These lectures are not of a religious nature but rather deal with the science of human potential and evolution. This document is a direct transcription from the original recording. Naketi: Beloved of my being, I greet thee in Peace and in love. Love not as you know it, as it is inconceivable in your understanding. I am Naketi.

I come from a point in space far, far from you, in what would be thousands of light years in your measurement of distance. My people are known in our location as the Sons of Nakete. I have come to your system to study conditions that exist here and to be of help in any way I can find to serve. Our way of life would be inconceivable in the understanding of people of Shan. We understand aoneness. We understand our relationship to our creator and our relationship with our fellow man. We live in an aoneness that is really a oneness, although we possess an individuality or individual intelligence—yet we are able to blend our beings into a oneness, where I am he, and he is I. Could you, my friends of Shan, could you conceive of such blending of consciousness? With blending of this type, you have complete understanding of your fellow man.

I have been told you have been seeking understanding, that you are working under a banner, so to speak, of Understanding. If this be true, then you are on the threshold of aoneness. To reach a state such as I have spoken of, does not come about in a moment. At the level of understanding that Earth man stands today, it shall require great effort to take the step that will begin to open the door to aoneness, to become one with creation, with life.

Realize, beloved friends of Shan, that the expanse of space is a sea of life, and you and you, and you and you, each individual intelligence is a minute part of this sea of life. So great is the vastness of this sea, that it is inconceivable. It appears to have no beginning or appears to have no end, and yet you and I are a minute cell in this sea of life. We must learn to become a conscious part of this sea. When we become conscious of this and make it a part of our consciousness, and it begins to speak to us and we begin to understand, we begin to know the I AM, we begin to know who and what we are.

Beloved children, humble yourselves, bring thy ego under control and begin to blend yourselves into this great sea, knowing that you may become a conscious part of it. Awaken thyself to the realization of what you are, and that all is yours. Begin by joining together in an a oneness of Peace, love, and understanding among yourselves. Understanding must begin in a small way if it is to expand into the cosmos.

It has been my privilege to be with you, and I wish to extend my gratitude to all of you for your kindness in receiving me and to the instrument and his teacher for availing to me this privilege.

May your consciousness expand as rapidly as you are able to conceive. Work my friends, work.

Peace, Peace, Peace. ♣
