Yaum: Good evening to you, my friends.

I came to you tonight to share with you, to be of service to you if I can. I can only share my understanding with you. Perhaps my understanding shall not always agree with yours. If it does not and you do not care to accept what I say, that is fine with me. It is your birthright to do so. I should like to extend special greetings to our dear friends here tonight. Now, my friends, I should like to do as you would like to have me. Would you rather choose the subject on which we shall talk or would you like for me to talk or would you like to ask questions?

Questioner: Do you have any knowledge of the extent of the last nuclear underground test?

Yaum: All I can tell you is that these things are bad and sooner or later your mad scientists, if they are able to continue, will make your people suffer great consequences. They have been warned and forewarned about these things. It is only by the grace of God, so to speak, that there are any scientists here today. If the deep water tests had been made, as they had planned a few years back, none of you would be here at this moment. But through very interesting circumstances this experiment was canceled.

Questioner: What is the situation, as you know it, in the Far East right now?

Yaum: This is a grave situation and it will develop into a much more serious situation before it is solved. But here are some of the prophecies coming true. Many things are unfolding before your eyes today, prophecies are being fulfilled. Time is running out, so to speak, the hand on the clock is rapidly approaching the hour of twelve. No man knoweth the day or the hour, but the midnight hour that I speak of will be reached by the end of this century. This will be the end of the present age. At this moment you are in an overlapping, so to speak, of the old and the new age. You are being exposed now to some of the vibrations of the new Age. It is a crossing over of the vibrations. This is one of the reasons you find, perhaps, so much confusion among your people, for they have not prepared themselves for this, therefore they are confused. As your Master warned many years ago, man must prepare for these times. He said, "The kingdom is at hand, prepare yourself." Yet it has gone unheeded. Therefore many of your people are not ready for the change and this will cause great confusion to them.

Questioner: What about the people who won't be here in the change, they who have already passed from the physical?

Yaum: Here again, my friends, you have to realize that you live in a world within a world. It is not necessary to be in the physical to be affected. Whether you are in the physical or in the astral realms does not make any difference as far as the change of the age is concerned. You still have to go through the change, so you will be affected either way. The same confusion, the same thing exists in the astral realm for those who have not the understanding, who have wasted their lifetimes and not prepared themselves.

Questioner: Does prayer from those in the physical help those who have passed on? Will prayer help them during this time of confusion?

Yaum: Yes, you can do as much for someone there as you can do for someone here. There is only a veil between you and this veil is becoming thinner day-by-day. In the new Age the veil will be removed entirely.

There will be no veil then.

Questioner: Will those who have left the physical realm, who are confined to the astral realm around our planet, will they, too, be confronted with these difficulties and have to overcome them so they can remain within the atmosphere of our planet in the new Age, or will they be transported, as will those in the physical (by way of death or mechanical means) to another planet and its environment suitable to their vibrations?

Yaum: Death is only a transformation from one form of life to another. In reality there is no such thing as death. Man always has been and always will be. Whether you are in the physical or in the astral body, it makes no difference.

Questioner: Will they have the same decisions to make in the astral realm as in the physical?

Yaum: Exactly the same. Everyone will be faced with the same things there as they would be if they were in the physical here. It will make no difference.

Questioner: What other planet is there that would correspond in spiritual development to what we are experiencing here?

Yaum: There are many in our universe.

Questioner: It wouldn't necessarily have to be in our system, would it?

Yaum: They will be transported to another system, because there is no planet in your system to transport them to. Yours is now the least developed of any in your system, with the exception of one which is more highly scientifically developed but not spiritually. That is Pluto. Their people will be removed from the system, planet and all.

Questioner: Do I understand you correctly then, that we evolve as a system as a whole.

Yaum: Yes.

Questioner: We were told that those in the astral, even though they have no physical body as we know it, would have to be transported to another system by mechanical means, such as a spacecraft.

Yaum: This is correct. Because the astral body—I'm not speaking now of the soul—the astral body is not capable of existing outside of the etheric envelope of this planet any more than your physical body is. So they will have to be transported in a vehicle. This will be one of the great tasks of the spaceships that are working in your system now, that are watching over you.

Questioner: What happens to the soul families, the soul groups? Will they remain together even though they are transported to another system?

Yaum: In reality there is no family. They are of the Earth physical plane. There are souls who have been what you call "group souls" for periods of time to work out certain problems and certain karmic patterns, you see. But once this is completed they are no longer necessarily associated. They move on to other realms and to other schools of learning. Each life on this plane or that plane is a school of learning. Man must learn and grow in order to work his way back to his oneness with his Creator.

Questioner: What about a whole race of people such as Cayce referred to in the Spanish Inquisition, then into the Spanish Civil War and were incarnated as the Jewish people persecuted by the Nazis? This is what I was speaking of.

Yaum: This is race karma. Once this karma has been worked off, completed, then there is no reason for this, you see. There is individual karma, there is race karma, there is national karma, and these things have to be paid, have to be worked off. But once this is done the individuals are no longer bound together.

Questioner: Soul groups then were not created together in the beginning?

Yaum: Not in my understanding. This occurred as man fell. As man began to vibrate on a slow scale and came down into the soul realm and physical realm, the will of man began to weaken and that was when Man came into the area of what you call "survival of the fittest." Man began to group together in bands and then in larger groups and then began to form villages and cities and countries and nations. Then as the conflict grew, Man began to create (through the law of cause and effect) these debts, you see, that he must pay and work off. When a group of people or a family create this karma, then they must pay it in the same way.

