Teacher: My greetings, love and blessings to all of you.

Now, to begin with, we are going to surround each of you here with a ray of love and peace. We hope that you will remove all resistance and open yourself and allow this energy to flow to your innermost being, that it may bring a greater sense of love and peace to you. Let it be so.

There is a time and a season for everything, as you know. There is a time for giving out and a time for taking in. This should be for you an opportunity to take, to practice going deeper and deeper within to find your True Self and allow it to express. You cannot always give, you cannot always take. There must be a balance. One must take advantage of the opportunities to do each as the opportunity presents itself. And in doing this you will find a balance, an inner peace. Patience, too, is something that one must develop. Eliminate the state of anxiety. Lie back in His arms and know that all good things will come in His time when you put your trust and faith in Him.

The All Knowing One always knows what is best for each of us but we must learn to listen carefully for His guidance and instructions. This is accomplished by reaching deep within and finding that Greater Self, that part of this Great Spirit that dwells within each of you. We talk much about these things but we must put them into practice.

We have to make that effort to find that greater part of us that dwells so deep within. Sometimes through our anxiety and impatience we have difficulty in finding this, but we must learn to close out all of these things and let our consciousness sink deep within ... Peace, harmony and satisfaction can be found in no other way. But when it is found we come into a realization of who and what we are, and a whole new concept of life opens before us and we see the true grandeur of ourselves and of the Creation about us. We realize the greatness and the vastness of it and the opportunities that it opens for us. We begin to see the purpose of our existence and we are able to proceed in accomplishing that purpose for which we have come to do. I have perhaps expounded quite lengthy here upon this but I hope it will perhaps give you a different viewpoint.

Of course each individual is at a different state of consciousness. Although they may be close to the same level, it is impossible for two individuals to be at the same level exactly. But to feel one's inadequacy or to feel one's unworthiness is a matter of self-condemnation and self-pity, which we should not tolerate in our consciousness. For each of us are children of the One Great Power and one cannot necessarily say that he or she may not be eligible or worthy of any particular level of progress.

So we rise above these things and know that the Father has a plan for us, for each one, and we need only to become attuned with this Great Spirit of Creation, determined to do whatsoever His will might be for us and He will reveal to us His plan. So we must walk with our hand in His, trusting completely in Him, knowing that He will show us the way.

Perhaps the meeting of a situation head-on is necessary. Forgetting the past is not easy, but this is one of the things we must learn to do, put the past behind us and walk forward in His Light, our hand in His, knowing that He will show us the way and nothing can prevent our following His guidance as He gives it to us and as we receive it.

So be of good cheer. Know that this is an opportunity for you to grow, reach greater heights in His love and understanding. No obstacle is going to stand in your way. We will be with you, we will help you in every way we can. When the road seems dark we do send you supporting energies. We do help you in many ways that you are not aware of, but there are limitations as to what we can do for your own good and well being.

It is my great pleasure to have this opportunity to again speak to you and come to you in this way. As I leave I extend to you my most sincere love and blessings and we surround you in our love. You will soon find peace and satisfaction that you are seeking, but you must be patient and trust in Him.

My peace and love I give unto each of you. May you find peace that you have never known before.

Peace, peace, peace. ☸
