December 29, 1959

Hatton: Children of the Light, I greet you in the love and the light of the infinite. I have not spoken to you for some time. I would like to take advantage of this opportunity to speak with you. It is my privilege.

This, your year of 1959 has been an eventful one. Perhaps much more than you know and realize. Many important events have occurred in the past twelve months of your time, both politically and geographically. The geographical changes that have taken place have not been of any great consequence, but yet they play an important part in the changes that are taking place. A great movement is going on beneath the surface of your planet and is gathering momentum day-by-day. It is beginning to show in all parts of your planet. A great turmoil is taking place in the atmosphere about your planet and this also is showing in the weather conditions you have experienced. This will be greatly increased and will become more and more noticeable to you as time passes. The year which you are approaching shall be even more eventful, even greater things shall come to pass. The activities of the celestial brothers in your atmosphere shall increase. In fact, there may be events take place in your atmosphere that will bring about some of the things you have been asking for.

We are attempting at all times to bring about influences that will improve conditions upon your planet and I might add that we have been quite successful thus far. We have been able to bring about a realization in the minds of some of your leaders, the importance of bringing peace and brotherhood to Earth people. An effort is being put forth by some of these leaders to promote this idea and I should like to state at this time that your President Eisenhower is one of these leaders and he is most sincere in trying to bring about peace and brotherhood. He has set this as his goal in his latter years. To promote his efforts in these channels. Pray for him, send him your love, your light, your help, for he has a great need of it. He is not without opposition, for the forces of darkness are always active on and about your planet. Their influences are also being felt.

It would behoove all of you to be aware of this and attempt in every way to prevent these forces from affecting your efforts. In others words, my friends, weigh your decisions and your acts to be sure you are not being influenced by negative forces. They are attempting in every way to bring about confusion on planet Earth. Confusion in the minds of men. Therefore it behooves us to keep our thinking straight, to weigh well in the balance our decisions, to take within all things. Meditate upon them and ponder them well, that you may act always for the good of all. Anything that is for the good of all cannot be from the negative forces.

Beware of the selfish interests. Beware of those who are promoting themselves for the interests of a few, for never will you have a Brotherhood of Man upon planet Earth until all mankind has within his heart a sincere love and understanding of man, until his acts and his deeds and his words are for the benefit of all. Man must realize his a oneness and when this realization has dawned upon him he will see mankind in a new light or understanding.

May each of you grasp this light and understanding, and may each of you reach great heights in your accomplishments of bringing understanding and love to man of Earth.

Odina, Vasu, Borragus.

I am Hatton. ☸
