Yaum: Good evening to you, my friends.

I have not had the opportunity to visit with you for some time, so I thought I would stop by for a few moments tonight and leave my greetings with you.

I understand that you have been doing some work with others lately and are sharing your information. This is good and I am happy to see you doing this. One cannot continually take in. One must also give out, and in these rapidly changing times there is much need for this. I think you will find more and more response as you go along and get deeper into your subjects.

There are many who are having unusual experiences due to the times that we are in. They are having things happen that they do not understand, and I believe that you will find that many of these will be coming seeking counseling. It will be your duty to give this counseling, and I would suggest that you do it wisely.

Some of these experiences will be good ones. Some of them will not be so good. It will be up to you to discern this and to point this out to these people and try to help them. If they do not respond, which perhaps some of them will not, at least you have done your part in pointing out to them the dangers and difficulties. I wish you well in your work, and those of us who are interested in watching over your activities will give you help whenever we can.

Questioner: Thank you. We're going to need all the help we can get!

Yaum: We all need help from those who are more learned and wiser than we, and we should always be receptive, too. Is there anything special you should like me to talk about?

Questioner: How can we get the strength to meet the needs of more and more people?

Yaum: I think that as you go along that you will find that things will fall into place. All of you can participate in this type of thing. It is not necessary for one or two to do all of the necessary things.

Questioner: Do you have any suggestions as to how we might have handled these things more wisely than we have?

Yaum: I think, from what I have observed of your meetings, that thus far you are proceeding very well according to your capabilities. As long as you do the best that you know how, you will find yourself improving as you go along.

A teacher has to learn, you see. Sometimes the teacher learns more than the pupils. Therefore, you grow and you are then able to do a better job.

Questioner: Could you comment on the subjects of abortion and homosexuality which are such prominent and controversial issues in our society today?

Yaum: These, of course, are problems of your dimension of life which are brought about by man himself. Earth man, by and large, still lives a great deal in the animal state. He is ruled by the senses, and so long as man is ruled by these senses, he will have these problems. The issue is one that must be viewed, more or less, from one's own level of understanding.

Of course, there are two sides to all questions, but since most of those who are requesting abortions are living in a very low level of life, pretty much in the animal state, perhaps controlling childbirth through this method is not too great a sin. It does prevent, in many cases, burdens upon society, and bringing children into a life that is going to be one of a very low nature.

As a rule, those who incarnate into these bodies are of a low nature, though they need some method of incarnating, of course. Perhaps, if some of the lower forms through which they would incarnate were eliminated, they might come into a little higher level and have a better chance of advancing.

When they are brought into what you would call your "slum" areas and places of this type, they have very little chance of advancing, and many of them are so short-lived that they have no chance.

There are things that need to be considered. From my viewpoint, I would have to take each case individually. Those of higher intelligence, who would find themselves in this position through the deliberate satisfaction of the lower senses would, I think, be more accountable than those who have less intelligence.

Questioner: What about population control?

Yaum: Yes, this is another consideration, but the population control should be handled in a much wiser way than it is being handled.

Questioner: What about the question of homosexuality?

Yaum: Oh, yes. Of course, this is the result many times of karma. However, it is sometimes the result of being caught in a three dimensional trap in the conversion between incarnations from one gender to the other.

Questioner: This does not account for all of them, does it?

Yaum: No, not all of them. Here again, each individual must be considered separately. I do not think it is wise to draw a definite judgment upon all of these people and condemn them.

I think that in your present day these things are accentuated and this is due a great deal to the changing vibrations. Really this is not anything new. This has occurred through the centuries, but it has been more covered up. I am sure that all of you have been associated with these people in the past and did not even know it.

Questioner: What kind of karma would produce this kind of aberration of nature culture after culture.

Yaum: It is not all karma. I said that this was true in certain cases. This would depend again on the individual. There are certain types of individuals who have committed certain causes in other lives which brings about an effect.

Questioner: I would like to know how to regard homosexuality so that I might be more understanding, especially now that there is legislation coming up regarding these people and their rights.

Yaum: Have you ever in the history of your country legislated anything of this type away? You cannot legislate these things away. The only way that anything can be treated is with love and understanding. Through love and understanding it is much easier to point out the wrong ways than it is through legislation or trying to condemn, judge or force. This merely drives it underground and this is why this has been not so well known in the past.

Now it is coming to the surface. These people are demanding recognition. All of this, as I said, is due to the changing times. The vibrations of this present day and for sometime past and sometime to come, are accentuating the things that are in people. The evil are becoming more evil. The good people are becoming better. The faults and wrong doings of people are being accentuated as well as are their good deeds. This is all a part of your times that you are going through, and it will get more prevalent before it gets better.

Questioner: Would you say that homosexuality is a weakness more than an evil thing, and that we should deal with it with love and kindness rather than condemnation?

Yaum: Yes, it is a weakness. They are trying to satisfy their senses in a different way. In reality, it is no worse than satisfying them the other way when you do it wrongly. It is the accentuation of the lower self.

Questioner: Was President Carter influenced by those in the higher realms in his decision to drop the B-1 bomber program, or was this something of his own personal conviction?

Yaum: I think that this was more from his own convictions. There was some pressure brought upon him by the opposition to this, but there was also some pressure brought upon him by those who are for it. In his own conscience he has not viewed this thing favorably for a long time, so it did not take too much pressure from that side to cause him to make the decision. There is going to be a great deal of pressure brought to get him to change his mind.

Questioner: We were speaking specifically of influence from you and others from your realm.

Yaum: There was not too much of this.

Questioner: Do you feel that this is a matter that we have to decide ourselves?

Yaum: Yes.

Questioner: Already there are loud protests from people whose jobs depended upon the approval of the B-1 project, aren't there?

