Mr. R.: I greet you, my friends, in the Light of Love and Understanding. I am Mr. R.

I have been present with you for some little time, as some of you are aware of. The situation, as we view it, upon your planet today is very grave. You see, it is impossible for us to predict the outcome, although the unseen forces are attempting to direct your world leaders away from chaos, it is not always possible.

Earth people are unpredictable, especially those who have come under the influence of the opposition forces. It must be realized that there are two forces at work. There are the forces of darkness and the forces of Light. Eventually, Light will overcome the darkness, but oftentimes much damage is done by the forces of darkness before they are subdued. The people of earth have fallen under the force of darkness so extensively that they are rooted deeply in your civilization and it is not an easy matter to uproot them.

As the pattern appears at this time, much chaos and great suffering shall ensue upon your planet before the forces of Light become predominant. A great awakening must take place among the people of Shan in order to bring about the improvement, the New Age that will eventually appear.

Your world leaders, your governments, have fallen under the influence of these forces. Therefore, the answer can be only in the people. In the so-called lesser people. The strength shall arise from these people.

Out of these lower, humbler people shall come the new leaders of your nation and of your planet. Among these people shall arise a new understanding, a new look. And from these understanding ones shall come the new age, when people shall be awakened to the knowledge of who they are and what they are. They shall come into a new understanding of themselves. They shall come to the realization that they are not a mere physical being, but that they possess great powers, powers that they have never dreamed of. They shall realize their relationship to their Creator. They shall know the power of man. Man was created and endowed with God-like powers. These powers have only become dormant in him, because he has allowed it to be so.

The race of men upon this planet eons ago possessed the powers of Gods, but through the misuse of these powers, man was lost. Again man shall have his opportunity. This opportunity is presented to man at certain intervals. The opportunity has come to earth civilizations several times. Each time man has failed with them. These powers were used in the wrong manner. They were not used for good, for the good of mankind. They were used for the good of a few, and this, my beloved friends, cannot be.

Godlike powers must be used for the benefit of all and must not be used to bring suffering upon others. But remember this, each of you, that when you have developed powers, make sure you do not use them selfishly.

The great civilization of Atlantis and Lemuria brought about its destruction in this very way. These civilizations had risen to great heights, both scientifically and spiritually, but gradually the powers became used more and more for selfish interest, for the benefit of a few, and were used to bring suffering and chaos to others. The consequences were, these great civilizations fell in ruin. Their people met disaster and perished.

Again this opportunity is being presented. It is up to the people of earth which way they shall go. It is their choice to either go down in destruction or to rise to the greatest heights a civilization has ever known upon this planet, for great things lie in store.

Even your scientists today possess many, many new advancements which are ready to be given to the people to raise their standards of living, to ease their toils, to give them more time for spiritual development. But these advancements are being held from your people because of the monetary system which prevails upon your planet today.

This does not present a pleasant picture. When the people must suffer, must be deprived of new scientific advancements because of the effect that it might have upon your economic system—surely, there must be a better way.

It is only through the people themselves that these things shall be changed. Therefore I say unto each of you, learn to know yourself, for not until you know yourself shall you know your Creator. Self-development is greatly lacking among earth people.

To all those who seek, we have promised aid, and we do not shirk our responsibilities. To all those who establish themselves in the Light, they shall not perish, regardless of conditions. We shall protect them.

Questioner: I'd like to ask a question.

Mr. R.: You may.

Questioner: Can persons who made their choice to serve in the Light get that protection and promised help? Are you able to help them too?

Mr. R.: Our protection extends to all who have made their choice and who are following. We cannot invade free will, for each of you has the will to choose your own path and we cannot invade this will. We are constantly doing all that we can for all. If our direction, our guidance, is not followed because of personal desires, this we cannot prevent. Does that answer your question?

Questioner: Is there anything you can suggest that we do about it?

Mr. R.: I think, my daughter, that your concern is somewhat greater than it need be. If you, as an individual, hold yourself high, follow the Truth that you know, and use the Light to the best of your ability, you need not have more concern. We cannot direct the path of another against his will. It is useless to try. Therefore, I would suggest that you, through your own knowledge, use the Light, and I am sure you will find that all will work out for the good.

And now, my friends, I must leave this instrument. It has been my pleasure to speak with you. My Love and my Blessings I leave with you.

Odina, Odina. ❀
