Mr. R.: Good evening to you, my friends, I am Mr. R.

The time grows near, beloved friends, when each of you through your seeking shall come into your own providing you meet certain requirements. These requirements are rigid. Spiritual growth does not come easily. It requires sacrifice upon your part. It requires faith in the extreme. You shall reach these heights only through devoted and selfless service. Each of you who are attempting to be workers in the Light, must develop the desire within you to serve in every possible way, your humanity and your creator. This service must be given from the very depths of your soul without thought of compensation, reward or self achievements. It must be the pure unadulterated desire to serve, simply for the love of serving. This must be uppermost in your minds, in your hearts and in your souls at all times. It is only in this way that you shall gain that great peace, that great understanding that you seek.

Your faith and your belief, your understanding must stand against all odds. Do you have this faith? Are you willing to stand upon your truth in face of persecution, even in face of death as you know it? The workers in the light are rapidly being brought to this point. Whether or not you recognize it, the plan is moving ever faster. Time for development and growth grows ever shorter. Cultivate your awareness, tolerance, humbleness, for humbleness is very necessary in the service. Learn from each other. Learn to listen well and especially from the heart, from the soul.

Give unto those freely but wisely that come to you seeking. Waste not your time with the curiosity seekers, with the non believers. You have not this time to waste. Make each moment productive. Let that inner higher consciousness which all of you possess, be your guide in all that you do. Cultivate that a oneness with this great power within you. So that every moment of your day and night is guided by this power within you, this intelligence, which knows the right way for you.

Our work here upon your planet is being intensified more and more.

We are putting forth our combined effort to establish love and understanding among Earth people that they might enjoy a new, a richer life in the time ahead.

May each of you have a great success in your missions. May you reach new heights each day in understanding, and through your efforts, may you bring new love, new understanding and new wisdom to people of Earth with whom you come in contact.

I leave you by extending to you my love and my blessings. My peace I leave with you.

Odina, beloved friends. ❀
