Yaum: Greetings and good evening to you, my friends. It is my pleasure to come among you tonight and I hope that I shall be able to help you in some way by sharing my understanding with you. I shall try to be brief, but this is not always easy for me, as my friend here will well verify.

In the beginning, before the worlds were formed, there was only pure spirit, Spirit became the two; The Father-Mother God. The Father, the power and the fire. The Mother, or as referred to as the Holy Breath, or the thought and wisdom. The two breathed forth as One, and the Son was born. The only begotten Son—Love—known to man as Christ. The three breathed forth and before the Throne stood the seven Spirits; known as the Seven spirits of Creation. The Seven created Man in their own image and likeness, Spirit.

As time passed, many of these were desirous, shall we say, to experience other types of life. So, by those who became, shall we say, somewhat dissatisfied with the perfection which they were experiencing and desired to experience in other realms. So the soul was created, which is a step lower form of life than the Spirit life. Still further desire existed among these people, or these Spirit and Souls, to have other experiences, and so the worlds were created. So, Man created what is known as the carnal man or physical structure and these were inhabited by the souls of these. These in turn inhabited the worlds. Much discussion at the time in the higher realms was had and those who were wiser, advised against this experience and tried to explain to them what it would mean. But still they desired to have these experiences. Man, being created with free will, could not be prevented from this and so those who were wiser gave in, or submitted, and helped in the creation of worlds in order that the Spirits and Souls might have that which they desired. Thus, the worlds were inhabited, and thus, man sank to lower forms of life. Through, the ages he sank to some very low stages of life, as is proven in your histories.

Now, man is attempting to make the journey back again to pure Spirit. In order to do this he must overcome all things. Therefore, those who are in the physical life have for eons of time been struggling against the carnal man. This, my friends, is the entire purpose of the physical life now, perhaps this is not a good terminology, perhaps I should say, man's entire purpose is to overcome the carnal, the physical. So, he passed through incarnation after incarnation, age after age, climbing the ladder rung by rung. This, you see, was the purpose of the coming of the Master Jesus at the beginning of this age; was to fully demonstrate to man that this can be done. And this is exactly what He did.

Man in his attempt to understand what is necessary for him to do, in order to accomplish the things that is necessary for him to accomplish, has been difficult for him to comprehend in his lower state of consciousness. Thus, he has risen to certain heights and then begun through his losing sight of the purpose of his work, or being here, he has again fallen to lower consciousness and had again to begin to climb. Thus, civilizations have risen and fallen, and then again repeated. This came about through various ages or cycles.

The coming of the Master Jesus was the beginning of the age you are in now. At the beginning of each age there are seven sages who represent the seven parts of your planet which help to usher in the age or prepare for the coming of the age and to reveal what man has accomplished through the closing age. And to form postulates for the coming age. Then a Great Master appears to demonstrate that which man is to accomplish in this age. In this age that you are now living, man's purpose was to conquer self, to overcome carnal man, so to speak. This is what was demonstrated by Jesus the Christ. He came as love made manifest. Christ is Love and Love is Christ God—Love. This was His purpose. Man was not at the stage where he could comprehend a God which he could not see. He had not the faith as was demonstrated in the age prior to this time, where man in all cases, although he was taught that God was Spirit and should be worshiped in Spirit, yet he had to create that he could see, so he built idols to worship as his God. So, in the, age prior to this one was an idol worshiping age. This was understood and known by the sages and therefore it was necessary for God to manifest in flesh.

So the Christ, which is the only begotten Son of the Father-Mother God, which is Love, was made manifest through the Son of Man. He overcame. He went through all the trials and tribulations that any man could possibly be called upon to go through in this carnal life and He overcame the carnal completely. In His final test, which He passed, he demonstrated clearly His abilities to overcome. I do not think that this was easy for him anymore than it will be easy for you or anyone else. But, nevertheless, this was a complete demonstration of what man must do to enter the Kingdom, so to speak. He warned His followers always that His path was hard. He always warned them to think well before they attempted to follow Him. When He said you must leave all He meant exactly that. He said, "If you love father, mother, child, riches, or what have you, more than you love the Christ, then you cannot follow me." He said, very clearly, the road to His heart, but once the decision is made, and you follow in the footsteps of the Christ, the rewards are great. Much greater than you realize. The key is Love; Purity and Love. John, the Harbinger, who came to pave the way, demonstrated Purity. Jesus the Christ demonstrated Love. Purity paved the way for Love. Love is the path to the Kingdom. When you have mastered self, you need no longer the physical body. You are through with it forever. But then you have soul to master. This is another story. That story you will hear when you are ready for it.

The Master described in detail the culmination of this age. My friends, it is fast approaching. He described the Son of Man coming on the clouds and He warned those who desire to follow, against the false. He said there would be many false Christs, false prophets, those who say, the Christ is here or the Christ is there, this is the Christ or that is the Christ. But, He said, "Do not be fooled by these, for when the Son of God come, all man will know that it is He." For the man will walk the Ark of the sky, the heavens, carrying the pitcher and the Son of Man will come for all to see and the Book of Life will be opened and you shall read. You shall read from the Book of Life as it has been recorded. You shall then know where you stand and the chaff shall be separated from the wheat. But prior to this time there will be many trials and tribulations such as has never been known upon your earth. Famine and pestilence shall reach a state as has never been known. The Father in His mercy shall shorten the days. My friends, I'm sure you know the story. I think I need not mention concerning these things only that the time of the coming of the Son of Man is not known to any man. This is why it was advised to be always ready to receive your Christ. For ye know not rather He come in the morning, or in the noon, or in the night. So, it is well to be prepared. Yet, few will listen, few will comprehend and few will prepare, as did in Noah's time. Beloved ones, I have said enough.

It has been a very great pleasure to come among you. I hope I have been of some service to you, for my only purpose is to be of service. Only as we serve, can we be served.

Beloved ones, may the peace and joy of the Great Masters be invoked upon you. May their blessings reach into your hearts. May each of you be touched by the Great Ones, that your way may be made lighter and easier. Peace be with you, my friends. Peace. Peace. Peace. ☸
