Oxal: Greetings in the light my friends. I am Oxal.

Tonight I should like to talk to you for a few moments concerning the situation your civilization finds itself in at this time. As you recall, several years back, we suggested to your people the things that they might do to avoid some of the situations that they find themselves facing today. Yet we were not taken very seriously for little has been done, even by those who knew and could have done something. Even if it were only in a small way, for every seed planted and nourished will grow.

Your people are now beginning to awaken to the fact that they have depleted the Earth which produces that which nourishes them and that the nourishment they are receiving today is of such a nature that it is destroying rather than building. It is sad that a people can become so materialistically conscious that they lose all reason, they lose the ability to use wisdom. You see, nature has provided the way for Man to be nourished and nourished properly. She has her own methods of replenishing her soil. In creation all of these things were well planned, each had its function, each functioning for the benefit of another part, all parts working together. Man nourishing the plant and also animal nourishing the plant and the plant in return gives to Man his nourishment and that which he needs for his existence.

But Man tries to improve upon nature in order that he might increase his worldly power, his worldly possessions. And in so doing, he uses no reason, no wisdom in the use of nature's ways, of the resources which nature has supplied. These he wasted with no thought of replenishment. So Man finds himself upon an entity planet which is fast becoming depleted. It's oceans, it's rivers and it's lakes have become cesspools and today Man's very existence is threatened, yet he sits by and does little to help himself. While your politicians plan wars to waste more of the resources, your great money interests are willing to do little. They do not want to waste their wealth in trying to improve the environment for the masses. They see only that which will bring to them more wealth and power. They see only with the eyes of materialism.

Today, although it is not admitted and will be denied by those in power, your civilization stands at a point of famine and of pestilence due to Man's non cooperation with nature, his insistence to fight nature rather than cooperate, has brought about these conditions. So we would suggest to those who have eyes to see and ears to hear and who are attempting to follow in the path of light, of love, of understanding, we would suggest that you make some preparations for these times for it will be needed. It would be wise to have extra food upon your shelves, that which is not perishable and extra water wherever possible.

There will be developed methods of quickly purifying water but these may not always be available when you need them most. There is an urgency in these matters and I believe that it is felt by most of you who walk in the light.

We are doing all that we can from our vantage point but we cannot remove the karma that your civilization has created. As you know all of these things have been prophesied by your great prophets and prophecies are given only to warn man that he may avoid the situation, yet your people heard not and saw not. Their eyes and their minds saw only self, they allowed the self to master, they allowed themselves to become slaves of the lower senses and of the lower self. Thus they find themselves in the position that they are in today.

So I say to thee, walk in the path of the everlasting life that these things may not come to thee. Follow your great Master's teachings for the rules which he laid down for you are the only path to his kingdom. So love ye one another and do good unto all and do not to any Man that which you would not have him do to you. I have said enough.

I leave you by extending to you the love, the light and the understanding of my people.

I am Oxal. ✿
