Joseph: All hail to you there, my beloved friends, I am Joseph.

It is my pleasure to have this opportunity to come among you. I have a few words that I should like to say to you here tonight, but since I have not been in the presence of most of you here before in this manner, I should like to extend my special greetings to each of you.

We, of the Brotherhood, know that when you are attempting to walk the path there are many times when things seem to be doubtful and you have doubts that perhaps you are not going in the right direction or not getting the proper guidance. We also realize that many times blocks will be thrown in your way by those opposing forces, but beloved ones, do not let these things discourage you or deter you from your goals and your aspirations but keep ever strong in His Light and the Light of the Radiant One. Know always that so long as you keep your motives high and your purposes well founded, that you cannot be discouraged or deterred for very long from your purposes.

Many of the Brothers who have come to planet Earth to try to help Earth people in their evolution, have tried to bring them better ways of life, ways of relieving their suffering. These, too, have met great opposition and many times failure because those whom they tried to help turned against them, or what they were trying to do would affect in some way the power growth of those who would hold power and prestige over others. Yet they never became discouraged though they were persecuted. Some have come back again and again because their love for mankind is so great that no sacrifice is too great for them to make and no failures will discourage them. For they know that in the long run they will win the battle and mankind will be better for their actions and their deeds.

So neither must you, my friends, admit failure or for one moment admit that you may not succeed but rather hold strongly that thought, that vision of what you want to attain and work diligently toward it. And if you continue to do this, you may be amazed how things will work for you. No work ever goes unnoticed by the Great Ones and each effort will be rewarded accordingly.

So have faith, my friends, have strength. Know that your strength comes from that source which is endless, that supply which never runs dry but is always there in abundance and you need only to draw upon it. Know that it is to use, that the Father's supply is ever flowing to you. But the amount that you receive will depend upon your willingness to receive and to give.

So, my friends, work, work ever in His Light for nothing is accomplished without work and no man's labor goes unnoticed and each receives help according to his efforts.

Now, my friends, I want to extend my most sincere blessings and love. May the joy and the peace of all the Great Ones flow into the hearts of each of you and may this love spur you on to greater things as you trod the Path in your search for Truth. May new Truths be brought to you that will enhance your abilities to function more productively in the service of the everlasting Light.

Go in peace, beloved, go in peace. May you walk ever in peace. Peace, peace, peace. ✿