Yaum: This is always a problem in your type of government and your industrial setup. You cannot do anything without hurting someone. Everyone wants to do things that do not affect them, but will affect somebody else. It becomes very difficult in a system of this kind.

Questioner: Do you have anything to tell us regarding the status quo or anything that is relevant to current events?

Yaum: No, I cannot think of anything really important at the present moment. There is a great deal going on. There is a great deal of sparring on the surface, but the pressures from below or behind will eventually bring about the decisions that are to be made. Much of the things that you hear on your news and read in your newspapers is not what is actually happening.

Questioner: There has been a recent prediction that a rock concert which is to be held in our domed stadium is to result in tragedy due to the intense level of sound. Do you have any knowledge about this?

Yaum: No, I do not. I have not heard anything concerning this.

Questioner: What are the conditions of our fault lines?

Yaum: The fault lines are very active and are being watched very closely. Exactly when they are going to jump we don't know.

Questioner: Some of us have been concerned about the accounts of unusual beings from other realms, forcing, by mind power, Earth men and women to have sexual relationships with them. Will you please comment about this?

Yaum: These occurrences happen. It comes from a dimension very close to yours, only a few degrees different. They can raise and lower this, in fact, they have to do this to a certain degree in order to come into this dimension. They have a much greater knowledge of the power of mind, and are from another solar system.

I do not think they are really interested in the sex part so much as the biological differences. I think they are very interested in seeing if the two dimensions can be interbred.

Questioner: Could they appear as a UFO or a physical being from a UFO to us without actually being here in the physical?

Yaum: Oh yes. They have the knowledge of the control of mind. One who has the greater knowledge of mind control or hypnosis, as you call it, can cause you to see anything. You know this, for your own hypnotists are able to do this. These beings are able to do it much more easily for they have a greater understanding of these things. They do not have to go through all of the procedures that your hypnotists go through in putting people under. They can do it through mind control.

Questioner: Do you know if there have been any beings produced by this interbreeding of the two dimensions?

Yaum: I am not sure, but so far as I know it has not been successful yet, but that is one of the experiments that they are doing.

Questioner: What effect does this have upon the Earth people who have been used in these experiments?

Yaum: It will vary with different individuals. They have tried these experiments in both ways, with males of their dimension being mated with females of your dimension, and with a male from your dimension and a female of theirs. I do not know what their success has been in the latter case, but in those that I know about where the female is from your dimension, it has not been very successful.

Questioner: How can we help someone who has had that experience and how can we protect ourselves from having this happen to us?

Yaum: One must use the psychic defense methods against this, and do not attract them by dabbling in their dimensions.

Questioner: Are people attracting these things?

Yaum: Some are not. Some are merely individuals who they have chosen as good specimens.

Questioner: Isn't this against universal law?

Yaum: Of course, it is and eventually they will pay a penalty for this.

Questioner: What about the poor victims?

Yaum: What about the poor victims who suffer at the hands of other people of Earth?

Questioner: Isn't that often karma?

Yaum: It is not always karma, and who started karma in the first place? Which came first, the chicken or the egg? To start karma, someone had to do wrong to someone else.

Questioner: Would you say that in cases where it is not karma that those people were victims of the race consciousness?

Yaum: Yes. Now, those who come here and do these things will eventually pay their karma for this, too. The law of cause and effect does not only apply to planet Earth. It applies throughout the universe. You cannot always prevent wrongdoing.

Questioner: What about the publicity these things are receiving?

Yaum: This, of course, makes sensational news. It would be much more publicized than would something more mild and gentle.

Questioner: People can protect themselves if they know it is happening, but those who don't believe these things can happen have no protection, do they?

Yaum: No, but neither do your people who are attacked on the streets and murdered, or the children who are beaten. They have no protection.

Questioner: Would you suggest that our group go into a more indepth protection ritual than the one we are presently using?

Yaum: I would keep on with the one that you are doing so that it is very effective, and well done before you continue into more complex ones.

Questioner: Do you think that each one of us should practice this more individually as well as with the group?

Yaum: Yes, if you want the protection. Many times these things are attracted by people who spend a great deal of time trying to make contact with others in other realms. Also, by investigating these events, they can attract the attention of these beings and they are more apt to become involved.

Questioner: I understand from this one case that they determined that all of the women who had this experience, many of whom had been kidnapped and taken aboard craft, had been left with the posthypnotic suggestion that they would be contacted again. They have been so conditioned by this hypnosis that they don't seem to be too alarmed about it. I think the majority had been born in April, May and June of 1948. Would this have any relevance?

Yaum: It very well could. It may be something that these beings have figured out astrologically that would be advantageous to their experiment.

Questioner: I think you know what is concerning us. Is there anything that we can do to be more helpful?

Yaum: Each one should realize these things and use the protection against this, and one protection would be to stay away from anything that would concern these dimensions or involve them, such as trying to make contact with them and thereby losing your protection.

Questioner: Is there some danger of inviting their attention to you by actively calling people's attention to their activities?

Yaum: Yes, this is right, but I think you can warn people against this kind of thing in your contact with people, as long as you don't get too involved in it.

Questioner: Yes, but we have to give them some way of protecting themselves, if we call it to their attention. This is what we have been at a loss to do.

Yaum: Their attention should be drawn to the fact that they should not involve themselves along this line, but instead they should stick to the spiritual side.

Now, I think I have stayed long enough. It has been my pleasure to spend this time with you again, and if I have been of any service to you I am grateful.

May the peace and the joy and the love of all the Great Ones be invoked upon each of you. May you be continually surrounded by the protection of these Great Ones.

Go in peace, my friends, go in peace. Peace. ✨
