These lectures are not of a religious nature but rather deal with the science of human potential and evolution. This document is a direct transcription from the original recording. Oxal: Greetings in the Light, my friends. I am Oxal.

As Athens has told you, we have a little surprise for you tonight, especially for those who are more familiar with us. We have a visitor aboard our craft tonight, who has spoken to you before, and whom you always seem pleased to hear from. So, my friends, I now step aside and give you Mong Ling, from the Planet Venus.

Mong Ling: Greetings to you, my friends. Greetings in love, in light, and in understanding.

We, of the Planet Venus, are very interested in your planet, for most of us here have, at one time or another, gone through the evolution of life upon the planet that you call Earth. Many of us still have those that are very near and dear to us on your planet, although they may not be aware of it. We are doing all that we can to help those to progress in their spiritual growth, in their knowledge and in their understanding, that they might soon join us here upon our planet.

As we observe your planet from our vantage point, we see great changes taking place and greater changes yet to come. The pulsation that is taking place with your planet is on the increase and is very plain to see from here as we observe it. Your pulsation is causing changes to take place, some greater and some smaller, and the intensity of these changes is ever increasing.

It is somewhat like observing a very ill individual who is going through a process of cleansing. Sometimes, in order to heal a physical body, as you know it, it must go through changes that cause a great deal of discomfort in order for the healing to come about. This, my friends, is what is happening to your planet.

When the process is finished and the toxins have been eliminated, it will emerge a new entity, full of life and vigor. Those who dwell upon it will be likewise. We look forward to the change that is coming about in our solar system, for we realize that while it might cause some discomfort for a period of time, the improvement or gain will be great enough that whatever sacrifices we must make will be well rewarded.

So, we see it as a great opportunity to move forward in our evolution, for Man must not remain static for very long. If Man has a desire to move forward in his evolution and is willing to put forth the necessary effort and sacrifices he shall move forward. But, if he chooses to remain static, he may do this for as long as he chooses. It is Man's own choice.

He must make the decision. He must decide if he is to move forward or remain static, but to move forward requires effort and sacrifice.

Man must earn his advancements. No one else can do it for him. Those who have greater understanding can only point the way and perhaps, in certain cases, give us a little boost, as you might call it. Primarily, this help can only come in ways of being guided into opportunities which, if taken advantage of, will bring about the improvement.

Man, if he is to advance, must always be honest with himself and with others. You cannot analyze yourself, you cannot realize your needs, unless you do it honestly. We find very few who are willing to do this. They will analyze everyone about them, what they believe to be honestly, but when it comes to themselves, it seems to be more difficult.

Always remember that when you point your finger at another, there may be several pointing back at you. It is always better to spend the time analyzing one's self honestly than to try to analyze others. We see a great deal of this upon your planet, and we hope that in the New Age that this shall be eliminated.

I do not wish to keep you as I know your hour is getting late and many of you have far to go, as your distances go. So, I shall leave you now, and as I leave, I extend to each of you my most sincere love, my understanding and my peace. I am Mong Ling. I return you now to Oxal.

Oxal: Greetings to you again. I hope you have enjoyed Mong Ling's little talk. We always enjoy having him as a visitor aboard our craft. He comes to us now and then, and we always enjoy his presence.

Now, as I leave, I extend to each of you, the love, the light and the understanding of my people.

I am Oxal. ✨
