

Caveat: These communications are informative teaching instructions for those who seek to increase their understanding of themselves and the magnitude of the future lying before us all. These lectures are not of a religious nature but rather deal with the science of human potential and evolution. This document is a direct transcription from the original recording. Although it has been checked for obvious errors, it has not been finally edited.

Copyright © 2012 Clyde Trepanier

September 21, 1962

Oxal: Greetings in the Light, my friends, I am Oxal.

To begin, I should like to extend my appreciation to those of you who responded to my last suggestion.

It is gratifying to see dedicated ones put forth their efforts for the good of their civilization, to be willing and anxious to spread the word, and I assure you, you have accomplished a great deal more than you know.

I, here and now, charge each of you with a responsibility to your civilization and its future, and I sincerely hope that each of you will accept his or her responsibility and put forth every effort to assume and fulfill it. There is great need in your troubled civilization for dedicated ones, for those who are willing to put forth the effort, and to come out for what they know to be right and good for their civilization. And I assure you, beloved ones, that through this effort, you shall gain many new friends, for all of your people are not going to disagree with you. In fact, more of your people today are coming to the realization that your civilization is standing at the threshold of a great decision, that either it must find a cure for its illness, or face destruction, and many are beginning to listen and to think.

So, I say to you, beloved ones, back these projects to the fullest of your ability, for only through these efforts will you survive. Many are awakening to this realization, and at this point, as we observe from our vantage point, we see a fifty-fifty chance of your civilization awakening. But much work must be done by those of you who have the realization of the illness and its cure. Each of you are going to find the opportunities opening before you to do your small part in bringing this into being. Our hope is that you will allow nothing to stand in your way. Fear not the criticism or the condemnation of those who would not agree with you, but rather dedicate yourself to a cause, for man must have purpose in his doings that he believes in.

If you accept your responsibilities and fulfill them, you will find the rewards will be great, not as the world rewards, but in the peace and satisfaction that you will find in your own heart, in the joy and peace it will bring you.

Also I would like to remind you of the pledge that we made in the past, when we stated that who so ever has made the choice in true faith and love, we shall protect and guide you and we still stand upon that oath. No harm shall come to those who have dedicated themselves to the propagation of truth, who have dedicated themselves to serve in the light of the everlasting love.

Remember this oath, my friends, for we are prepared to fulfill it. So, on this night, I charge each of you to go forth with a dedicated heart and a determination that through your efforts and the efforts of all the dedicated ones, your civilization shall survive.

Now, beloved friends, soon this instrument and his mate, shall be moving on to a new service, to a new phase in the life in which they have dedicated themselves. But, before their departure, at your next gathering I shall speak with you again, and perhaps others shall speak to you at that time.

And now I leave you by extending to you the love, the light and the understanding of my people.

I am Oxal. ✿