Yaum: It is my pleasure to come among you and I wish to extend my gratitude for being accepted into your household, and I would like to extend my special greetings to your friends here tonight.

I thought I would drop in on you for a chat. What would you like to talk about? We would like to talk about whatever you are interested in. If you have some questions, I shall attempt to answer them. I do not claim to be able to answer everything that you might ask, for I do not know everything. I would be glad to share with you what I have.

Questioner: Was it a psychic attack that caused the Russian to become ill while denouncing the Camp David agreement?

Yaum: It was not so much a psychic attack, as a reaction of his own higher Self.

Questioner: That was stopping him from being so negative?

Yaum: Not so much stopping him from being negative, as his own conscience bore down upon him to a point where it weakened him. The man did not believe what he was saying, but he must say it anyhow, and sometimes our Higher Self comes down upon us quite strongly, when we are falsely operating and this is pretty much what was the case here.

Questioner: He didn't have an awareness of this did he?

Yaum: No, he did not realize this himself, it was kind of a subconscious thing. We do not deliberately attack people in that way; this would not be ethical.

Questioner: We were discussing spiritual things and would like to see some things happen, like a broken arm healed. Would you like to comment on that?

Yaum: Well my friends, in the not too far distant future, you are going to see greater things than this performed. By and large, those who are seeking and are interested, are going to be shown many things in the near future that will open their eyes. Man is going to get a great insight into what a great being he really is. So do not be impatient, my friends, for you will see these things and greater things.

Questioner: Is this in the new age?

Yaum: Even before that, before the complete culmination. You are already in the new age.

Questioner: I was thinking about the year 2000.

Yaum: Before that you will see greater things happen.

Questioner: Can you see them in the astral plane?

Yaum: Of course you can, you know that.

Questioner: Would you discuss hypnotism as it relates to the story of Moses and the Pharaoh?

Yaum: Well, you are getting into terminologies and in order to do this, we would have to put a specific definition on hypnosis. Hypnosis as you think of it may be somewhat different than someone else thinks of it, but it is all an exploration of the mind and there are many, many phases of how the mind functions. Very little is known by your people about the mind and the different levels of consciousness this mind is able to attain. Therefore, we would have to, shall we say, pick out a special phase we would like to talk about.

Well, this story of Moses' confrontation with the Egyptian pharaoh when he changed his staff to a serpent, this by some people would be called a phase of hypnosis, yet by others would be called perhaps the battle of the minds. The stronger mind prevailing. To lead a group of people into a hallucinatory state, many of you would call mass hypnosis. You are causing these people to see what you want them to see although it may not really be there. Yet everyone is seeing the same thing, so to them it occurred. But they only saw it because the master mind wanted them to see it.

The evolution of man is a discovery and development of the mind, for we are mind. In this state which you find yourself, you have what you call a brain. Many people call this their mind; this is not their mind. It is only an instrument in which the mind functions in this dimension. Now when we leave this body whether through astral projection or death or however, we still have a mind but we don't have a physical brain. We don't need it because we don't have a physical body we need to control. So you don't need a physical brain, but you do have a mind and your mind functions.

Questioner: And is this mind a part of Universal Mind?

Yaum: Yes, in a sense and yet it is an individual mind too.

It is a memory bank where all of the experiences of your total existence are stored. Now, when you recall a previous life, you are not going into the brain to find it for it is not in the brain. It is in the mind, what you call subconscious, superconscious or whatever terminology you call it. It is not in the brain.

Questioner: Would you agree there is a value and also a danger in reliving these traumatic experiences in our past?

Yaum: Anything that you do has a positive and a negative side. The Universe functions in this manner. Wherever you have a positive you have a negative, so this can be used as a very positive effect, it can bring out something that is buried in the subconscious mind and release it. It can also bring out something that was bothering you and causing a block. But it all depends on how it is used. A wise person who is guiding an experiment or project of this kind would be very careful in trying to direct the mind to whatever was causing this particular problem or block and try to reach that and that alone, he would try to go back through life after life and lead him step by step and year by year because you run into all kinds of things and some of these things can be very damaging to the individual, such as a recall of a horrible experience. So you must be very careful in directing something of this kind and try to go directly to the problem. Now, of course this might be very difficult for someone who is inexperienced and who has little knowledge or little spiritual development.

On the other hand a Master, for instance would be able to make a soul to soul contact and could explore some of these areas of your mind without disturbing you and find where the problem lies and go from there, you see. We would then reach only to the point where it would do good and be of benefit to you.

Questioner: Are you familiar with Ruth Carter Stapelton's method of bringing in the Holy Spirit and visualizing?

Yaum: Yes, I know about this and it is very beneficial so far as it goes but she is only able to reach something that would have occurred in this life time. She does not go beyond that and it is probably good that she does not since she does not understand that we have lived many life times.

Questioner: She does a very successful job of helping people with current problems.

Yaum: Yes, she uses a method of visualization. They are visualizing Jesus the Christ which is good. They have confidence in him and the problem can be reached and relieved. They are putting the problem to someone else to relieve for them and through their imagination and visualization they are able to reach this point and the imaginary person is able to take the place of the real person who originally caused the problem and relieve this and it works very well.

Questioner: Yaum, do you think if we are helping someone through this faith imagination problem solving, that our Higher Self or our personal Etheric Teacher can take over and more aptly direct this probing into their past, to more fully know what that person needs?

Yaum: If you are developed enough so you are sure of your guidance and contacts, yes.

