

Caveat: These communications are informative teaching instructions for those who seek to increase their understanding of themselves and the magnitude of the future lying before us all. These lectures are not of a religious nature but rather deal with the science of human potential and evolution. This document is a direct transcription from the original recording. Although it has been checked for obvious errors, it has not been finally edited.

Yaum: Good evening to you, my friends. It is good to be in your presence again. Now do you have anything that you would like to talk about?

Questioner: Will you please comment on the Middle East situation?

Yaum: There is nothing to report there of any great importance at this time. Things are still very doubtful. As I have said, we still have hope of bringing about some type of solution that will be at least partially agreeable to all concerned.

Questioner: If it was necessary to intervene in a crisis, what action would be taken? We envision chaos if all the electrical impulses were stopped. Is this true?

Yaum: Not necessarily. When you had your first blackout there was no problem, was there?

Answer: No, but this would occur in a chaotic war time.

Yaum: Well, that wouldn't matter. If you were trying to conduct a war and it was stopped and nothing moved, I would think you would stop and think as to whether you shouldn't sit down and talk it over.

Questioner: What about the question of people knowing that it was stopped by those from other realms?

Yaum: I don't think this would be too surprising to most people, only a few. Most people would welcome an intervention of this type especially when they begin to realize the dangers they have been facing.

Questioner: Would many people think that it was God intervening?

Yaum: Many would, yes. Many of the less deep thinkers would say that God intervened. But no matter, lots of people say God tells them to do this and that. Many of your clergy say this. Does it matter whether God tells them or some other greatly advanced beings tell them?

Questioner: I think it matters a great deal in man's adjustment of his cosmic awareness and true enlightenment. It seems to me that it would help a great many people to awaken to a greater understanding if they knew the truth of these matters.

Yaum: I think it will settle itself very rapidly. We are not concerned from that angle.

Questioner: It seems futile then to attempt to have informative public meetings.

Yaum: Most of the people that come seeking in those ways would very readily accept something of that type, but many of your religious organizations will say that God intervened. But that doesn't especially change anything, as perhaps it wouldn't upset them. We don't anticipate any great turmoil from such intervention.

Many of the people who don't have any religion at all, as you say, would probably be very baffled by this type of thing but I don't think it would throw them into a great panic.

It would be impossible to inform the whole world—those who are of a mind not to listen to your type of explanation and teachings.

Questioner: Would you please tell us of the three previous "interventions" that Oxal referred to?

Yaum: The deep water testing and stockpiling of atomic energies was not an intervention as much as a warning which was heeded. I am not sure of what Oxal was referring to about the third one. Perhaps this could have been a slight mistake or error. Sometimes we may make a slight mistake of this type in using a number and I think you know how this happens. Lots of times you catch yourself and can correct it, then there are times when you do not. I would rather think that perhaps this might be something of this type as I cannot think of another time, although there may be one that I'm not familiar with.

Questioner: Did an "intervention" occur in the Israeli situation?

Yaum: I do not think there was any occurrence there that could be called an intervention. Battles often change. Sometimes one seems to be winning the battle and then it can change the other way.

Questioner: Could that be due to outside influences?

Yaum: Yes, it could be. You see it is impossible to know everything that goes on or everything that everyone says and all that.

Questioner: Will you please comment on hallucinatory drugs used to raise ones consciousness? We were discussing the karmic debts that could be incurred by indiscriminately promoting the use of them.

Yaum: Yes, if this is done indiscriminately, it can bring about some unpleasant karma for those who do so. But the overall picture of the drug flap, as you call such things, is a thing that needed to come about at that time, or at this time in history, or in the evolution of man. Because it helped man to realize the potentials of his mind and did a great deal to awaken mankind to these things.

But to continue to use and depend upon drugs is not a good thing because it is necessary for man to develop his own abilities. If you would depend upon the drug or any artificial method, you would never develop your own wisdom and knowledge. Certain drugs can awaken man to the potentials of his mind.

Of course these things have been used down through time but mostly by those who had enough wisdom to use them only in therapeutic cases. I would not recommend that anyone become dependent upon anything of this type. Any prolonged use over a long period of time would be bound to be detrimental to both the physical and the mental and eventually would retard ones spiritual growth rather than enhance it.

Questioner: Would it be all right to use it for inspiration as the person we are referring to did, and who received ideas for three books?

Yaum: Under controlled conditions and for limited periods of time there are certain types of drugs that could perhaps be beneficial, but only for short periods.

Questioner: As you know we have been aware of many so-called new ideas, from different schools of thought, that are gaining great popularity. Some of them say that there is no such thing as reincarnation, there is no past or future, etc. Will you comment on this?

Yaum: Oh, you are going to be bombarded by all kinds of things from now on. And of course in many of these explanations, if you read them carefully, you will find there is a great deal of double talk. In one reference they say it doesn't exist and in the next reference they are referring to a past life or a philosophy of the future or something of that type. So you are getting a great deal of double talk of the type which is confusing rather than enhancing the understanding of the people.

