Hatton: I greet you, my friends, in the Love and Light of the Infinite Creator. I am Hatton.

Gathering together today of the workers of Light is taking place all around your planet. As you gather together, attempting to exchange experiences and learning from one another, you find yourselves each faced with a little different understanding, a little different concept in small ways. This, my friends, is due to your levels of understanding and to your own individual reasoning.

There are many concepts among your people. Your religious administrations have each brought into being their own concepts, interpretations, ceremonials, customs and what have you. Each of you is aware that Truth must be accepted where it is found. Each of the great Teachers that have come to your planet down through the ages has brought a Truth, a concept for that time and for those whom they were teaching. These concepts and teachings of Truth were taken by earth men and twisted to suit their purpose.

If any of you will study the teachings of these great Masters, go deep enough to get beneath man's interpretation, and you will find that each has brought a Truth, and that basically each one was teaching the same Truth, but a Truth fitted to his time and place. You will also find if you follow these Masters that each one ties to the other, that each had his time and place, that each came at a time with a message for the people of that time. And so it goes through the ages. When a need arises, the Teacher is there.

Do not build walls, beloved friends, but be ever open. Keep an open heart, that you might receive and use any Truth that you find wherever you find it, for great pearls of wisdom are found in most lowly places. Great Masters have trod your earth many times as lowly individuals. They were not recognized by the masses. They were only recognized by the Knowing Ones, and you, my friends, we hope shall become the Knowing Ones. The Knowing Ones are increasing in numbers.

Learn to know yourself, O Man of Earth, for in finding yourself shall you find the Truth that will lead you into a new life of grandeur that you did not know existed. Knowing oneself is to know the Truth.

Time is short, self-development, growth must be rapid. So, beloved ones, develop self-discipline. Ego must go, emotional control must be learned, for in the days ahead, my, beloved friends, these things will be necessary in order to carry out your task.

Are you ready to give yourself in the service of your humanity? Are you ready and willing to go the last mile? For soon, beloved friends, this decision must be final. So it will be well for you to think upon this matter and come to your final decision, for the day is at hand when you must decide. There will be no half-way, for in the service of the Light there is no half-way. Either you are or you are not. To serve is to serve to your fullest capacity. Think about this, my friends.

Each of you still has a great deal to accomplish, but once you have gone all the way in your decision, you will find that things will change rapidly for you. And I am not implying, my good friends, that when you are in the service all the way that you have to go around wearing a long face and being what is called on your planet a do-gooder. For in the service, there is time for relaxation; there is time for fun and there is time for work. What you do, do wholeheartedly when you do it, for unless you put your heart into it, it brings you nothing.

And now my beloved friends, I must leave you. May the Light and the Love of this Great Omnipotent, Omnipresent Spirit of Creation engulf you, and may it bring to you the Love and happiness that you deserve. May each of you reach your decision in its fullness soon, and may this decision bring you the greatest happiness that you have ever known.

My Love and my blessings I give unto you. Odina, Odina, Vasu Borracus. I am Hatton. ❀