Questioner: Is over-shadowing a method more used today and by overshadowing I mean the High Self takes over and inspires the person?

Yaum: Overshadowing can be done by your own individual Teacher or others, even an astral being whether he be of high or low evolvment. This technique has been used in the past, it is nothing new.

Questioner: It seems more prevalent today.

Yaum: Jesus was overshadowed many times and so were many of the other Masters and leaders of various times and it happens today also.

Questioner: How does overshadowing function?

Yaum: For instance, if you were giving a talk for a group of people and if a higher being wanted to influence you and what you are to say, he could enter your aura and overshadow you, influencing your mind and causing you to say what he wanted you to say. Often spiritualistic mediums for instance, will be overshadowed by an entity who is not occupying their body yet is causing the medium to say what he wants them to say and this is called overshadowing. If the person is sensitive, he will know this is going on and one who is not would not realize what is going on, however this does not often happen to this type of person. It usually happens to a spiritually minded person and one who can handle this type of thing.

Questioner: What is my personal Etheric Teacher's name?

Yaum: In the Etheric realm, they do not go by names as you do here on Earth. They know each other by vibration only. Often they give names as an identification but that is the only reason they are used. I use the name Yaum here, because it is necessary that I use a name to function in this physical society you see, but when your teacher wants to identify himself to you, he will give you a name. It may be a title for often in the Etheric realms they have titles that designate their station or type of work they are doing and that is all it is. Now your Etheric Teachers that speak to you from other dimensions for many years did not use any names at all. So they decided to use names that were familiar to you but these are really not their names at all.

Questioner: Do we only have one teacher?

Yaum: This is a good question. When you enter this physical life you are assigned an Etheric Teacher. I am not speaking of an astral but an Etheric Teacher. These are entities who are not incarnating back and forth. They have gone beyond that. This individual will be your guide and is responsible in trying to help you through this life time. Now there are many in the astral plane who try to help also, especially sometimes relatives who are interested in you and there may be several of these people who come to you, now and then, to try and help you also.

But the important one is your Etheric Teacher. That is the one who tries to influence you in the right direction. Many times this teacher maybe your opposite polarity. As man reached the soul state in the Fall of man, it was decided that he should be split into two portions, a positive and a negative. Before that man was Androgynous, neither male nor female. As your Bible tells the story: God put Adam into a deep sleep and took his rib and made a woman. This is symbolic of what happened. Man was divided into a positive and a negative, two souls, yet they were one soul, if you can imagine this. Each soul takes its journey down the path of evolution.

Now there comes a time when each will reach a point of evolution when they have overcome this physical self, lower man or animal nature, whatever you call it. They are ready to be removed from the wheel of incarnation and go on to another plane where the soul must be overcome and where the two eventually become one. Now if the positive or the negative side advances to the point ahead of the other—and this happens in the majority of the cases—then this half cannot go any further in his evolution until the other half reaches the same level, for it is here that they must work together to overcome the soul and eventually become one or androgynous again.

Now when this is the case, the half that has reached the Etheric level will come back and be your guide for this lifetime or many lifetimes. For instance, if the other half is on the same level as you, another Etheric Teacher will be assigned to you.

Questioner: What about criminals and murderers, do they have an Etheric Teacher?

Yaum: Yes, but these people are unreachable.

Questioner: Why do they have one then?

Yaum: To try to help them and often times they are helped. You never can be sure. It is still worthwhile to try even though they may be helped only slightly.

The Etheric Teachers serve for the pleasure of serving, not for reward. They never think of self—only of what they can do for others. This is the state that man must reach in his evolution, the state of selflessness and this is not easy and is little understood by your people, the true meaning of Selflessness. In order to enter the Kingdom or the Brotherhood, one must attain this state of consciousness.

Questioner: How does positive and negative relate to good and evil?

Yaum: Good and evil could relate to positive and negative; wherever you have one you must have the other. Evil, of course, is what you see. It is only a state of inharmony. It is like playing a musical instrument if it is out of tune and out of harmony—the music sounds terrible. But when it is in harmony it sounds wonderful. Evil is inharmony but wherever you have the positive you will also have the negative so you can always expect to find them. The same way with energies, you can use them in a positive or a negative way. Psychic abilities, for instance, have a positive and a negative side and it all depends on how man uses these energies or abilities.

Your physical body is half positive and half negative. The soul was merely divided to the positive and the negative. However, you still have the positive and the negative on both sides in your physical body. It is like a magnet, no matter how many times you cut it in two, you have a positive and a negative. That is the way we function.

Questioner: Do you know about Mong Ling?

Yaum: Only that he is here.

Questioner: Could you explain further about these miracles you referred to?

Yaum: There will be a number of miracles. You will see them with energy, mind miracles. There are no such things as miracles, it is merely the operating of a law.

Questioner: Will these miracles be performed by the false Christ?

Yaum: Of course, he will perform miracles and through this he will convince many people that he is the Christ.

Questioner: Is this Antichrist that was born in Italy eighteen or so years ago, coming to greater popularity yet?

Yaum: Not too much yet. He has not come into the limelight yet, but it will not be too long from now. You see these laws work for anyone who knows the laws whether he has good intentions or not.

Questioner: How is George Van Tassel doing?

Yaum: I have not investigated his functions, I presume he is getting accustomed to his new environment.

I know that your hour is getting late and I have stayed my time.

Peace be with your my friends. Peace, Peace, Peace.