Questioner: Would you share your understanding with us on the law of grace?

Yaum: Grace is brought about by man's own effort to pay his karma through his own efforts and talents, when he realizes that he has this karma and he must pay it, if he goes about it in a sincere way, to repay this debt. In other words, if he has wronged someone and he knows it, then it would be much easier for him, to go and straighten out this matter, then he can fulfill his karma much easier. Now I'm speaking of the negative karma. There is positive karma, too. Nothing goes unnoticed. Every thought and deed, anything that man ever does is recorded in the Book of Life or the Akashic records. When you know that you owe a debt, then you put forth the effort to pay this debt. The moment that you do that, it becomes very easy to pay it, if you are sincere.

You must do it in love. You must also make the repayment for this.

Questioner: If you lovingly do the best you can with what you have at hand, even though you know nothing about any karma that you may have, will this do the same thing?

Yaum: Yes, you must treat every situation in love. If you have resentment or hate in your heart, if you have hated someone and you realize this, then you must try loving this person, blessing him. Cast out the hate and resentments. Man's greatest enemies are hate, resentment and fear. You will never solve a problem by the use of resentment, hate or fear. If you fear a thing, face up to it. We are bound by chains of fear but when we realize that there is nothing to fear, that we are strong and we have nothing to fear, the chains become a very thin thread and they will fall away. So realizing this, we know that if we have a problem, there has been a cause for it. Otherwise, we would not be facing a problem.

Questioner: Sometimes I do not like the world very much.

Yaum: If you do not like the world, the world will not like you.

Man's greatest enemy is self. This is necessary for man to grow. A soldier can never prove his strength unless he has an enemy. Man likewise, can never grow and prove his strength unless he has a way to do it. And this is why the carnal lower self of man exists. For it is through the overcoming of the lower self, or carnal man, that we grow and become masters of ourselves. When you have become masters of self you have taken a very large step in becoming one with your creator. Man would never grow if he did not have this enemy to overcome.

Questioner: We created this enemy to begin with, didn't we?

Yaum: We did. Man created this himself, therefore he must master it. This is the only devil that exists, your own lower self. Do not think because you saw someone doing a wrong, wronging other people, harming other people that they are getting away with it. Because what you see today will bring about an entirely different picture tomorrow.

When I say tomorrow, I mean perhaps in the next lifetime. Most of your karmic debts of one lifetime are carried over, even to physical problems.

My dear ones, you think you have problems to overcome, you think you have a great load to bear. I would like to take you with me upon some of my travels. You think you have loads to bear! I wonder if you could bear to see the loads that some are bearing? The more you dwell on your own problems the greater they become, because you magnify then by dwelling upon them. If you would overcome grief, sorrow, yes, even physical problems lose yourself in service to your fellow man.

Serve as your Master served, for when you serve the least of these, you have served your God. God is in each one of these individuals. It does not matter how low a station in life they may have. Some of your greatest souls are found in the lowliest places upon your planet, and some of the lesser ones are found in some of the highest positions. Judge not a man by his station in life, for I have found great wisdom in some of the lowest places. Some of the greatest love and the greatest service.

Questioner: Was there an actual entity called Lucifer or was that just symbolism?

Yaum: This is a symbolic story. The only devil man will find will be within himself.

Questioner: What is the reason for a prescribed time for a new Age?

Yaum: There is not a prescribed time. This is all a cycle of a universe, of the travel of the planets and the sun. In other words, in your solar system there are twelve areas. This is what you call the zodiac. You would have to study astronomy to understand this, you see. The zodiac represents the various ages, which are determined by the traveling of the planets and the stars as they travel and move from one area of space to another. In those areas the vibrations are different, bringing about a change in man. This has been known as the Water Age. This Age you are in now—when man developed in water travel.

Man has progressed to a certain degree in his spiritual and scientific development. As he goes into the new Age, things will change. It will be an age of higher development. Man will be greater spiritually, he will be a much wiser man. He will have a different physical body. It will be much more refined. It will not look much different, but it will be of a much higher vibration. He will have a much greater brain capacity. Man, as he exists now in this Age, cannot comprehend the things that he will be in the Age to come. This briefly, is a part of the plan of the moving of the system, the evolution of man. The change is being brought about by the difference in the vibrations. Another thing, in this new Age, your system will have two suns. It will be a binary sun system, which you see, changes the whole magnetic center of your whole system. But that is another story in itself and will take much time.

(Comments of thankfulness for this message from the group.)

I am humbled that I can be of service to you. For it is only as I can serve that I can receive and can be served, you see. There again, we have the law of cause and effect. As you grow in understanding, you will become more and more humble. You will realize how small you really are compared to the great outpouring of our creator, how great he really is. We are only a grain of sand upon the beach. If I have been of any service, or of any help what so ever, I am grateful and I am humble.

I am told that I have stayed my time with this instrument, so my friends I must leave you now.

It has been a very, very great pleasure to spend these few moments with you. We shall meet again.

As I leave, I should like to leave a blessing with you. May the Love, the light, the understanding of the great Brotherhood of the Anointed Ones be invoked upon you now, and may each of each of you as you journey forth on your pathway of life, grow day-by-day, in love, in Peace and in understanding.

Peace be with you, my friends.

Peace, Peace, go in Peace. ✨
