Mr. R.: Good evening to you, my friends, I am Mr. R.

Each of you, as you give yourself selflessly in service, shall find that we are helping you more and more. The meeting which you were discussing tonight is going to be beneficial to some. For others it shall accomplish little.

If each of you will make yourself receptive, we shall aid you in bringing out the necessary information. We will be there at your side, ready to help you.

Many people are looking for Understanding. They are going in all directions. Only those who seek sincerely, who are interested in receiving a new understanding which will raise them to new spiritual heights, only these will you be able to reach. Phenomena seekers, curiosity seekers, are only a waste of time for us and for you. Sift these out quickly and do not waste your time with them. They are not ready for the deeper truths.

We have been aiding many people in your city who are sincerely seeking to find the Truth. We are guiding these people into paths where they shall find that which they seek. No, they are not aware of this. Few of your people are aware of the help we are giving them. We realize that they would not accept us at this point. Therefore, we work in secret. Much good can be accomplished in secret. Some of the greatest works of earth people were brought to them in secret. The ideas, the urge to pursue, were given to them from someone who had a great desire to serve.

Now I do not mean by that, beloved friends, that we force our help upon anyone. The road is always left open. But we recognize in a person that spark, that spark of divinity. When we recognize this, we attempt to increase its intensity, to help to bring it into flame. You too, my friends, can learn to do this. You can learn to recognize it in those whom you come in contact with. You can learn to sense their innermost desires, said in subtle ways you can aid them by helping bring this spark to life. You will find yourself saying the right thing and doing the right things for these people that will aid them. That is one thing that all workers in Truth must learn, to bring themselves into rapport with their people so that they might give them just what they need to aid them in their growth, in their advancement on the path.

This, my beloved ones, is known as Wisdom. Wisdom must be used in all that we do. Even when you feel that you are being guided, that inner wisdom, that inner knowing must be applied, so that you might recognize the difference between self-desires, Infinite Guidance, and guidance that might come through the influence of others. All who are attempting to guide are not particularly interested in your own well-being.

These things are well to remember, but not to fear. For when you are established in the Love and Understanding of the Infinite One, you shall have wisdom, you shall be able to discern. So, let each experience, whether it seem positive or negative, be considered an experience, and profit by that experience. For an experience is lost unless you learn from it. The only reason we make mistakes is so that we can recognize them and not make them a second time. But oh, how weak is the recognition of your people, by and large, for they make the same mistakes many, many times. Some of them make the same mistakes through their entire lifetime and never learn from them. This is a great waste of time, is it not, beloved ones? Why live a whole lifetime and learn nothing? That is a great waste of time, a great deal of time has been lost. But time is never-ending, so they try again.

Each day that passes is bringing you new opportunities to grow and to serve. Attempt each day to root yourself a little more solidly in the Truth and in Understanding. Apply and use the Truths that you know. Try to instill these new Truths, these positive thoughts, into your subconscious, that inner self. In so doing, you shall drive out the negative, the old, that has become deeply rooted there. For only by weeding them out and replacing them with something new and better can you improve. Use that power of thought and word. Turn your thoughts away from the negative, do not allow yourself to dwell upon the negative for one moment, for you do not want to give power to anything except that which will raise you to new heights.

So let us discard all of the negative that has been so apparent to us in the past. Let us not recognize it, for it does not exist. All things exist only in thought. So let us think positively.

I shall leave you now, my friends, but bear this in mind. Be open and receptive for us through your meeting, for we shall be there to aid you.

My Love and my Blessings I extend to you. My Peace I leave with you.

Odina, beloved ones. ♣
