

Caveat: These communications are informative teaching instructions for those who seek to increase their understanding of themselves and the magnitude of the future lying before us all. These lectures are not of a religious nature but rather deal with the science of human potential and evolution. This document is a direct transcription from the original recording. Although it has been checked for obvious errors, it has not been finally edited.

Mr. R.: I greet you in the Light of Love and Understanding. I am Mr. R.

I have not contacted this instrument recently. I have been occupied with other matters. However, I have been in touch with your progress. My friends, this is the time when all of you must give much effort and time to self-development. For the time is rapidly growing near when each of you, in order to perform the services that are for you, shall need all the powers at your command.

Experiences that will bring about your development are coming to you, if you but open the way. Keep the door open. There is much to be learned, so much to be learned. Much discussion has been passing between many of you concerning levels of life, self-development and many other things that seem to be of great concern to you. Some of these subjects we have not dwelt upon in detail, for there have been other things more important.

The understanding of what lies ahead is not nearly as important as the soul development here and now. We do not live in the past or in the future, but in the ever-present now. Now is the time—not tomorrow, but now? Some of these subjects will be dealt with in more detail in the near future. But I cannot stress strongly enough the importance of using what you have at hand, applying that which you know. This is only being done in a very small way by many of the seekers.

Experiences that will bring you new enlightenment and new understanding can only flow to you as you yourself provide the opportunity. Each must have his or her experience in the way that will be most beneficial to the individual.

In the beginning, all things were created, each with its opposite, and each with its like. The expression is often used among you, this person or that person is an old soul. But I say you are all old souls. Your experiences have been wide and varied. Many things of great wisdom are stored in your higher consciousness. You are an extension of this consciousness. In your perfection, in your higher states of consciousness, this all-knowing part of you can furnish anything that you need to know. You need only establish that oneness with it.

Many wonderful and enlightening experiences can come to you in this state. These experiences, beloved ones, are for you to learn, for you to benefit by in your present existence. Ponder them well in the silence of your heart. They belong to you. Share them carefully, lest you lose them.

A great task lies before all of us. Great things are taking place upon your planet today. Great changes are coming about. You have a great part to play in the new order, if you so desire. Wisdom and understanding is essential. Love is a must. But the three go hand in hand. For though you have Love in your heart and use it unwisely—cast your pearls before the swine—you will be of little value in the plan. Many are being called, few will be chosen. Let us try to be of the chosen few. This will result only through own efforts.

As the Light grows brighter upon your planet, so grow stronger the forces of darkness. These forces shall and must be overcome by Light. So let us build our Light strong and bright, that it may engulf the darkness and make this planet a radiant, beautiful place in which to live in the days to come.

My Love, my Understanding and my Blessings I give unto you. My Peace I leave with you. Goodnight, beloved ones. ♣
