planet. We have twice before seen the danger of your destruction and were able to point it out to the right individuals, so that they might eliminate the danger.

We cannot do for you what you can do for yourself. We cannot bring about your salvation. You must bring it about through your own efforts. You cannot force anyone to do anything. You can only point the way. You cannot force your beliefs upon another. You cannot force your way of life, or the type of food you eat, or your political ideas, beliefs. None of these can be forced upon anyone. You can only point the way. Sow the seeds, and if they fall in fertile ground they will take root and grow. If they fall upon the rocks, they will be washed away by the rain.

But in the New Age which is to come, Earth man will be a different individual, due to the new vibratory rates under which he will live. He will have greater brain capacity. He will have a greater sense of justice. The feeling and consciousness of brotherly love will be predominant. He will not think so much in what is good for himself as he will think in terms of what is good for all. He will select his leaders according to their ability to serve mankind. Their spiritual growth and understanding will be the criterions. You will have, as is described in the Book of Revelations, a new heaven and a new earth. But first, the cleansing process.

Perhaps I might mention here, there may be some of you here who are not aware of this, that you will also have another sun. You will become a binary sun system. There is another sun at this time moving in towards your solar system. We told you about this, perhaps twenty years hence. And now some of your astronomers have discovered this object out there in space, which has them a little baffled because it seems to be moving towards your solar system. Some have already suggested that perhaps it might be a sun. Well,

I can tell you it IS a sun, and before the turn of the century it will enter your solar system. It will not take on any brilliancy until it has entered your solar system, but do you realize what this will mean to your solar system? It will mean that the magnetic center of your solar system will shift. It means that the planets and satellites of your system will also shift positions. And as this sun enters your solar system, it will take on the brilliancy of a sun and will take its location, causing the magnetic center of the solar system to change due to the influence of the two suns. And the planets will shift into new locations, so that the solar system in itself will be in perfect balance.

All these things are for the betterment of man. Fear not these coming times, but rather, as your great Master once said, when you see these signs, rejoice and be happy for you know that your salvation is at hand.

My friends, I think I have gone on long enough. I do not wish to bore you. As I leave you, I wish to extend the love, the light, and the understanding of my people to each of you. And may it soon be that planet Earth will be able to take its place and be represented by its people in the solar tribunal.

My blessings and my peace I give unto you. I am Oxal.

(Panel discussion after Oxal's communication.)

Questioner: Have the communications discussed the coming times when extraterrestrial communication and visitation will be a common occurrence?

Clyde: I think in the New Age, this will be much more common because we're going to be aware of this and there will be a transfer of communication and even visitation between planets, and perhaps other solar systems even, for that matter. It's possible. They've never described this in any given way that would say that we definitely are going to be doing this, but they're already coming here helping us and have been for many years. They come in different ways, of course, but I'm sure we will have this.

Questioner: Is Oxal an extraterrestrial?

Answer: That is correct. Yes, he is from a planet of the star sun Arcturus, which is part of our galaxy, but not part of our solar system.

Questioner: Is there any indication of how many planets there are in the system?

Answer: No, they never particularly commented on that.

B.: The communication said that the center of our solar system—the magnetic center, would change. The sun presently is very close to the magnetic center of the system. It is not perfectly in the center presently, but is near the center. Of course when two large bodies are rotating around each other, the center will be in between the two of them and the planets will adjust their orbits, as I understand it. That adjustment, from the way I think of it, from what I have heard of it, indicates an expansion of orbit. The planets will tend to move around the two suns and give room for the suns to have their rotation.

Questioner: Any specifics on the survival of the purification process?

H.: They have suggested that it is well to have some food storage on hand, and some water storage. There may be times when these things would be difficult to come by. But in the final analysis, I think that when the really big changes come, it will be a matter of being in the right place at the right time, and I think this depends a lot on the development of the consciousness of the individuals themselves. There are many that will be lost. I mean they will pass on into the other dimension or make the transition during these events.

One thing that they have emphasized a lot is that we put a great importance on death due to our fear of it, because it's sort of an unknown as far as most of us are concerned, and we put far too much emphasis on that. They said that making the transition or what we call death is just as natural as it is to be born. It's all a part of the process of life and is nothing to fear, for there really is no death. It's only a matter of a transition from one dimension to another.

Questioner: They're saying that their purpose is to help raise our consciousness. What happens when our consciousness is raised? What else is our purpose for being here in the first place?

B.: My understanding is that raising of our own consciousness is our purpose, the understanding of the Creator within, bit by bit, day after, day, year after year over vast periods of time is the purpose of the life of man. This is the great quest. The teachers from other worlds have said that toward these ends do all men seek, everywhere in the Universe. They're not saying that this happens all the time with every person, but this is the goal of life. It is really learning the nature of that which we are, because each one of us was endowed in our creation with a spark of the creative consciousness, and we're awakening to that realization by the pursuit of the study of the nature of life. That is my understanding of it. As we do grow in this awareness, we build a life which has more harmony, a more peaceful condition, because inner joy is the nature of the creative consciousness. The more we can express of that, the more that becomes the vibration of our world. This means then that we can live together in greater harmony. We then also have more time and energy to learn, which is essentially our goal. That is my understanding.

H.: One thing that is of primary importance which they have stressed is self-development, overcoming the ego, the carnal, and growing spiritually. As we do this, we are increasingly aware of being at the right place at the right time every day and every hour. Maybe D. would like to elaborate on that.

D.: The eventual outcome of raising our own consciousness through taking on of the new ideas that are spiritual ideas is that we will see the good in all things and in each other. Eventually, that brings us to a point where we ask, what are we going to do with it? And out of that eventuates a sense of wanting to give of oneself in service, and I believe this is where our pathways end up in being servants of the whole of this great Creation of which we are a part.

