Samuel: Greetings to you, my beloved friends, I am Samuel.

I would like to say a few words tonight about your Middle East situation. Our people have been working very hard in this area to bring about influences that will soften the hearts of these men and cause them to sincerely seek to bring about a concrete agreement among themselves, which would prevent a major conflict in that area.

We are not at all sure as yet that this will be successful. The opposition forces are also working very hard to prevent an agreement. Their methods do not take into consideration universal law or the welfare of mankind. They are only interested in bringing about destruction and death.

We sincerely hope that these negotiations can be successful, for without agreement that will be beneficial and agreeable to all, there is almost sure to develop a major conflict in that area. And if this does develop it is altogether possible that we may have to intervene at some point to prevent the destruction of your planet.

We do not like this assignment. It never should be that a civilization should have to be influenced to make a decision that is so apparent. It should never be that we should have to interfere in the affairs of another civilization.

But we cannot allow this planet to be destroyed at the hands of those who would use all means to gain greater power and greater control over mankind.

All of the Light workers of planet Earth should be praying at this time that these negotiations might be successful, should be turning their thoughts and influences towards the powers that are working in this negotiating affair. They will need all of the help that they can get to bring about the right results.

It is hoped by us that as your civilization draws to its close, that the transition can be made with as little in harmony as is possible. We do not like to see civilizations of people go through such experiences, yet there is not much we can do to prevent it, for they bring it upon themselves.

There are those who are watching the progress of your civilization, who are making records of all of the events, all of the affairs, of your civilization, its accomplishments, its failures. And in due time in the future when the time is right, these will be presented to your new civilization for their evaluation, so that they might see their pitfalls, their mistakes of the past and hopefully not repeat them again.

Those who walk in the Light and devote themselves to the service of their fellow man need have no worry. You can know that your path will be guided. Fear not to face the future. There is nothing to fear for those who walk in the Light. Their path may not be easy but it will be protected.

Earth man has put far too much value upon the physical body. It is only a vehicle to function in upon this plane.

We do not like the word death. It denotes an end to something and there is no end to man. Man is in a continual state of change. Over aeons of time you have possessed many of these vehicles for short times and then laid them aside, and then again have taken on another.

Life is continuous and ever-changing. Without change man could not grow, so man must have change. He must experience on many planes of life, endless planes of life, and through all of this he becomes, he becomes. It is like a flower blossoming out, unfolding into the beauty that it was intended to be.

I must leave you now. As I leave you I extend to you my love, my peace and my blessings. May you walk ever in His Light and may that Light grow brighter day-by-day. I ask all the Great Ones to pour forth their blessings upon you now. Go in peace, beloved, go in peace, peace. ❀
