Teacher: Peace to you. My children, you ponder great questions in your minds. It seems that those in your plane of existence in many cases have great difficulty in searching out their pattern or path. For some reason, for many it seems difficult to find that inner burning urge, or to allow it to express, for, too often man cannot decide within himself exactly how he is to express these desires. He is torn between opinions of others and between many self created desires within himself that conflict with the true soul desire. And thus conflict and indecision rises within man. But man will not find his true happiness except through true soul expression.

Now you say, beloved ones, in your minds: "This does not help me to fulfill the thing I know within me I must fulfill. This does not help me to be sure that I have made the proper decisions." If I could, if it were within my power, without bringing to myself the knowing that I had violated the laws of my creator, I should like to take you by the hand and lead you on, but I am going to help you in every way possible, as will others, to find and follow in the right direction.

Now, beloved ones, you know that you have free will, that you have the will and the opportunity to make decisions as you will, and you need not follow any path. Yet, if the path you follow is not as has been determined as the path for you, your soul will cry out, it will rebel and this is going to reflect in your life. And the pattern will be disrupted, and that which is meant for you may not be received. Your good, your supply, your health, may all be disrupted. These things are all guideposts to be followed.

People are drawn together upon their path as they move for many purposes. For never forget that man was not created to live and work alone, that he is dependent upon his brother, and all are dependent upon each other if the race of man is to grow, is to become a race of men that will live and prosper together.

The times which you are now in, are rapidly changing, as you well know. Many things are to be brought forth for the good of all men. It is going to take sincere and understanding persons to work hard and devotedly to mankind's welfare to bring about these things. And through his own life, his own living to demonstrate to man the necessity of love, of understanding, of justice, of Peace.

There are being established today upon your planet several places, several settlements of people. People that are gathering together in an attempt to bring about these things. This is going to require courage. It is going to require great courage. For those who step forth to put their efforts into bringing about a new understanding among Earth people, are going to find themselves open to criticism, to condemnation and all of the things that men can find to reap upon him, who are not in sympathy with his efforts. These paths will not be smooth in any respect. Yet, those who, through their sincerity, their great efforts and their great love for mankind, shall reap within themselves a great satisfaction and peace that no man can touch. For man's efforts, spent in the right direction, will never bring him anything but peace and satisfaction within his own being and this cannot be taken away, as can man's material wealth.

Have I been of any help?

Questioner: Yes, thank you.

Teacher: These things are difficult to say.

May the Peace and joy of being of service to mankind find its place in the hearts of each of you.

Peace be with you, my children.

Teacher: My greetings to each of you, beloved ones.

Once more it is my pleasure to be with you and to share with you. Beloved ones, you have just crossed a threshold. For some time you have been drawing close and now you have just stepped over the threshold into a new cycle for planet Earth and for your system, your solar system. From here on you are going to be exposed to new influences, which will be very apparent as time moves on, or as you move on in time for time does not move, you pass through time. But time can only be measured by events.

These influences will become more and more dominant in the lives of your people and in their effects upon your planet as you move farther and farther into time. The effects are going to work in two directions on the minds of your people, depending upon the mind of the individual. To those who are moving in the direction, or who have made their decision to move in the direction of service, of dedication to mankind, are going to find these influences bringing about a sharper awareness, opening their senses, so to speak. They shall find new horizons opening before them. Their awareness of opportunities to serve and to grow are going to become more apparent to them. Where on the other hand, to those who have reacted in the opposite direction who have chosen the path of greed, of hate these are going to find these things becoming more predominant in their lives. For these influences are bringing out the true man, that which is uppermost in his consciousness, and those shall be led down the path that will eventually eliminate them from this planet in due time.

But great changes await this beautiful planet, and great changes await those who have chosen the path of service. Many will find that to carry out the service, the mission, or the responsibilities that they will discover are theirs that great changes in their lives will come about. And in making decisions for these changes will come great tests to these people. Great tests of their sincerity. For many will find that it will be necessary to pull up roots that have taken them a lifetime to put down, and these are decisions that for many will not be easy to make. But these decisions will prove to man himself his sincerity, his desire to pull himself and his fellow man up out of the conditions that he finds himself in today.

It is going to be necessary for souls to be strong, to be firm, to be dedicated and sincere. Many are going to find great awakenings coming to them, as did Saul on the road to Damascus. And this, my friends, is not idle talk. For there are many great souls upon your planet today, who need but to be awakened. All of these things will come to pass in the not too far distant future. And you, my friends, shall be there.

So be it. ❀
