Yaum: Greetings to you, my friends, I was spending some time with Anthon today and he asked me if I would like to speak to you, and I said that I would be delighted to do so.

Now, what would you like to talk about? If I can be of help in any way, I will be glad to share my understanding with you.

Questioner: Will you explain to us again about what is going on in our society today?

Yaum: Well, there are very few of your leaders who understand what is going on. They think they do to some extent, but many of them are baffled. They have allowed themselves, over a period of years, to be drawn into situations that have brought about the predicaments that they find themselves in today. They are spending great efforts to find solutions to correct their errors, but they have not been able to do so as it is worsening rather than getting better.

It is the desire and greed for power and wealth; wealth, of course, gives them power. They have not used good judgment in their proceedings and dealings with others. There is no way out of your financial situation at this time nor will there be for they allowed so many extremely extravagant expenditures to become so fixed that there is no way of changing them.

Now there is a great deal of talk in your government about balancing budgets and reducing expenditures, but they are not able to execute any plans because they have become so fixed. Your government today is spending millions of dollars more than they are taking in, and it's deficit is of such a monumental amount that many think that it does not make any difference anymore how much they spend.

As I have said before, there is a great deal of concern among your financial institutions concerning the indebtedness of the so-called developing nations and their inability to pay. It is through the greed of your financial institutions that they allowed themselves to get into this situation. They saw an opportunity, or so they thought, to get large returns on their loans, so they have made loans to these countries and now they find that they are not able to pay. So to prevent them from defaulting they have loaned more to them so that they might pay the interest on their debt. It does not take a very wise individual to see that this can only end in disaster and they are beginning to see this now. But they realize that when these countries do default, it is going to bring the downfall of most of your financial institutions.

Questioner: Do you think that we will become more involved in Grenada and Lebanon?

Yaum: These are just small uprisings to keep one power from gaining footholds where they can successfully control the flow of these energies. Your nation, although it is viewed as a great power and it is a great power, it's power is waning due to the fact that it has allowed itself to become the supporter and policeman of the world. It has used so much of its resources in this manner, that it now finds itself facing a debt so monumental that it can never be solved. The debt of your country is larger than all of the other countries combined, yet you are supporting many of the countries of the world while you are going deeper and deeper into the mire of indebtedness. Indebtedness is a negative thing and will in time if pursued, bring disaster to nations and individuals.

Man must learn to function on the income that he has at that time. To continually go more and more into debt can only bring destruction, and this is what is happening all around your planet. Your nation has the greatest indebtedness of any. There is a continual struggle between the powers upon your earth. Each one is trying to gain control, to get the upper hand. This kind of struggle can never bring anything but disaster and destruction.

Questioner: Is the time for this downfall about the same that you predicted before?

Yaum: Just about. There is great effort going on now, especially in your country, to hold interest rates down and to keep what little prosperity that they have gained, going on. Especially through your election time when your officers or politicians will be seeking their new terms, so to speak. But after that, they are going to have great problems because of the great debt of your nation and the continual borrowing on the money market. They will not be able to hold inflation down when the government is competing in the money market with private industry. This always puts industry at a disadvantage and is bound to drive up interest rates.

The struggle between the major powers in the world is also a struggle for power and this power struggle is over energy supplies—oil, coal, etc.—and this struggle is going to continue. The great money interests in the world are the powers behind all of this. They rule the world and they create the wars. They pit country against country. They pretend to have the interest of the people at heart but they do not. They are trying to satisfy their lust for power.

When people of Earth and their leaders are able to sit down and work out what is best for all, then we can look forward to peace and happiness. We have to learn to give as well as take. But sadly, there are not enough of those who are willing to be active enough to choose the proper leaders for your world, to choose those who are willing and capable of functioning on such a level.

Now there is no trust, there is no confidence in each other. Each is seeking advantage over the other, and there seems to be no indication that there is a change taking place. Oh, there are a few individuals who see this as a problem, but not enough to do anything about it.

