Teacher: Greetings to thee, my beloved children. My peace give I unto thee.

What seek ye, beloved ones?

Do you truly seek to do the will of the Father?

Can you say in your heart that you are willing and ready to do His will?

Have you really considered what this means?

Are you willing to put your service to Him above all else?

Can you give to Him your devotion?

Many expound that they do wish to do this but they are found lacking when it comes to putting it into practice, to truly deliver.

If you truly want to serve your Heavenly Father, then pray to him daily, offering yourself to Him in complete dedication.

Ask your Master to show you the way.

Ask Him to come into your heart and lead you into the path where you can best serve your God.

Go about your daily tasks thanking and praising God in all that you do and all that you say.

Try to be ever mindful of the opportunities that He will lead you to, where you can serve Him, where you can do His will.

Pray constantly that you might be filled with the strength, the courage and the wisdom to carry out His will.

Ask constantly that you might be filled with His love.

Ask that the Holy Breath might breathe into you Her wisdom and Her strength.

If you do this in full dedication, in all sincerity, you will find your life taking on a new course. You will find your days becoming filled with joy, with peace and with love that you never knew existed. For when you are truly following the will of the Father you are bound to be filled with love and peace and joy.

So, beloved ones, ask your Master, Jesus the Christ, to take your hand, to lead you down His path and to fill your heart with his love, He will show you the way, He will take your hand and He will lead you on. He is ever mindful and aware of those of His children who are truly seeking, whose hearts are crying out for His love and His peace.

Peace be with thee, beloved children. May His peace and love dwell in your hearts now and evermore.
Peace, peace, peace. ☸
