Teacher: Peace be with you, my beloved friends, peace be with you.

Never has man of Earth stood at such a great point of decision, and this beloved ones, is universal upon your planet. A great decision must be made by mankind in general. It is necessary that he choose his path. The indication at this moment points in the direction of progress. This does not necessarily mean that the right choice will be made by the majority, but there again, how many great advancements that have come about, have come through the majority? No, my friends, it shall be the minority that will bring peace and brotherhood to Earth mankind. Man through all eternity, shall be faced with choices. As each of you are finding in your growth, that you are continually choosing—and it is not always an easy decision, for we are prone to allow our ego and self to become involved. This, my friends, always makes it difficult. I believe you understand my point.

But know this, beloved ones, that your path is chosen by you and none other. No condition that can arise can alter your path unless you choose to have it so. But too, we must always be honest with ourselves and this is easy not to be.

We are swayed by customs, by rules of man. These thoughts that are instilled in our consciousness are difficult to remove, even when we realize that they are not conforming to universal law.

Man, in this illusionary phase of life, becomes, if he is not very cautious, a creature of habit, a victim of race consciousness. Man must think for himself, must make his own decisions, must choose his own path. Attempt to raise your sights to a broader scope that your vision may widen out and take in more than what is seen here. Reach out beyond these manmade laws and rules. Try to conceive life on a wider scope.

Universal law will not destroy anything or anyone when they are in harmony with it. Your happiness cannot be destroyed if you are living the law. We are prone at times, to place the blame upon the law, but if we are honest with ourselves, we shall find the difficulty lies with us.

Think about these things, beloved ones, before you draw conclusions. Each of you have great wisdom within you. Do not let this wisdom be distorted by ego or self pity. Take all problems within and ponder them well. Consult your higher consciousness, that God part of you. The part of you that is now here to give you all understanding. It is yours to receive. This you were promised long ago. This you have.

My peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you. Beloved, I am your servant. I am least among you. Peace. ☸
