

Caveat: These communications are informative teaching instructions for those who seek to increase their understanding of themselves and the magnitude of the future lying before us all. These lectures are not of a religious nature but rather deal with the science of human potential and evolution. This document is a direct transcription from the original recording. Although it has been checked for obvious errors, it has not been finally edited.

Copyright © 2012 Clyde Trepanier

March 2, 1981

Nekiah: Greetings to you, my children, I am Nekiah.

My colleagues and I have been in the vicinity for a short time conferring with those Teachers of Circle R and others, in regard to work that is going to be done in the near future.

I have been asked by your Circle Teachers to say a few words to you at this time. So with the consent of the boy here and Anthon, I will honor this request.

I understand that among you are those who have given thought to place their foot upon the Path, some who think perhaps they have already started to trod the Path, and even some who definitely have placed their foot upon the Path. To those who are thinking in this direction, I should like to say a few words. Before you do this, be sure it is what you want. Be sure that you are willing to make the sacrifices that are necessary, as it will bring about in a short time many changes in your lifestyle.

You will be faced with some very hard decisions. Be sure that you are willing to make the changes that are necessary to accomplish this, for better it be that you do not attempt to trod that Path than to trod partway and fail. It is, my friends, a serious matter, one that is not to be considered lightly. You will have many changes to make. Some of these changes you may not be willing to make.

So, my friends, make these determinations before you start your journey, weigh the hazards of the journey and be sure that this is what you want. Often we think we want something and then we find that is not what we want. We find later that the sacrifices that we must make are too great. We are not willing to give up the desires of the personalities, as is stated in the Rules which were given to you. Suddenly it dawns upon you that the urge is too great in us for our personal desires, as that lower nature cries out, "Satisfy me, satisfy me. I must have these things, my senses must be satisfied."

So unless you are willing to make the efforts, the all-out efforts to master this lower nature that has for so long been the dominate power within, then think well, my friends, consider what it means to place your foot upon the Path. And if you do think that you are not ready, then do not attempt it. Perhaps you need more time for preparation. If you understand what is necessary to prepare for these things, then and then only will you be able to make the proper decision. There is much to be learned, much to be understood.

Your planet and your civilization is now passing through a rapid change. The old is fading away and the new is coming forth. Ask yourself if you are willing to accept the new and let the old fall by the wayside? The old religions are passing away as has happened at the change of other ages, and new information, new knowledge is coming forth. The New Age will be known as the "Age of Truth," when man is ready to learn about himself, to come into a greater understanding of himself.

He will learn what his purpose is here in this life and what he needs to accomplish, what he is up against, what he needs to face. These things are coming about. Not that these truths have not been around since time began, but only a few have been able to use them and to understand them. As man, through age after age, evolves to a higher state of evolution, he can be given new and more advanced knowledge, both scientific and spiritual. In reality there is no separation. But man must have and develop within himself the wisdom to use the greater knowledge. Knowledge without wisdom can be very dangerous, as has already become evident in your civilization.

So, my friends, when you seek or pray, as you put it, seek wisdom as well as knowledge, as they go hand in hand. But the problem seems to be that with most people, their main thrust is for knowledge rather than wisdom. Wisdom is the foundation of knowledge and without it knowledge can become very dangerous and destructive.

You see this going on in your civilization today, as there are many among you who have gained a little knowledge and immediately they think that they have become all-wise. They want to spread their knowledge, to teach others but they know not what they do. They find situations developing from their teachings which they had not anticipated, and their knowledge is not enough to know how to handle these situations. They were not wise enough to know that these situations might develop in some, that many might be damaged, rather than helped. So, you see their knowledge did more harm than good because they had not the wisdom to use the knowledge that they had.

What many of these teachers do not realize is that they are karmically responsible for that which they teach. If they teach without wisdom they are going to be held responsible for the damage that they do karmically, so many of them are building karmic debts that will take them a long, long time to pay.

So, my friends, beware. Gain wisdom above all things and use wisdom in your every action, and if you do this the reaction will be good. If you do not do this, the reaction will be hazardous. So keep an open mind, gain the knowledge, the understanding, but above all, ask continually that you gain the wisdom to handle the knowledge that has become yours.

The new age will be known as the "Age of Truth," and many falsehoods of the past will be exposed and the truth will predominate. It is not going to be easy for some to accept the truth for they have lived in the shadow of myths for so long, but these will all be cleared away and a clear picture will be given. A brotherhood of man must be born, a brotherhood of service to each other. Truth must prevail, so be ready for change. Man is going to grow up, he is going to come out of this unreal world into a world of reality, into a world of truth, where falsehoods will not stand. They cannot stand, for truth shall be the prevailing force.

Under this force a civilization will be born, a civilization of brotherly love, where all things shall take place for the good of all. There will be no special interest groups. There will be no need to gather power. Man will have all that he needs and will not want more. He will not want to dominate his brother man, he will want to share all things with him. But on top of this, man will also come into a realization of his responsibility to his fellow man and to himself. There is little of this in your present civilization. Avoiding responsibility has become a great art in your civilization and this too, must pass.

Now, my friends, I think I have spent enough time expounding here, and as I leave I want to extend to each of you my blessings and my joy.

May the love and blessings of all the Great Ones come flowing to each of you now. May that love and joy engulf you and surround you. May it penetrate every cell, every atom of your being.

Go in peace, beloved ones, go in peace. I go.

(Clyde describes Nekiah and his friends.)

Clyde: With Nekiah were two other beings. All were about six feet tall. While Nekiah was speaking to us, they were sending energies to us. All their complexions were somewhat darker than ours. They all had dark beards which were very silky. They wore high headgear with fancy work woven into it.

Nekiah's robe was medium blue with much fancy work on it. The other two beings wore pale rose robes. All wore golden sashes. ✽