Special: Peace to thee, my children.

Beloved, tonight we have caused a concentration of cosmic energy to be concentrated here among you.

As I speak tonight, I would like each of you to relax and visualize this great force of energy flowing through you, through every cell, through every fiber. Visualize these millions of lines of energy flowing up your spine and down again. Visualize it in great quantities flowing to any particular part of your being that is in need. And, as you relax in this feeling, allow a great knowing to come over you, knowing that this great universal force that is flowing through you and to you in unlimited quantities, has the power to accomplish anything that you have need of. Let this complete knowing become a part of your consciousness and let no other thought push it aside.

Beloved ones, as you go forward in your search for truth, attempt to carry this knowing with you as a part of your consciousness at all times. You have been taught the laws. You know how they should work, but thus far in your consciousness you have not established a knowing. Where any doubt exists, there is not a knowing. You speak of faith, do you not? The difference between faith and knowing is, that in faith you allow tiny segments of doubt and fear to creep in. But I say to thee, my friends, once you have the knowing, there is never a thought of doubt nor fear. It becomes a non-existing part of your consciousness. It is no longer there. It has been wiped completely away, and you know that the law reacts and responds, because you know that this is so, and therefore it must be so. This is the power that will not allow any law to fail you. It is the knowing.

When you depart for a destination that is familiar to you, you have not one ounce of doubt in your being that you shall arrive at the point of designation, and thus you arrive there. Liken this to the universal laws that exist throughout eternity. These laws will act and react according to your knowing. When they do not, know that you did not know. Much has been said concerning this point in the past, but we cannot impress upon you too strongly the importance of the knowing. And, as you move forward along your path, you shall come into a deeper realization of this fact relative to all things.

Think well upon what I have just said to you. Ponder it well, and then begin to weed from your consciousness these tiny seeds of doubt and fear that are lurking in the darkness of your consciousness. And, as you gradually eliminate these seeds, you shall find new seeds of knowing replacing them, and you shall find the laws of the universe beginning to act and react more promptly to your desires and needs.

And now, beloved ones, may the peace and the love, the blessings and the understanding of all the great Masters reach you in great abundance, and may the seeds of knowing grow stronger day-by-day in the hearts and minds of each of you.

Peace, beloved ones, Peace, Peace. ♣