But you must realize that it takes a great many to bring about a change. I'm not saying it takes a majority, but it takes a great many. You have to be able to conquer the odds. Your people are willing to accept the status quo, to let the leaders have it their own way. They believe that it will all come out in their favor. But by now you would think that the majority of the people of Earth would begin to realize the facts and begin to elect better leaders.

Of course so many of your countries have now allowed themselves to become so enslaved that they have no powers over their leaders who control them. You have seen in many of your countries today that violence will not solve the problems of your Earth. It will take some love and some understanding, and some people of high principles. But even those of high principles can't always face the odds that confront them, when they try to enter into the field of government.

Questioner: There are many positive people now planting seeds in the race consciousness of better things to come, and should we all be positive and plant these seeds? Will that be what will bring about a new order eventually?

Yaum: No, the old must be discarded, and in order to bring about a new order often we have to through some severe disorders, and that, my friends, is what I'm afraid, is going to happen. It is going to be a test for all these happy, positive people to see if they can maintain this faith and optimism through these disorders. Many of them will lose their positiveness, they will not be able to stand in the fire. It is one thing to talk positively and another thing to remain positive, faithful and hopeful against great odds, and this will be what will separate the sheep from the goats, the men from the boys, and the women from the girls.

Those who can stand in the fire will eventually be victorious. They will be the ones who will inherit the Earth. The test will be great, but you have to come to the point in your civilization where this must happen. You have passed the halfway mark in this period of evolution and now the judgment day must come, the separation must take place.

Then you can move on to a greater civilization, one of justice and one of peace. One where one will not live entirely for himself but will share with his brothers and sisters his understanding. Where need will not be a part of the civilization for each will pull his own weight. Each one will be responsible for his own thoughts and actions, and will understand that this is the way it must be, that this is the law. No man can pass his sins off onto someone else, he must be responsible to himself for his own actions. He alone can carry out his responsibilities, no one can do it for him.

Questioner: I was wondering if you had anything to say about the year 1984?

Yaum: There is going to be a very considerable amount of activity in 1984 along your fault lines. Weather conditions will worsen. The financial situation will find itself in greater trouble in 1984. You can look for many things to happen in the political field, the financial field, and in the earth itself. Many of your leaders are going to become more confused. More of your leaders are going to be exposed as their negative actions are going to come to the surface.

There will be much turmoil take place in all of the governments. Russia is soon due for another change. The Middle East situation is not going to get better. I think that you are going to find in 1984 that that situation and the African situation, and many of the other nations will worsen.

It is very possible that some of the developing countries are going to default on their payments, and if one or two do this, it will probably start a chain reaction which will bring down most of your financial institutions.

I wish I could paint for you a much nicer picture, but I can only call it as I see it. I hope that I am wrong.

Questioner: We understand that, and we appreciate how you and others for so many years have been preparing and conditioning us for these times that are now upon us. We are helped by knowing that these things too, shall pass, and a New Age will emerge.

Yaum: But since you asked, I had to tell you as I see the situation and not as I would like to see it. I do not like to be the bearer of doom and gloom, but in reality I do not look at this as such. I look at it as a cleansing period that your world must go through, and it is going to be a worldwide situation. Without that cleansing it would not take long for your civilization to be consumed. There would be no New Age, there would be nothing to look forward to.

Those of you who walk in the Light have much to look forward to. The Nazarene said when he made some of these predictions that we should be joyous when we see these signs as we know that our redemption is nigh.

Questioner: Will you please bless the new baby present?

Yaum: I extend to each of you my love and my blessings. And to this new life that is just starting, this new ego of which you speak, we invoke all of the love and the blessings upon her, and surround her in the infinite love of the Great Ones. You are all surrounded in this love.

May each of you as you go forth, retain your positiveness. May you not see these times as disastrous, but as a great cleansing of your earth, and a great opportunity for those who seek to walk in the Light of his Glory, to evolve spiritually.

As you go forth, my friends, be loving, be peaceful, be joyous. ♣
