Oxal: Greetings in the light, my friends, I am Oxal

My beloved friends, today Earth man is living in a time when opportunities have never been greater to improve his understanding, his spiritual growth, also his scientific knowledge. Many of your people have made great strides in their scientific knowledge in a very short period, but little progress has been made in the growth, or the increase of their spiritual understanding, of their understanding of man himself. You see the great difference between a man having both spiritual and scientific knowledge and a man having only scientific knowledge, it is that the man who possesses both makes sure that his scientific knowledge is used for the good of all mankind.

He does not use this for self gain or for the gain of the few. If this realization could come forth in the minds of Earth people and manifest, Earth man would find himself on a path of the greatest advancement in the history of your planet. But this does not seem to be the case, but rather, among the majority, it seems they are going in the opposite direction.

We of other planets and other systems, not that we are so wise or possess such great inconceivable knowledge, no, this is not so, for in reality we have gained but very little knowledge of the scientific and the spiritual possibilities that man has. Yet, of the very small knowledge that we have, we would like very much to share with Earth man, if we could but be sure that this knowledge would be used for the good of all mankind upon your planet, and would help to raise him in consciousness to make his life more pleasant to give him a greater opportunity to seek self knowledge or self realization. But in every attempt of this kind that has been made upon your planet we have found our information and help going to the benefit of only a few, being used to gain more power over their fellow man. This should never be that man should seek to control another or to hold power over him, but rather the desire should be to raise the consciousness of his fellow being, to bring to him the knowledge, the understanding of a way to make his live more abundant, more rich.

Man does not find it necessary to eke out his existence by the sweat of his brow when he has true understanding, for he finds that the universe contains all that man has need of. He needs only to gain the understanding to bring it forth. By this, I do not mean to say that man does not need to work but he need not work, as many of your people think of work. But man would not be happy to do nothing, man would not grow by doing nothing. Man needs to exercise his talents. He needs to develop these things. Seeking understanding is work, but man does not gain understanding lest he work for it.

The time is here when the chaff is being separated from the wheat.

Flocks are being gathered together. The shepherd sees the storm approaching, he knows snows will soon cover the grass, and he is gathering in his sheep. And to these will be given the secrets, for they shall use them as your creator intended that they shall be used. This one realization must remain firm in the hearts of all who are to be trusted with knowledge, that this knowledge, this understanding must be used for the good of all mankind. If this is not done, this knowledge will eventually destroy you for this is a universal law that none can avoid. And my friends, you need only to search back in the past civilizations of your Earth, and you shall find that this was the very thing that destroyed them. Do not let this happen to you. Realize your relationship to all creation: that without your brother man, you could not exist, you would not be, and without you, he would not be—realizing that when you have raised the consciousness of either yourself or your brother, you have raised the consciousness of all mankind. This is the great a oneness of which we so often speak. This is the great a oneness that man of Earth must come into the realization of. Each is a great being, but without the other we would be nothing.

My friends, I leave you by extending to you the love, the light and the understanding of my people.

I am Oxal. ☸
