Samuel: My greetings to you, my beloved brothers and sisters, I am Samuel.

I will spend but a few moments with you at this time, but there are a few things that I should like to cover. I know that you often wonder why we do not delve into the deeper mysteries but we have good reasons for this.

In the past you have been given guidelines, laws or rules as you may call them by the Master Minds who came to your planet at the beginning of each of your ages. These guidelines were given for Earth people to use in developing themselves and to speed up their climb on the ladder to perfection. By and large your peoples have not used these laws to any extent and to gain greater knowledge one must master that which he has.

We have encouraged man to follow and live these rules, to make them a part of his life for you cannot know Truth until you become Truth. Little is understood by Earth people of what man really is, what his potentials are and the reason for this is that man does not study self. I could give you many Truths, I could go into some very deep subjects, but you would only have my word, you still would not know. You would only know what I had told you and this is not knowing. Knowing is experiencing.

Man, in his purer state is Mind and Mind is a storehouse for all knowledge, for all wisdom. You, as Mind, are a part of the great Universal Mind. In your mind you have experienced all of the deeper things in past ages, it is all there. It was only lost to you as an individual through the downfall of man. Now as you climb this ladder, rung by rung you need to gradually delve deeper and deeper into this Mind which is you and there you will find the answer to all things and you will know. For you will experience these things one by one in the inner sanctums of this great storehouse.

This is why a Master Mind knows what he knows for he can trace back through these sanctums to the very seat of all knowledge where only the pure of heart can enter. Much time is spent by Earth people in listening and reading the words of others, and this is pleasant and much knowledge can be attained in these ways, but true knowledge will only be attained from the inner sanctums of the mind. And this is why we repeat so many times that man's greatest achievement should be learning to enter the silence and learning to go deeper and deeper into this silence until there is nothing but silence. For there you begin to enter the chambers where is written all of the knowledge that is or ever will be. You cannot know because someone has told you so.

In what is called the Mystery Schools upon your planet, these are the things that are taught. Many believe that in these schools are taught the great mysteries of life but the great teachings that are given in these Mystery Schools are how to find the answers to these great mysteries and where to find them. Once you have attained this, all knowledge and wisdom is yours for the asking. Pupils are not sought for these schools, they come, come seeking. Those who have dedicated their lives to these schools, lives of service, try to help them find their way.

So, my friends, practice this going within if you would reach the inner sanctums. It is not an easy path, it requires great effort and work and when you have reached the state where your sincerity and your efforts show progress you will find the help coming to you that you need to help you further in your progress. The path is not a short one. It is a long and narrow road and requires the greatest of discipline and dedication. We do not recommend that one seek this path unless they are willing to make the sacrifices and to endure the efforts that are needed.

Peace, my beloved ones, peace. Go in peace. ✿