Questioner: What is going to happen to the animal life during the cleansing period?

B.: Clyde and H. have had pets in their house for years and certainly have thought about this.

H.: We are aware, as all of you are, that they go to another dimension when they make the transition, and they are in the astral plane as are our many loved ones who have made the transition. Therefore, they evolve in their own way wherever they are. Well, Clyde explains it best in terms of density—that we are all interwoven. The astral world is not here or there. It is among us, and we are going back and forth in consciousness or body. So, in that sense, yes, they are with us, in fact, as B. mentioned. I'm sure many of you have had this experience that one can be aware of his pet, his animal companion with whom they have been very close, as coming back or being here to visit us. And if you're psychic or sensitive, you can be aware that they are still keeping up that relationship, and that attachment does not necessarily need to be severed.

Questioner: Aside from the sense of the meditative process, what evidence is there that the voice coming through is not the result of Clyde's higher consciousness and is actually a communication from some other dimension and situation of life?

Clyde: Of course all these things are difficult to try to prove to someone. I know in my own case, in my own consciousness, what my experiences have been, but to try to prove in black and white to you that this is what I claim it is, is not a possible thing to do. You'll have to experience it yourself and prove it out to your own satisfaction. I would never try to convince anyone or prove to anyone that it was anything. This is something you have to prove for yourself, and you can draw some judgment on the material that comes through. That still doesn't tell you where it came from, and I understand your question, but there's no way in the world that I can prove it. Now, B. or S. or D., or any of the others have proven it out to their own satisfaction through their own experiences and so forth, and accepted it, as have many others. The material, they feel, is worthwhile, and if the material that comes through is Truth and in usable and beneficial to mankind, it really doesn't make any difference where it comes from.

S.: Can I ask you where you came from? Where the voice came from that spoke through you? The Inner Self is what? The All-Consciousness, right? We divide things. We separate and we start to measure, sure, think of the duality. But there is only one consciousness in true reality. We have a permanent Atom. We do have an identity, we have our own fingerprints, right? We have the individuality, but there is a separation only in a state of awareness. There is only one Consciousness manifesting through different entities.

When I used to sit and listen to the wisdom and the knowledge, I was always looking for the phenomena. I would ask "Why don't you appear in front of me?" They would very nicely say, "What would that prove to you?" I thought to myself it would probably scare the hell out of me. What we are really looking for is to get wisdom, knowledge and understanding. Everyone here has probably said out loud in his own bedroom under the covers, "God, give me a sign." Something appears to the right, and you pull the covers over your head. It isn't necessary to question. There's absolutely no reason at all.

I remember having a trance mediator in my home. It was Mark Probert. He spoke for three hours in very profound wisdom on the nature of hypnosis, and when the evening was over, a young man came up to me and said: "You know, I think I know how he does this." I looked at him and I said, "Did you hear the message?" "Oh," he said, "To hell with the message, I think I've worked it out." I said, "You've wasted three hours." It's really not important how it's done. Frankly, it is the nature of the message that comes through that counts.

H.: I, as his wife have witnessed this and I do not believe that Clyde's Higher Self, his God-Self, is capable of bringing forth this phenomenon in different voices at different times of different entities. It would seem impossible to me, so I have to believe it, because I have experienced it, as S. said.

We brought a friend with us from Seattle to Detroit. I would like you to tell, L., how you determined that the messages do not come from Clyde's higher consciousness.

S.: L. is a dear friend, and he is living in the Seattle area. He is traveling with the Trepaniers.

L.: I would like to say that I've been associated with Clyde and H. for only a couple of years. There are a lot of people in the audience who have been associated with them many more years than that, from the very beginning 22 years ago or so.

Personally, the phenomenon has not really interested me as much as the Truth and the spiritual truths that have come out of the communications that Clyde has received all these 22 years. I think you can take the information and utilize it in your everyday life, the idea of love and harmony—developing this type of spiritual love and harmony with every person you meet. If you can take the information that they have given you in this and many other instances and utilize it in your everyday life to help yourself interact better with the people around you, and try to serve mankind better through your service and your help, that is all the proof you need. That has proved to my own satisfaction the validity and the truth of the information that Clyde has presented to the people he has worked with for these 22 years. I think that the crux and the basic criterion that we should utilize in analyzing this situation is, how is it helping mankind? How can you utilize this information to better your life, to bring more health and happiness into your life? And to transfer this as a channel to someone else.

This has been very satisfying to me and has opened great vistas of knowledge, wisdom and understanding to myself. In saying this, I believe I speak for everyone in the group in the past, and I'm sure people who in the present will meet and contact and interact with the information Clyde is bringing through will likewise benefit tremendously thereby. We have booklets containing this material. I have read 22 years' worth, have studied and tried to absorb all I can of it. Of course, you read such things over and over again. There's always more information you can get out of these things. Certainly it has changed my life around and helped me to develop in harmony and peace with mankind. I'm sure if you really study the information and try to change yourself accordingly, better yourself, then I'm sure the same thing will happen to you.

S.: Would you be honest with us, L., and tell us what planet are you really from?

How many watch the "Mork and Mindy" show? "Nanoo"? Do you listen to the wisdom and knowledge that's coming through that? There are some great metaphysical teachings in that crazy show, and it really has quite a number of people listening in.

We're bringing this meeting to a conclusion now. We want to thank and give a very beautiful Detroit welcome to our Seattle group who are formerly from Detroit. Let's have a nice hand for the Trepaniers, please.

I also want to thank D. and B. for their presentations, and Victor for those photographs. And for Heaven's sake, if you meet a spaceman or spacewoman, don't freak out. Be nice to them—they may be a little heavy this year!

We love you. Bye, bye. Have a nice evening. ☸
