

Caveat: These communications are informative teaching instructions for those who seek to increase their understanding of themselves and the magnitude of the future lying before us all. These lectures are not of a religious nature but rather deal with the science of human potential and evolution. This document is a direct transcription from the original recording. Although it has been checked for obvious errors, it has not been finally edited.

Copyright © 2012 Clyde Trepanier

February 5, 1977

Samuel: Greetings to you, my brothers and sisters, I am Samuel.

I should like to touch briefly upon the subjects that you discussed here tonight. You spoke of the mixing of the blood of the races and what the results of this might be.

If a lot of this takes place in a race, it weakens the blood of that race and thus weakens the race itself and the morality of the race. But over and above that, the soul that occupies a body that is a result of crossbreeding, will make very little, if any, spiritual advancement in that lifetime. Often the souls that occupy these bodies have done so for a karmic reason. Perhaps they were the cause of a crossbreeding in another lifetime and in this one they are the effect. But this is not nature's way. If you take a good look at nature, you will discover that this does not happen in nature unless it is brought about by man. The animal kingdom does not crossbreed. The bear does not crossbreed with the lion, and neither do any of the other species in their natural habitat, for this is not as nature intended.

Each root race was created to be that race as was each in the animal kingdom created to be that which it was created to be. Only man has brought about these changes. So you see, if you are to follow nature and cooperate and be in harmony with her, then you do not do the things that are against her.

Questioner: Does this apply to vegetables, fruits, grains, et cetera?

Samuel: Yes, the nutritive value will be the greatest if each is kept to its own. Now in regard to your discussion about the various levels of life, I should like to say that it is very difficult for us to explain to man, in the physical, chemical bodies that you function in and the way in which you function—which makes it difficult to try to make clear many of these things.

You see, you communicate in words and it is very difficult to explain some things in words for you must have a word for each step. You have the word astral that you use for your souls who are incarnating back and forth from Earth to what you call the astral plane. Beyond that some of you use the word etheric which I assume means to you—one who is on a higher vibratory rate or existence than yours or the astral plane.

So, as you use the term etheric, it covers a multitude of civilizations and beings. There are so many levels. I think perhaps a word that has been used before conveys the situation more clearly and that is to compare it to your musical scale and calling it an octave. There are many, many octaves of life throughout space, each one of a slightly different density. Yet to each one, their density is just as real, just as solid as is yours to you and their life there is just as real. Then, of course, each one of these, so to speak, is another rung of the ladder of evolution, of man reaching greater heights in understanding.

So when you ask from what density is this or that being, the answer is difficult to put into words. Some have applied numbers to these octaves, but this too, is an inaccurate way of placing each one. There are so many octaves of life throughout the universe that it would be impossible at your level or at my level, to describe them all.

There are many different types of beings who have bodies that are different than yours. Each one has the necessary equipment to live and cope with the environment and the octave upon which he is existing at that time. And each of you as you climb this ladder, will find many changes taking place with your being. You will not always have bodies as you have now. Each one is given a vehicle that is suitable for his present existence.

These things are not too important to you now for each must live in the now and cope with the things that have been given him to cope with at the place he now stands. There are great lessons to be learned on each octave and the primary purpose should be to learn those lessons that will move you onward from the octave that you find yourself in at the present time.

I would hope that perhaps I might have clarified some of these things a little more for you, but as I said it is difficult to make these things clear in words. When you learn to communicate by thought you will find that it will be much easier to understand one who is teaching you.

I leave you now by extending to each of you my most sincere love and blessings.

I invoke the blessings of all the Great Ones upon each of you here tonight and upon all of the members of your group, whether present or absent from your midst.

Peace, my friends, peace. Go in peace. ♣