Yaum: Good evening to you, my friends. It is my privilege to come among you and to meet old friends again. Now, my friends, is there something that you wish to talk about, or would you just prefer to have a friendly chat?

Questioner: I think some of us would like to know more about the school that some of us attended a couple of nights ago while in the sleep state.

Yaum: Well, these schools are taking place all of the time. It is done to put certain knowledge or information into the consciousness of each of the individuals who are attending.

Questioner: One of us was particularly impressed by the size of this class, as it numbered about five thousand people.

Yaum: Yes, many of them have large numbers of people attending. This is not altogether unique. Perhaps the one of which you speak was an exceptionally large one. Those of you who were there have it in your consciousness and it will come out at the right time, or the results of it will develop in your consciousness. I did not attend this particular class so I am not altogether familiar with what took place there. This is not something that I attend and follow as my work takes me into different fields.

Questioner: Why don't you talk about whatever you feel it would be helpful for us to know about your activities, the status quo on this planet, etc.?

Yaum: My activities have not changed. We are still following the events of your civilization, helping to bring about influences here and there that will eventually be of benefit to your peoples. So far as your status quo is concerned, it has not changed a great deal in the past few months except to progress in such a way that in my observation, it is going to work out about as it has been predicted in your scriptures.

The Middle East at this time is a great "powder keg," to use your term. It could erupt at any time and eventually will. We cannot determine the time of this because we do not always know what the actions and reactions of the people involved are going to be. We can only see a general picture here of what is taking place.

The tension is mounting at this time and it looks like the energy situation will bring about more tension in the Middle East. They are not going to be happy if your country and associated countries do not buy their oil or if they restrict their sale of it, and this again will bring about more tension. In other words your civilization, through its errors and near-sightedness, has brought itself to a point of disaster, you could say. They are doing many things which they hope will forestall it for awhile and some of them will be successful for a short time, but they are not putting forth any new ideas that are real solutions to their problems.

There is too much concern for power and not enough concern for the welfare of the people. It seems that little has been learned from past experience. In other bygone cultures of your planet they have made the same mistakes that have been made in the present one and have found themselves in the same positions. They used the same method of trying to cure their ills that they are using today. They did not work then and they will not work now.

Many of your leaders of today, in fact most of them, were leaders and men of power in the Roman Empire, and they had exactly the same problems that they have today. Of course they were not over the same things. They did not have the type of energy that you have today and many of the other things which your economy depends on, but they had other things just as important and concentrated that their economy depended on. They used the same methods to try to overcome their inflationary situation and it eventually led to their collapse and downfall.

History is repeating itself. If a number of years back this had been recognized and dealt with in the proper manner all of this could have been avoided, but as long as you have leaders in power who have this lust for power, as long as you have a profit system that functions in the manner that yours does you will have these problems because the wealth of the civilization will always end up in the hands of a few.

There will never be enough attention given to the educating of the masses and to the benefit of the masses. Those of your civilization who are considered to be of the lower class or the ignorant, are only that way because they have been allowed to be. If these people had been given proper attention, education and training and had the opportunities, they too, would be wiser and happier people.

Your power organization has not dealt with these problems. They have instead worked toward increasing their own power and their own welfare, accumulating great quantities of wealth which they can never use except to give them greater power over the multitudes. So you see, as we have stated many times, a civilization that is built upon a foundation of this kind can never stand for long.

If your civilization had been built upon the spiritual rock and had adhered to the laws of creation and done unto others as they would have others do unto them, your civilization would be much different today. It would be a thriving civilization without want, ignorance, sickness or poverty. If each individual would through his own consciousness, his own inner guidance, fulfill his responsibility in this civilization, he should be trained from birth to understand his responsibility and the importance of fulfilling it. This is what we are hoping to accomplish in the New Age.

Questioner: Will these power-mad leaders then have to go to another solar system, since they will not be able to find a planet in our system that would be compatible with their vibration?

Yaum: They will not be able to function in the New Age because this vibration would not be suitable for them but we hope that all of those who are not able to stay with your solar system in the New Age will at least learned enough that in the next incarnation they will do a much better job in fulfilling their responsibilities to their civilization so far as overcoming the problems that face it. It is not possible at this stage. They have passed the point of no return. They have allowed things to go too far because no one was willing to take the responsibility of making the proper changes, and neither would they be now. Politicians are a strange breed of people and they do not function as do the so-called common people. I wish that I could paint a more beautiful picture for your civilization but we must give you the truth, and if you will analyze the situation yourself, you will come up with the same picture.

Questioner: Well, the time is getting short for the negativity to rule, and we can look forward to the New Age and a better life.

Yaum: The transition is going on schedule in the New Age as it is being established, and this will not be established overnight. Do not be misled that you are just going to pass right from one into the other and everything is going to be beautiful because this new civilization must be built and it is going to take some time and a lot of hard work on the part of the individuals who are chosen for this purpose. Out of it will come a civilization that will be great.

There will be a new man. Man himself under this new vibration will be a different being. He will have a greater brain capacity, being able to understand things that now he cannot. He will be different in many ways, having a more refined body and a much greater spiritual understanding. He will have a lot less consciousness of self-interest and a greater consciousness of working for the good of all mankind. In other words, he will live the laws that your people have been given so many times and have failed to follow.

Now my friends, I think I have said enough. It has been my privilege to come among you and I wish to express my gratitude for your acceptance of me in your midst. What I say is my understanding and I am only sharing with you. If my understanding conflicts with yours then disregard it. I will not be offended.

May the peace, the joy and the love of all the Great Ones be Invoked upon each of you this night. May each of you go forth with love and peace in your hearts, and may you emanate this to everyone with whom you come in contact.

Go in peace, my friends. Peace, peace. ☸