Questioner: It is amazing that so many people who have been long time students, can accept these new books, teachings.

Yaum: Of course, to learn something new and to be one of the few to know this and expound about it, is very inflating to their ego, and often they don't take these things seriously enough to research and determine whether it is Truth or not.

By and large Truth should be quite simple, understandable to anyone. There is no reason for it to become very complex and complicated. The original Divine Inspired Writings were given in such a simple form that even a child of twelve or fourteen years of age could understand them.

Yet many of your teachings that are coming out now are so complicated that no one can understand them.

Questioner: But people think they understand them.

Yaum: Well, this is what inflates their ego, to think that they have something that others can't understand, only they can understand.

Questioner: This isn't true of Findhorn, is it?

Yaum: No, Findhorn was brought about to demonstrate some points to men, both physical and spiritual.

Questioner: Haven't you said, Yaum, that we should create our own Findhorn right where we are?

Yaum: Everyone doesn't have to go to Findhorn. This would be impossible, you couldn't have the whole world at Findhorn. But this was done as a demonstration of what can be done. But this is not to say that they have all the Truth either. And if they begin to get their ego to the point where they feel that they have all of the Truth and no one else has any, they will fall, too. They are expanding greatly and it remains to be seen what their accomplishments will be. So far they have been very good, very successful. There have been many mistakes made. They have not been 100% right. But it is not expected of them to be 100% right. Everyone must do the best they can where they are if they are to grow.

It is nice to study and learn about these things and take the lessons that are given. And it is nice if you have the resources and time to go and visit there and see for yourself. There is nothing wrong with that, but everyone can't do that, and this does not mean that we cannot grow and advance on the spiritual path. There are many paths to travel and we cannot all travel on the same path and we never will.

Questioner: Do you have any information or guidance for our friend, (name)?

Yaum: I should like to send my greetings to our brother (name). We are aware of his work there. There have been many who have benefitted from his society as you call it. I think that it is necessary when one is operating something of that type, to be very cautious in what they teach and allow to be taught by those who teach there. One should make sure that they are not going to teach something that is going to be harmful and detrimental to others. And above all I think we have to be cautious in giving people things or trying to give them understanding that they cannot handle.

First graders must go to first grade first and so on. But I cannot advise him on how to run his organization.

This is something that he has to decide for himself or among his colleagues. But they have done some good work there and they have done some work that has not been especially beneficial to others, but there is bound to be some of that. When you begin to explore all of the fields that are being explored now, you will find that some are beneficial and good and others are not.

Questioner: Is there a particular field that should not be explored?

Yaum: I didn't say that it is not good to explore, but you need to explore these things and determine what is useable and beneficial and what is not. There are many things that are interesting but not beneficial, if you know what I mean, and you can spend a lot time on some of these things when the time could have been spent much better in developing oneself, or learning to do something that would benefit oneself, or give one a better understanding of oneself, or in serving your fellow man in some way that would be beneficial to mankind.

Questioner: Would you care to say anything to our friend here?

Yaum: He is following his path and each of us must decide where we want to go on that path, and how much effort we want to put into it, and what path we want to travel, as this is a matter of individual decision. One must review oneself, ones accomplishments and determine where one stands and where one wants to go. Then investigate the path you want to travel so you know what is necessary for to do or what you may be apt to encounter.

But I have no right to tell you what path you should take, this must be your own decision. It is not right that I or anyone should try to influence the evolution of another. For each person travels his own path at his own speed and on his own time and all of the Great Teachers know and realize this.

Questioner: Have you ever heard of the "Adamic Powers?"

Yaum: No, I don't think I have ever heard that terminology used in reference to any special powers. I have heard it used in relation to races, as the Adamic race, but not as powers. Can you explain further?

Answer: It was said in a dream that I had.

Yaum: Ofttimes dreams use symbols, in fact they are used a great deal. That is the way the subconscious talks to the conscious, through symbols, because it doesn't have words. Now I don't know but this perhaps could be a type of symbol. Did you actually hear the words?

Answer: Yes, the words were that I would have true "Adamic Powers."

Yaum: Well, maybe they had a different name for the power. Sometimes individuals develop their own terminologies for some things and perhaps this was an individual who coined his own phrase concerning something. I don't know, but I have never heard that terminology used. Was this referring to spiritual powers?

Answer: I don't know.

Yaum: I have never heard spiritual powers referred in that way. There are many sources from which these things can come from and the only way you can determine their worth is to see whether or not they correct. So sometimes it is necessary to wait and see what happens, if anything.

Well, my friends, I must leave you now. It has been my privilege to come among you.

As I leave, I would like to extend to each of you my blessings and my love.

I ask all of the Great Ones to pour forth their blessings and their love to each of you.

Go in peace, my friends, go in peace. Peace, peace. ☸
